MONDAY: 10 a. m. Commencement at First Methodist church.

Eighty-one liberal arts seniors, ten seniors in the law school and one candidate for a master of arts degree today begin the three-day round of activities which for Willamette university marks its 87th annual commencement. From the time of the farewell senior breakfast on the campus at 6:30 a. m. today until the formal speeches are passed out Monday morning at the commencement exercises at the old First Methodist church, the days will be full for these students, their friends and relatives, of pleasant celebration, of anticipation and of some sadness that college days are soon to be gathered with the possessions of memory.

The annual meeting of the board of trustees at 10 a. m. at Eaton hall today will find that body confronted with economic problems which thus far have not been severely felt at Willamette university. After three years of fighting the economic tide, however, Willamette will follow the course of institutions and trench its costs, including the measure adopting a ten percent cut in the payment to all professors and instructors. Determination of the faculty list for next year will be made also at the meeting.

Alumni association will convene today. The first event of the alumni participation in commencement comes this afternoon at 4 p. m. at the university chapel where the association holds its annual business meeting. Following this the banquet held annually by the association will be staged in the university gymnasium. Dr. Carl J. Hollingsworth of Portland, association president, will preside. Dr. Burt Brown Barker, vice president of the University of Oregon is to be the principal speaker. Following the banquet, the (Turn to page 2, col. 3)

BOY PUBLISHER OF NORTH IS DROWNED
CORDOVA, Alaska, June 10.—(AP)—William Alfred Moore, 13-year-old editor-in-chief of the Chitina Herald, weekly newspaper known throughout the nation, was drowned today when he slipped into Copper river from a log while playing with companions.
The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moore, published the weekly paper, which has been the subject of several magazine articles, with a brother. He was graduated from the Chitina grade school last week.
Young Moore and his fellow publishers recently sent copies of the Herald to The Statesman. The paper is a single sheet, mimeographed on both sides, containing many interesting items concerning Chitina residents and a variety of advertising from that city and nearby centers.
On the Herald's masthead, the Moore boy appears as circulation manager. Adrian C. Nelson as editor and Phillip C. Nelson as reporter. Their paper, they say, is the farthest north boys' newspaper, and its motto, "Tales and Trails."

Defender Faces Murder Charge

Suspended from his duties as Public Defender of San Francisco, Frank J. Egan (top) has now been ordered held in connection with the death of Mrs. Jesse Scott Hughes, in whose will Egan was named as beneficiary. Verne Doran (lower), Egan's former chauffeur, is also held. It was at first believed Mrs. Hughes met her death accidentally, but the coroner's jury brought in a verdict of murder.

WILL ENTER FLOAT IN ROSE FESTIVAL

Cherrians Plan for Salem To be Represented Thus First Time in Years

Salem for the first time in many years will be represented with a float in the Portland Rose Festival parade if plans of the Cherrians, made at last night's meeting, materialize. Members of the booster organization decided to enter a float as well as a marching group. Twenty-four marchers will surround the float and act as an escort. The parade will be held next Friday afternoon.
Tentative plans call for equipping the float with a public address system and broadcasting music, possibly home talent. Flow- (Turn to page 2, col. 1)

Vets Auxiliary Selects Group For Convention

Delegates to the state convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars and its auxiliary to be held in Eugene July 21, 22 and 23, were elected at the special meeting of the auxiliary of Salem held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Remington Friday afternoon. Regular delegates include Mrs. Henry Sim, Mrs. William Rush, Mrs. C. Ploer and Mrs. Henry Fournier. Alternates are Mrs. Effie Wetzel, Mrs. Webb Moorman, Mrs. John Gram and Mrs. J. Moorman.
Mrs. Effie Wetzel was also elected to serve as an 18-month trustee for the auxiliary. Monday night will be state inspection for the Salem auxiliary and this will be made by Mrs. Cecil Porter, state department president, and her chief of staff, Mrs. Hardie, both of Portland.

City to Cut Tall Grass If Fire Menace Created

Grass and rubbish covered vacant lots in Salem will be cleared by the city where they constitute a fire menace. The property owners, however, first will be given opportunity to have the work done at their own direct expense. Alderman V. E. Kuhn, chairman of the street committee, pointed out last night in explaining the recent announcement of Hugh Rogers, city engineer and street commissioner, that the lots would not be posted as done last summer.
"The grass will have to be cut. What we wanted was for the citizens to take care of it themselves as much as possible. If they will help the unemployed by doing that, they will save the city's hiring men to do it and collecting for the cost of the work—saving extra expense," declared Kuhn.
"If the public would cooperate, there would be less expense for them and better results. The bill is cheaper for the citizens in this way because the city must pay men to post the properties, to do (Turn to page 2, col. 3)

