

Ruth Chatterton Here New Role

'RICH ARE ALWAYS WITH US' OFFERED

First Lady of the Screen Afforded new Type of Character Work

Ruth Chatterton, "First Lady of the Screen" arrives in Warner Bros. Elsinore theatre today in her first starring vehicle for First National Pictures, "The Rich Are Always With Us."

Miss Chatterton brings to the screen a new type of characterization which differs from any previous role she has played on stage or screen. Her great knowledge of stage technique has been augmented by her screen experience to such a degree that "The Rich Are Always With Us" has been hailed in other cities as her greatest work to date.

The story concerns one of the wealthiest women in the country, her marriage, subsequent loss of her husband to a debauched love pirate, and the ultimate happiness she finds with a handsome young author who had long been in love with her. The young author is portrayed by George Brent, a newcomer to the screen.

The background of the story is one of the smartest and swiftest against which any screen story has been set. Gowns and settings are extremely elaborate and in the best of taste.

The large cast also includes Bette Davis, who appeared opposite George Arliss in "The Man Who Played God," Adrienne Dore, John Miljan, Mae Madison, John Wray, Robert Warwick, Virginia Hammond, Walter Walker, and Burton Churchill.

Alfred E. Green, director of "Disraeli" and "Smart Money" directed.

FAMOUS ATHLETES IN ELSINORE FILM

Many of the most famous sport champions in America have roles in "Huddle," Ramon Novarro's new starring feature, which will open Wednesday at the Elsinore.

Football and campus sequences will show such notables as Ernie Pinckert, All-American player of U. S. S. and one of the most outstanding gridiron stars of all time; Marjorie Aspit, former guard from U. S. C.; Jess Hibbs, All-American, U. S. C.; Jess Hibbs, All-American, U. S. C.; Dale Van Sickle, All-American end in 1928 from Florida and All-American basketball player; Gene Clark, former end from U. S. C.; Don Hill, famous Stanford player in 1928; and Manfred Veste, formerly a brilliant end for Notre Dame, who also acted as technical advisor for the production.

Representatives of other sports who appear in the picture include Buster Crabbe, world's champion swimmer, holder of titles in the half mile, one mile and 300-yard medley, and John "Red" Burger, welterweight champion boxer in the 1924 Olympic Games in Paris. Many other men who have been members of famous teams will work as "atmosphere" in the production.

Also appearing with Novarro in the strong supporting cast are Madge Evans, Una Merkel, Ralph Graves, John Arledge, Frank Albertson, Kane Richmond, Martha Sleeper, Henry Armetta, Ferike Boros, Rockliffe Fellows and Joe Sauers.

Sam Wood, who is well known for such college pictures as "One Minute to Play" and "So This is College," directed the production.

WILL ROGERS NOW AT GRAND THEATRE

A long and vigorously suppressed desire of Will Rogers, world-famous comedian of the screen, bursts all bounds in "Business and Pleasure," his latest Fox Films production, adapted from the best-selling novel, "The Plutocrat," by Booth Tarkington.

Will gets a chance as "top man" in a quartet.

'SOOKY' COMES TO HOLLYWOOD TODAY

Jackie Cooper Doesn't Have To act; Says Prayers Just as in Film

When "Sooky" knelt down beside his bed in the Paramount picture of that name and talked confidentially to God about Sooky he was not acting, but merely following a natural procedure.

This was told by his mother on the Paramount set as Jackie Cooper and Robert Coogan were reunited for the continuation of their Percy Crosby adventures in a new picture titled "Sooky," to be headlined at the Hollywood today.

"Jackie always talks to God," Mrs. Cooper says. "He has his little prayer which he rambles off at lightning speed and then settles down to discuss his problems with God."

"He recently asked a minister why God hadn't answered all his prayers and when the preacher told him God took care of the most important things first, Jackie replied, 'I sort of figured it was that way—I guess lots of folks have bigger things to ask him for.'"

"Jackie's chief subject of discussion with God is his lack of a father. His daddy died when Jackie was little more than two. "When I saw Jackie pray in 'Sooky,' I couldn't hold back my tears because I could remember the times when he used to say to God, 'Why is it I can't have a daddy like the other guys, God? Gee, that's about the only thing I really do want. I know you can't bother with everyone, but I didn't think it's right for me not to have a dad 'cause you know I don't ask you for many things.'"

Jackie's mother states that he must have the only thing I really do want. I know you can't bother with everyone, but I didn't think it's right for me not to have a dad 'cause you know I don't ask you for many things."
