

Local News Briefs

Band Makes Good—The Salem American Legion junior band made good on its trip to the coast over the week end, Thomas Hill reported. The 26 members who made the trip played at a dance Saturday night and at a highway celebration at Taft Sunday. They spent the night at Nelscott beach, where Mr. and Mrs. Cushing, proprietors, put their camp kitchen at the boys' disposal, and furnished a number of beds. Turkey dinner was provided for the boys on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gardner. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brazeau and Hill, with the cooperation of the following Salem concerns: Cherry City Baking company, Piggy-Wiggy, Smith & Watkins, Capital Dairies, The State Grocery company, W. T. Stolz, Midget Market, Jim St. Clair and K. Smith.

Berry tickets: printed at The Statesman plant.

Seeks Change—Motion for a change of venue from the court presided over by Circuit Judge L. H. McMahon here was filed with the county clerk yesterday by attorney Allen Johnson, who asks that the matter be tried in the county inasmuch as he feels his case will not receive a fair trial in this court. In the past few months, a number of affidavits of prejudice have been filed by this attorney against McMahon. The motion was granted in case of Fred A. Hunt and Estil I. Hunt vs. Peter Kosturos, involving disagreement on settlement of affairs in connection with running the Central hotel here.

Leather goods 1/2 price at Shafter's, 170 S. Commercial.

Frat Case Dismissed—The suit brought by Sigma Tau social fraternity of Willamette university against Harold McKenzie is dismissed from the circuit court of Lane county, on stipulation of the attorneys. Plaintiff sought to collect board and room bill, alleged not to have been paid by defendant while attending Willamette university. Defendant answered that he did not owe the money, inasmuch as he agreed to receive board and room in return for athletic services.

Berry tickets priced to the times, at Statesman office, 215 South Commercial street.

Debt Compromised—Petition of Jerusha A. Suter, executrix, to compromise debt in estate of Lewis H. Suter, was allowed in probate court yesterday, with Elmer Spree to convey to the estate, in return for cancellation of notes aggregating $6350. The interest on a quarter section of section 15, of the Haxwood and Burn ranches. The real estate taken is to be distributed among the heirs, a third to the executrix, and the rest among nine other heirs.

Shafter's 1/2 price sale of leather goods continues at 370 State.

Local Attorney Wins—In two cases tried in Multnomah county circuit court last week, in which Allan Carson of Salem was attorney for the plaintiffs, the jury returned verdicts for the plaintiffs. The suits were separate damage actions brought by Harry Heth of Chemawa and Grant Heth of Portland against Thomas Johnson of Portland as executor of an automobile accident near Vancouver. A third case arising out of the accident was settled out of court.

ICE. Prompt residence delivery. Phone 5603. New modern all-steel refrigerators at cost. Call at Capital Ice, 560 Trade St.

Compromise O. K.—Order in probate court permits compromise of a debt owed by the Deaconess hospital here to the F. B. Wedel estate. The estate agrees to accept $2000 on the $5500 mortgage held by the estate, and of the settlement, $1000 is to be cash and the rest paid $50 each month.

Spec. Lunch 35c. Half fried Sp. Chicken or cold with potato salad. Choice of drinks. Food Shop.

Accident Driver Fined—Clifford Walling, 16, whom city police arrested last week on a charge of reckless driving causing an accident, appeared before Municipal Judge Poulson yesterday on a warrant issued by Chief of Police Minto. When he pleaded guilty, the judge suspended his driver's license for 10 days.

Diamonds, watches and jewelry at our 1/2 price sale. Hartman Bros.

Siegmund Estate—Date of hearing on final account in estate of Jacob Siegmund has been set for July 15. Final account filed in probate court yesterday shows receipts and property of the estate to be worth $25,417.66, with $29,140 in real property.

Place furs and top coats in cold storage now. See Etta Burns at Miller's.

Ball Lowered—On motion of his attorney, Judge L. H. McMahon of the circuit court yesterday signed order lowering ball of Donald Pillar from $1000 to $500.

Wedding gifts, nice assortments at our 1/2 price sale. Hartman Bros.

Demurrer—In case of Woodburn Lodge No. 102, I. O. O. F. vs. George W. Wilson and Julia F. Basher, demurrer to answer has been filed.

Webfoot elastic wool swim suits at Miller's, $2.75.

Edgar King Arrested—City police Sunday arrested Edgar R. King, route 6, on a charge of speeding, according to the headquarters blotter.

Births

Ohl—To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herbert Ohl, 1325 North Fifth street, a girl, Sally Ann, born on June 9 at Salem general hospital.

Marine Reserves Open—Enlistment is now open for the United States Marine Corps Reserves, according to Sergeant Mack Sherman, local recruiting officer with headquarters in the post office building. Membership in the reserve is open to men between the ages of 18 and 35, married or single, with or without military experience. Men enlisted in the reserve are not required to attend drills or perform training duty. The purpose of the reserve corps is to make reinforcements quickly available in case of national emergency.

Quick work, reasonable prices on berry tickets at The Statesman printing office, 215 South Commercial.