JUDGE REFUSES TO RECOMMEND EMPIRE WINDUP

Turns Fetty, Adams Trial Decision Responsibility Back to Officials

Another Conference Slated Today to Decide Issue Of Further Trials

Judge L. H. McMahon yesterday refused to make any recommendation regarding the trial or dismissal of charges against L. F. Fetty and W. R. Adams, Empire Holding corporation's former officers who have not yet come to court on the charge of devising a scheme to defraud. McMahon's answer came in a letter written to John H. Carson, district attorney, who made inquiry of the judge's wishes in the matter following receipt of a letter from Goldstein.
"I have not read the indictments nor have I read the press reports of the trial," reads McMahon's letter. "I am therefore not in a position to express an opinion in regard to the subject of your inquiry. You and Mr. Goldstein having examined the material before the grand jury, drawn the indictments and tried three of the cases are certainly in position to decide what ought to be done and it seems to me that the responsibility rests upon you gentlemen," the judge's letter continued.
Another conference is expected today.
As a result of McMahon's decision, another conference between Attorney-General Van Winkle, James W. Mott, state corporation commissioner, Carson and Goldstein is expected here at that time the state will determine whether the charges shall be pressed or whether a dismissal shall be asked. Fetty's trial is set to start Tuesday, June 14 before Judge Arlie G. Walker at Dallas.

93 Degrees Recorded in City Friday

Plebe is the favor of humidity bestowed upon the weather man if he lets the days come along cold and rainy, then men say "did you ever see such weather?" and when at last the poor old soul gets tired of hearing requests for warm weather he tries to please with such days as Thursday and Friday and then another day arises, "I don't like this hot weather."
But like it or not Salem caught "warm" Thursday and Friday and likewise Portland which showed just about the same temperatures as Salem Friday. The maximum here Friday was 93.
A downtown thermometer which is about as accurate as the town gossip, registered 97 degrees at 4 o'clock Friday night. Hour by hour temperatures at the airport are as follows: 7 o'clock, 68 degrees; 8 o'clock, 73 degrees; 9 o'clock, 74 degrees; 10 o'clock, 77 degrees; 11 o'clock, 81 degrees; 12 o'clock, 84 degrees; 1 o'clock, 86 degrees; 2 o'clock, 90 degrees; maximum of 93 degrees between 2 and 3 o'clock; and from 3 o'clock to 6 o'clock, the thermometer held at 89 degrees.
Weather bureau forecasts indicate cooler weather and clouds for Sunday.

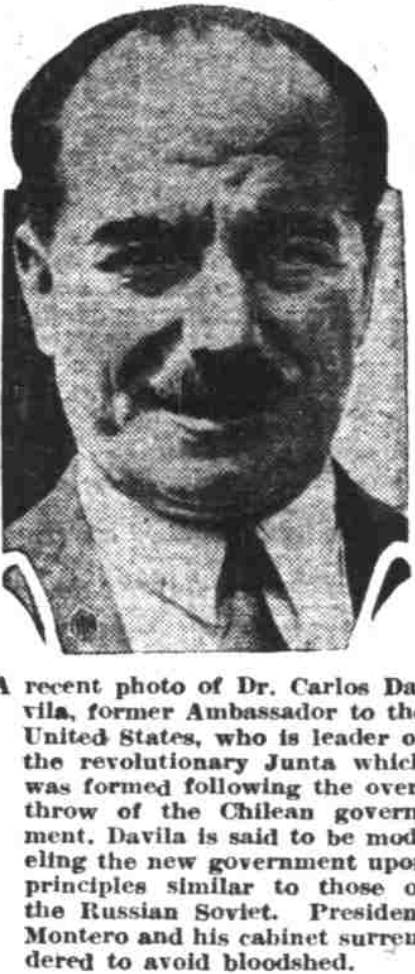

Parole of Lute Sought; Walker Delays Decision

DALLAS, June 10.—(Special)—Judge Arlie G. Walker was in Dallas today and heard an application for a parole for Clarence Lute. Lute was recently indicted by the Polk county grand jury for complicity in the breaking into and robbing of a service station and cabin in North Dallas. He gave himself up last Tuesday night and pleaded guilty Wednesday to a charge of burglary not in a dwelling. Judge Walker was to sentence Lute today but postponed sentence until Tuesday morning in order to consider the matter of a parole.
Louise Fox, implicated in the same crime, pleaded guilty last week, was sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary, and then placed on probation for five years. He broke his probation almost immediately and this was revoked Wednesday by Judge Walker. Fox is now in custody from justice and will have to serve his two year sentence when caught.

