

FRIENDS CONVENE IN 40TH SESSION

Edward Mott of Portland is Re-elected as Leader; Attendance Good

NEWBERG, June 9.—The 40th annual gathering of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends is now in session, with Edward Mott of Portland in the chair. He was re-elected as presiding clerk. Sophia Townsend of Salem is recording clerk. Glen Rinard of Springbrook is reading clerk and Charles Beas of Greenleaf, Idaho, is announcing clerk.

Visiting ministers present were Gervas A. Carey, pastor of the First Friends church in Seattle, and May Replogle of Entiat, Wash., formerly a missionary in Alaska. Arthur B. Chilson, superintendent of Kansas Yearly Meeting, will be present tonight and will have charge of the evening evangelistic meetings.

Epistles were read Wednesday from the yearly meetings in London, Dublin, Germany, Syria and Canada, in addition to epistles from within the United States.

President Levi T. Pennington of Pacific college gave the opening message at the morning meeting Wednesday, and Chester A. Hadley, yearly meeting superintendent, gave the inspirational address at the close of the forenoon session.

The first department to report was that of Christian stewardship. The report was presented by Mrs. Anna W. Benson of Portland and was followed by an address on the subject of scriptural giving by Glen Rinard.

Bertha McCracken Haworth of Salem presented the report of her department of literature and this report was followed by an address on the subject by Herman Macy, pastor of the Friends meeting at Scotts Mills. A delightful musical number was presented by a male quartet consisting of William J. Murphy of Boise, Idaho, Herman H. Macy of Scotts Mills, Clayton S. Brown of Boise and A. Clark Smith of Melba, Idaho.

The meeting on ministry and oversight occurred Tuesday afternoon, and Edward Mott of Portland preached the opening sermon that evening. The sermon Wednesday night was preached by Gervas A. Carey, pastor of the Seattle Friends meeting, and former pastor at Newberg.

Children's day will be observed Sunday morning at the Calvary Baptist church, with an appropriate program to be given during the assembly period at 10:20 o'clock. The program is as follows:

Song by school, prayer, Rev. W. Earl Cochran, pastor; song; exercise, "Shining Stars," beginners and primary children; recitation, "The Beginners," Bonnie Klein; recitation, "My Task," Janette Weider; exercise, "Daisies," beginners; recitation, "Then and Now," Stanley Welborne; recitation, "My Piece," Lyle Lehman; exercise, "Sweet Peas," first and second year primary; recitation, "The Airport," Benny Klein; song.

The juniors will give on the program Song; reading by Bobby King; violin solo, "Largo," by Richard Cookins; trio, "Just as Child Like," Mildred Moser, Clara Jane Harms and Jean McElhinny.

Scout Fund Here About $1000 Shy

About $1000 is needed to complete the drive for Boy Scout funds, Executive O. P. West reported last night. Due to an $800 cut just made in the budget, the total amount needed will be around $3200. An incomplete check of contributions and pledges yesterday showed around $2000 of the budget raised.

NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT TOASTED ON BOTH SIDES

Extra Crispness Just One of Many Improvements Developed for Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit

In line with its policy of constant improvement, the Kellogg Company some time ago introduced a new shredded whole wheat biscuit which offers several outstanding improvements in this type of cereal.

The new Kellogg biscuit is "pressure-cooked" by a special process that retains the full food value of the whole wheat. At the same time it produces a delicious mellow flavor and makes the biscuit very easy to digest.

The biscuits are also much crisper and crunchier, for they are toasted on both top and bottom—not just one side. Incidentally they are also a new, convenient size to fit the cereal bowl without crumbling. And you get 15 to the package instead of the usual dozen.

As evidence of the high food value of the Kellogg biscuit, the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia made a careful analysis and certify every package.

Grocers say Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits are winning wide favor. Healthful and delightful for any meal. Especially good with fruits. Identify this improved food product by the name, Kellogg's, and the familiar red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

MANY FAMILIES IN NEED SAYS REPORT

An increasing number of families who have been unsuccessful in getting employment in the berry fields have been applying at the offices for food and clothing according to reports from the Associated Charities. In April 80 families were served while in May the number increased to 137. There are 250 families on the organization's list, some of whom need help frequently.

The kitchen in connection with the Charities has been able to feed from 60 to 75 men, women, and children, each day. To take care of the demand for canned fruit it has been necessary for from 3000 to 4000 quarts to be canned each summer.