Seeking Orators—Beginning in September, the chamber of commerce will contact the 40 or more rural community clubs in this county, accepting invitations to help put on one or more of their programs. With this project in mind, the chamber will look among its own number of speakers for merit and the best musical talent, with the idea of furnishing the rural communities extra fine entertainment.

Your new summer complexion is awaiting you at Miller's. Try a new skin cream by Colonial Dames all this week.

Woodington Estate—Estate of Sarah E. Woodington was entered in probate court yesterday, with Rosella M. Woodington, a daughter, of Portland, named executrix, and L. P. Aldrich, Doug Minto and F. J. Lafky, appraisers. The estate is valued at $1000, and terms of the will leave one dollar to each of other daughters, Stella Lemon of Portland, and the rest to the executrix.

Get your berry tickets at The Statesman job plant.

On Brake Charge—Appearing in justice court yesterday on charge of operating motor vehicle with defective brakes, Burt C. Mitchell, Edward A. Burghart and Fred Robertson paid fines of $2 each; case against Chris F. Horn was continued until June 27; and against A. M. LaDue, continued until June 17. All five pleaded guilty. Arrest was made Saturday when state police lined traffic up for brake tests.

The hottest day of the summer season will be pleasant if you don't Slack such as are featured at Miller's this week.

Students Leave—Wayne Harding, county club leader and rural school supervisor, left yesterday morning for Corvallis, where he will spend the next two weeks with 22 Marion county boys and girls who are attending the annual 4-H summer school conducted there. This is one of the largest showing Marion county has made at the summer session.

Spa French pastry served with meals or to take out.

Disease Increases—New cases of communicable disease increased to 47 in Marion county during the week ending June 4, according to a bulletin of the state department of health. Twenty-five cases of measles were reported, five of tuberculosis, one of pneumonia and four each of influenza, whooping cough, chickenpox and mumps.

Jantzen Swim suits are to be found in Salem only at Miller's.

Crossing Permitted—The public utilities commissioner Monday granted the application of the Tillamook county court for permission to cross a bridge over the tracks of the Southern Pacific company at Myrtle street in the town of Oceanlake park. The cost of the improvement shall be borne by the applicant.

Spa French pastry served with meals or to take out.

Monitor Car Stolen—William Harlan of Monitor informed state police last night that his light coupe had been stolen from near a Woodburn dance hall. The car bore Oregon license plates, No. 10-353.

Wanted, Used Furniture. Phone 5110.

Allow Fees—Order in circuit court allows Custer E. Ross attorney's fees of $495.94 from the state banking department for services given in settling of a matter with J. H. Milley in connection with affairs of the Aurora state bank.

Sunday dinner at the Spa, 50c.

Determine Tax—Inheritance tax in the estate of Gunter M. Opund has been determined at $2.06, according to statement filed by the county court. The estate is valued at $10,298.31.

Spa ice cream made the old-fashioned way.

Case Dismissed—Based on stipulation, case of Gottlieb Reiben vs. Charles H. Lippe was yesterday dismissed from circuit court here.

Spa ice cream made the old-fashioned way and from pure cream.

Foreclosure—Order of foreclosure on delinquent tax certificates has been filed in circuit court in case of P. J. Hibler vs. W. D. Moreland and others.

Spa French pastry now served with all dinners and lunches.

Transient in Jail—George Nunn, a transient, was arrested by city police yesterday on a charge of being drunk. He was confined to the city jail.

Every article in every department has been reduced for Shipley's June Surprise Clearance Sale, which is now in progress.

Fulton Appointed—A. C. Fulton of Astoria Monday was appointed Clatsop county attorney for the state land board.

ENGINEER SCHOOLS ARE CONSOLIDATED

Dean Rogers at Head; Will Include Architecture Design Courses

Consolidation of the former degree-granting department of chemical engineering and the school of engineering at Oregon State college into one school of engineering and mechanical arts headed by Dean H. Rogers, was announced at the offices of the state board of higher education Monday.

Instruction in chemical engineering and industrial chemistry formerly in an independent unit, have been combined with the five departments of the school of engineering in accordance with the plan recommended by the curriculum committee of the board. At the same time a saving of about 10 per cent will be effected through staff reductions and heavier teaching loads.

Work for this year's juniors in the school of mines, abolished by the board, will be continued for next year only, under the direction of the school of engineering.

The only other significant change in this school made by the board in its general unification program is provision for a major curriculum in structural design in architecture which will be offered jointly by the school of fine arts and the school of engineering at the college.

Major Work to be All at Corvallis

Work leading to bachelor and master degrees will be given only at Corvallis in civil engineering, electrical engineering with power and communication options, mechanical engineering with general and aeronautical options, industrial arts education, industrial shop administration, chemical engineering and industrial chemistry.

With major work in chemistry being given on the Corvallis campus for the first time next year, more opportunity for professional elective courses will be open to students in industrial chemistry.

Dean Rogers, in addition to being head of the school of engineering and mechanical arts, will retain his position as head of the civil engineering department which he held at that time appointed to the deanship in 1927.