Sanford Dies at Roseburg, Word

Stephen A. Sanford, former Salem resident, died yesterday at Roseburg, according to word received here. Funeral services will be held in that city at 10 o'clock Monday morning, with interment following at 2:30 o'clock in the Masonic cemetery at Albany.
In the 90's, Sanford married Clara Litchfield of Salem. The widow survives.

Heads Chilean Radical Revolt

A recent photo of Dr. Carlos Davila, former Ambassador to the United States, who is leader of the revolutionary Junta which was formed following the overthrow of the Chilean government, Davila is said to be modeling the new government upon principles similar to those of the Russian Soviet. President Montero and his cabinet surrendered to avoid bloodshed.

THOMAS G. HARRIS FUNERAL IS TODAY

Civil War Veteran 93 Years Old to be Paid Honors By Comrades Here

Sedgwick post, Grand Army of the Republic and the W. R. C. will be in charge of the funeral services to be held for Thomas Green Harris, Civil War veteran and patriotic organization, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clara McDerby, 1650 Waller street, Thursday morning.
He was born in Illinois, living there until 1884 at which time he moved to Nebraska. He served three years during the Civil war with the Illinois 77th volunteer infantry and took part in several important battles. He lost his leg in Mexico, 1847, and then came to Oregon to live with his friends.

Mrs. Holland is Hurt, Car Crash At Independence

INDEPENDENCE, June 10.—Mrs. Effie Holland of 548 Trade street, Salem, was severely injured in an automobile collision at 7:30 o'clock this evening, when her daughter Lorene, who was driving the car, drove off the bridge crossing the slough on Williams street in north Independence.
Mrs. Holland was taken immediately to a Salem hospital and her condition was not divulged. The other occupants of the car were two small children and Harvey Massengill. No one besides Mrs. Holland received injuries although the automobile was a complete wreck.

Lane County to Cancel Its Fair

EUGENE, Ore., June 10.—(AP)—Lane county will not hold its fair this year, Mrs. Mable Chadwick, secretary of the fair board, said today. Adverse financial conditions were given as the reason for the decision.

THREE HUNDRED MILLION RELIEF PASSES SENATE

Unemployment aid Measure Voted 72 to 8; Faces House Opposition

Advances to States, Basis Of Population, Scheme Backed by Solons

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—An overwhelming bi-partisan majority swept the $300,000,000 democratic relief bill through the senate today in less than six hours as congress drove for an early adjournment.
The unemployment aid measure was approved 72 to 8 in the same senate which last February brushed aside all legislation for the use of federal funds.
The bill, which now goes to the house, provides for advances to the states on the basis of population through the reconstruction corporation.
Carries Approval Of President Hoover
Carrying the relief measure forward easy going in the senate despite a prophecy by Senator Reed (R., A.), that it was a "mile stone in the disintegration of the American republic."
It faces harder sledding, however, in the house which has already passed a $2,000,000,000 relief measure sponsored by Speaker Garner.
After its approval today by the senate, Representative Rainey, house democratic leader said the measure "offers no permanent relief."
Reed's solemn warning drew the quick retort from Senator Borah (R., Idaho), that: "I do not believe this marks the beginning of the fall of the republic, nor that the republic will fall."
The officers questioned Burns, whom local police said they believed had been a sweetheart of Violet Sharpe, waitress who committed suicide, for more than an hour. Burns denied knowing the girl, and it was indicated that no evidence was found to connect him directly with the Hopewell, N. J., crime.

Etterburgs' Canning May Start Today

First packing of Etterburg strawberries may get under way today at the Hunt Brothers cannery, and if not today, the first of the week. Weather conditions of the past few days have ripened these berries faster than anticipated. The first of the week probably be in full swing for the season around the 20th of the month. Hunt Bros. is the only cannery which expects to handle even small quantities of Etterburgs before the middle of next week.
Some canneries will rely upon the open market for Etterburgs, while others have contracts out on these. While the price situation on Etterburgs is stronger than on Marshalls, which hit bottom this year, it is understood the bridge will attempt to bring down the six and seven-cent contract on Etterburgs.
Just what the ticker on these berries, fewer acreage of which there is in this county, will be, canners do not state.
Growers, it is generally said, are hoping the Etterburg price will run as high as four cents. However, so far as buyer will intimate, this is purely conjecture.

Engine Going to Fire is Halted, Cuts Up Paving

Like the fire horses of bygone days, one of the city fire engines was "taring to go" yesterday afternoon when a call came from West Salem that the Salem Box company plant was afire.
Just as the engine pulled out of the station, a second call announced the fire was out. Firemen flagged down the engine driver who in turn "reined in" his gasoline steeds. No hoofs to brace in a dusty street, the engine's wheels slashed 10-foot grooves in the soft blacktop pavement. The firemen's modern horses were "hauled down" in mid street.

