Farewell Dinner Honors Ackermans

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ackerman were honor guests for an attractive farewell dinner party for which Mrs. Laura Williams was hostess Thursday night at her home. Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman have been attending Willamette university.

A pretty color scheme of pink and blue was carried out through the use of roses and blue bells. As an interesting part of the dinner hour Jackie Gibson, Louis Gillings and Ethyl Mae Williams presented a group of musical numbers.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman, Miss Lois Wilkes, Miss Elizabeth Badly, Miss Marguerite Cox, Miss Henrietta Bishop, Miss Pauline Livesay, Miss Carla Williams, Miss Marion Williams, Mrs. Clara Ackerman of Monroe, Wash., Miss Ethyl Mae Williams, Keith Jones, Curtis French, Alfred French, Robert De-Brueler, Curtis Williams, Lowell Williams and the hostess, Mrs. Williams.

Independence—Miss Viola Cuthbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cuthbert, and Clarence Crocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crocker, were married Thursday in Cloverdale, Tillamook county, with Rev. Fred Rousner, pastor of the Baptist church there, officiating.

The bride and groom were accompanied to Cloverdale by Miss Celesta Cuthbert, Wilber Crocker and Richard Pepworth of Salem.

A 6 o'clock breakfast was served at the Cuthbert home to the members of both families and Mr. Pepworth. The bridal party motored to Cloverdale for the ceremony and returned to the Crocker farm west of Independence about 12:30 for dinner at which the Cuthbert family, Mr. and Mrs. Cuthbert, Celesta, Ruth, Frances, Elmer and Jimmie, the bride and groom, Mr. Pepworth, Wilber Crocker and the hosts Mr. and Mrs. Crocker were present. After dinner the newly-weds left for Santa Rosa, Cal. where Mr. Crocker will be employed for the summer.

The bride was lovely in a shell colored net lace frock over silk. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and rose buds.

Mrs. Crocker graduated with her class of the Independence high school Wednesday night. Mr. Crocker, graduate of O. N. S. was a teacher in the Hoskins school, the past year. He will have charge of a school near Aurora, this coming year.

A group of pupils of Lena May Dotson were presented in recital at the Woman's clubhouse recently. The first half of the program was a playlet with story book characters. Duets and trios were pleasing features. Those presented were Virginia Tomkins, Barbara Collier, Loretta Smith, Ora McDowell, Estalynne Rierson, Marie Witte, Bena Brooks, Bonnie Belle Miller, Ada Mae Smith, Betty Dotson, Helen Schulz, Virginia Scott, Neva Smith and Doris Schunke. A second group will soon be presented.

SETUP FOR SOCIAL SCIENCE REVEALED

No Shifts Between Higher Campuses Necessary To get Degrees

Work for degrees in the reorganized school of social sciences will not require shifts from one campus to another, the state board of higher education announced Saturday. A saving of 13 per cent over the present system has been brought about through salary reductions. Work will be offered in seven major fields in the new system of higher education. Savings possible in the departments are 56 to 41 members, by consolidation of departments and courses and by increasing teaching loads through larger classes.

The new school has been formed from social science departments and courses of the old college of literature, science and the arts and the school of applied social science at the University of Oregon and duplicating departments in the schools of commerce, vocational education and basic arts and sciences at Oregon State college.

Dr. James H. Gilbert, former dean of the college of literature, science and the arts and a member of the university faculty for 35 years, will be the new dean of the school of social science with headquarters at Eugene. Dean Gilbert was graduated from the University of Oregon in 1903 and received his doctor's degree at Columbia university in 1907.

Major work leading to bachelor, master and doctor degrees in the fields of economics, geography, history, philosophy, political science, psychology and sociology will be given at the university under the consolidation program of the board.

Lower division work during the first two years, giving students a thorough background for specialization in any of the major curricula in social sciences, will be offered at both Corvallis and Eugene. In addition, service courses for students in the technical and scientific schools at the college will be given at Corvallis.

While all specialization in the school will be concentrated on the Eugene campus, students not only will be given opportunity for a thorough background on either campus, the board points out, but will also have available supplementary courses in other schools.

Started a new investigation by police who said most of the work among the boys was being done by radical students of the national university.