Mrs. May F. Carson, superintendent, said yesterday money is needed most, since many people wish to work for groceries which it is necessary for the Charities to buy. The gift of strawberry patches which are not being picked is also desired, for many families have offered to pick the berries, donating half to the Charities for canning. Potatoes are also needed.

Mrs. Carson said she is very grateful to firms and individuals in Salem who have donated food and clothing.

PENTECOSTAL GROUP WILL CONVENE HERE

A three-days' convention of the Pentecostal church ministers of the Northwest district will be held at the tent on North Commercial street, across from the Marion Square park, beginning next Wednesday. Ministers from Bellingham, Seattle and Tacoma will represent Washington.

Coinciding with beginning of the conference, Evangelist Mamie Keel Copley from Bellingham, will come to start an evangelistic campaign beginning Wednesday night, June 15, at 7:45 o'clock.

Special music and singing will be featured at each service. Anyone playing an instrument is invited to join the campaign orchestra, and all ministers and workers in the city and community have been extended invitation to cooperate.

Coast Speaker of Ad Clubs to be Speaker Today

COURSES IN HOME ECONOMICS FEWER

Saving Made but Curricula At Corvallis is Really Increased, Word

Course offerings at the state college and university in home economics will be decreased more than 23 per cent and the combined budget about 14 per cent less this year under the unified system, it was announced Thursday by the state board of higher education.

At the same time, however, choice of major curricula in the school at Corvallis has been increased by one while at Eugene the lower division and service courses offered have been given the same content as corresponding courses at the State college under the provisions of the new plan, the board announced.

The lower division courses will be offered at both schools while the major curricula in the field will be at Corvallis as at present.

Ava B. Millam, who has been dean of the school at Oregon State college since 1911 will head this school. She has had wide experience in organizing home economics work both here and abroad, having but recently returned from the orient where she assisted in organization work in home economics at a number of the universities in Japan, China and Korea, the statement issued by the board here today stated.

Home economics work as offered in Oregon is recognized as manifold in scope, with training in homemaking fundamental in all of the three major curricula which together prepare students for general homemaking, for home economics extension, for institutional management or other administrative work, and even for some commercial fields.

BUDGETEER

In self-imposed exile in Europe since he refused to appear as a witness in the Fall-Doherty oil trial a few years ago, Henry M. Blackmer, Colorado oil millionaire, may soon return to the United States. Blackmer was fined $60,000 for his refusal to testify, failing payment of which the government seized $100,000 worth of Liberty bonds. Now if Blackmer pays his fine he will be $40,000 to the good and can come back home.

The lower division and service courses in home economics at Eugene will include 12 lower division and three upper division courses, affording training in foods and nutrition, clothing and textiles including selection and construction, home planning and furnishing, child development and household management.

M'GREW RELEASED AND CASE HELD UP

Evidence Indicates In-Laws Caused Trouble; Attack Charge is Denied

Case of William McGrew, given preliminary hearing in justice court yesterday on charge of assault and battery, was continued and defendant released on his own recognizance with understanding that he is to stay away from his wife unless she herself elects to return to him, and from her people.

In the hearing before Justice of the Peace Miller Hayden, Ellen McGrew, the wife and private prosecutor, declared McGrew had choked and slapped her during a quarrel they had over his accusation that she had received a letter and money from her mother.

McGrew denied attempting to choke her, and characterized their three separations as too much mother-in-law. Defense introduced evidence purporting to show that the wife, in her belief that McGrew slapped and choked her, was suffering from hysteria, and that she was of a generally neurotic condition.

The wife stated she did not wish to see her husband go to jail but that she sought protection for herself and her family. He told the court he was grateful for the chance the court extended, and promised no further trouble.

Difficulties of the young couple were said to be culmination of action which was started in the Silverton court involving in-laws, and which was thrown out of that court.

Truck Too High; Driver Arrested

A traffic law infringement seldom heard of popped up in West Salem yesterday. State police arrested E. C. Mercer of Portland for operating an "overheight" truck. The high truck body tore down a number of telephone wires strung across the road, according to the officers. It was one of the Hansen-Keller line of Portland.

The driver was cited to appear before Justice of the Peace Cook at West Salem tomorrow morning.

After taking 24 violin lessons Robert Calvin Hanft, 6, of Pensacola, Fla., is able to play any ordinary music set before him.