Important Announcement

THE Sunday Statesman will contain the outline of a proposal by the editor of this paper which is of vital concern to the people of Salem. Developed as a civic plan it offers possibilities of great good to the city.
Watch for The Sunday Statesman.

Strong Clues Point to Ernest Brinkert, Ex-Convict Friend of Morrow Servant Who is Suicide

Waitress Gives Clue Before Taking Poison

Discloses Brinkert's Identity; her Sister Sailed For England Shortly After Ransom Paid, Police Learn

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., June 10.—(AP)—A waitress in the Dwight Morrow household, who police believed had guilty knowledge of the Lindbergh baby kidnaping and murder, committed suicide today after disclosing the name of a man whom she said had gone on a mysterious trip the night of the kidnaping.

FAIL TO CONNECT BURNS WITH CASE

Second new Suspect Denies Knowing Waitress who Took own Life

DETROIT, June 11.—(AP)—New Jersey officers who questioned Robert Burns, arrested last night as a suspect in the Lindbergh case, indicated early today they do not believe he had anything to do with the kidnaping and murder.
The officers questioned Burns, whom local police said they believed had been a sweetheart of Violet Sharpe, waitress who committed suicide, for more than an hour. Burns denied knowing the girl, and it was indicated that no evidence was found to connect him directly with the Hopewell, N. J., crime.

EGAN DECLINES TO APPEAR FOR PROBE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—(AP)—San Francisco's suspended public defender, Frank J. Egan, failed to appear tonight before the board of supervisors, assembled to consider the demand of Mayor Angelo J. Rossi that Egan, in jail awaiting a murder trial, be permanently removed from office.
His attorney, Vincent W. Hallinan, appeared before the board and asserted he had advised Egan not to appear.
"I refuse," he said, "to permit my client to appear before this board that another Roman holiday might be enjoyed at his expense. Egan had nothing to gain by appearing here. This board has filed no charge against him. His presence here is not compulsory and in no wise would he be affected by any judgment this board may pass upon him."

Last Silverton G. A. R. Man Dies

SILVERTON, Ore., June 10.—(AP)—Jared Karstetter, 86, died here last night. He was the last member of the Silverton Grand Army post, funeral services will be Sunday afternoon. His widow, a daughter and two sons survive.

JAFSIE CONDON ATTEMPTING TO IDENTIFY 'JOHN'

Unexplained Connection of Taxi man With Sharpe Woman Under Probe

Suspect Waives Rights and Is on way Early Today Into New Jersey

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 11.—(Saturday)—(AP)—Ernest Brinkert, suspect in the Lindbergh kidnaping-murder case, signed a waiver of extradition early today and started for New Jersey in the company of Inspector Harry Walsh and two detectives from that state.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 11.—(AP)—At 2:25 a. m. E. S. T., after he had been presumably locked up for the night, Ernest Brinkert was brought from his cell for continued questioning.
He was to confront again the woman who says she is his second wife and whose story of recent events does not coincide with his.

Scott Backs New Plan of Relief Work

PORTLAND, Ore., June 10.—(AP)—Leslie M. Scott, chairman of the state highway commission, said here tonight that the state highway department will provide emergency relief work.
After a long conference today with Highway Engineer R. H. Baldock, the commission decided on a wage scale of $1.50 a day instead of the $3 a day carried under the old plan.
"It is a plan whereby, in our opinion, the credit of the state will be conserved," Scott said.
The commission anticipates that $2,000,000 in federal aid will be forthcoming from congress within the next month. Scott said the commission has almost $1,000,000 of federal aid still available if it can provide the match money for it.
"It would be businesslike," Scott said, "to issue bonds for this purpose under our new plan."
Concentration camps would be built on the jobs. Minimum wages would be specified, as well as maximum board charges.
Present plans are to use part of the $2,000,000 extra emergency government relief appropriation to match the $1,000,000 of federal aid now available. Scott said, so as to lessen the strain on the state's finances.

FOUR NAMES FILED FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Filing time for the June 30 school election of two directors closed yesterday with four candidates nominated. Friends of Mark D. McCallister, incumbent, completed the required petition bearing 25 names yesterday, although it was announced from a reliable source Thursday that he would not accept. A statement of acceptance must be filed early next week if a candidate's name goes on the ballot.
Petitions for the nomination of E. L. Wieder, incumbent, were in circulation yesterday, it was understood. None were filed with the school clerk.
The three nominees who have accepted are Mrs. David A. Wright, Dr. B. F. Pound and K. C. Perry.