Few changes have been made in the personnel of the engineering faculty, the board announced, although three instructors have been released, making a total of 24 faculty members in the school. George W. Gleason, former instructor of mechanics and materials has been shifted to the department of chemical engineering as an assistant professor. J. H. Bachelor, professor of mining engineering in the discontinued school of mines, will be in charge of senior courses next year in mining engineering.

Entire Staff to be at Corvallis

Following is the personnel of the school, all of whom will be located on the Corvallis campus:

Dean—H. S. Rogers.

Department of civil engineering—J. R. Griffith, professor of structural engineering; S. M. P. Othmer, professor of mechanical engineering; G. W. Holcomb, Bureau Glenn and Fred Merrifield, assistant professors.

Department of electrical engineering—R. H. Dearborn, professor and department head; F. O. McMillan, research professor; L. F. Wooster, professor of applied electricity; H. B. Cockrill, A. L. Albert and E. C. Starr, assistant professors; B. H. Nichols, instructor.

Department of highway engineering—G. V. Skelton, professor and department head.

Department of industrial arts—G. R. Cox, professor and department head; R. Ridenour, assistant professor; M. L. Granning, instructor in machine shop; W. H. Horning, instructor in forging; E. D. Meyer, instructor; A. C. Harwood, mechanic.

Department of mechanical engineering—F. C. Baender, professor and department head; W. H. Martin, professor of heat engineering; M. C. Phillips, associate professor; R. E. Summers, assistant professor; W. R. Jones, assistant professor of aeronautical engineering; W. H. Paul and E. C. Willey, instructors.

Department of mechanics and materials—S. H. Graf, professor and department head; C. E. Thomas, associate professor; J. C. Othmer and I. F. Waterman, assistant professors.

Department of chemical engineering—Dr. Charles S. Keovil, professor and department head; G. W. Gleason, assistant professor.

Department of mining engineering—J. H. Bachelor, professor and department head.

WHAT'S IN STORE FOR POPEYE?

Real competition for POPEYE at last! How can the fight loving sailor compete against a mad brute like Bluto? Inspired by his worst mood by the lust for gold of the Sunken City, you can bet he'll make life exciting for POPEYE as long as he lasts. Watch what happens when this pair meet in the thrilling new episode pictured by E. C. Segar in THIMBLE THEATRE, STARRING POPEYE! Turn to the comic page of The Oregon Statesman every day for the latest developments!

Dr. Poling Leaves Pulpit; Recalls Early Struggles To Build Church in West

In those days which seem so long ago, 'way back in 1884, a young minister came west with his bride of two years and made his home in Salem. He preached the first Sunday he was here at a church which at that time stood at Liberty and Center street. Later he was instrumental in having built the first English Evangelical church west of the Rocky mountains, in 1887.

This past Sunday that same minister, Dr. C. C. Poling, preached his last sermon as an active minister in the Oregon conference and is now retired to voluntary service, or missionary at large, so long as his health will permit.

After 48 years of service in Oregon, and after 73 years of life he is a sturdy looking man, with clear, twinkling blue eyes that have seen much of life and yet retain an inspiring outlook. His white hair is the most noticeable sign of age. Aside from that he is young—mentally and in physical appearance.

Young despite the years of traveling over Oregon in those early days of mail and winding roads into far points of wilderness where he went as superintendent of the Oregon conference.

The first actual church for Dr. Poling was in Portland where he served three years and organized six other church units which in time built churches, and four of them are known as St. Johns, Portland, Wichita church, East Side church and Willamette Boulevard church.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Poling will go back to make their permanent home in Portland where they began their labors in Oregon, and Dr. Poling will once again be a "missionary" minister, going where ever he is needed to aid a fellow worker.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

Dr. Poling was one of the eight ministers to organize an Oregon conference for the English Evangelical church in Corvallis in 1884. Bishop Rudolph Dubb, D. D., of Cleveland, Ohio, was also a member of that early conference as presiding bishop.

The first actual church for Dr. Poling was in Portland where he served three years and organized six other church units which in time built churches, and four of them are known as St. Johns, Portland, Wichita church, East Side church and Willamette Boulevard church.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Poling will go back to make their permanent home in Portland where they began their labors in Oregon, and Dr. Poling will once again be a "missionary" minister, going where ever he is needed to aid a fellow worker.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

Dr. Poling was one of the eight ministers to organize an Oregon conference for the English Evangelical church in Corvallis in 1884. Bishop Rudolph Dubb, D. D., of Cleveland, Ohio, was also a member of that early conference as presiding bishop.

The first actual church for Dr. Poling was in Portland where he served three years and organized six other church units which in time built churches, and four of them are known as St. Johns, Portland, Wichita church, East Side church and Willamette Boulevard church.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Poling will go back to make their permanent home in Portland where they began their labors in Oregon, and Dr. Poling will once again be a "missionary" minister, going where ever he is needed to aid a fellow worker.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Poling will go back to make their permanent home in Portland where they began their labors in Oregon, and Dr. Poling will once again be a "missionary" minister, going where ever he is needed to aid a fellow worker.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Poling will go back to make their permanent home in Portland where they began their labors in Oregon, and Dr. Poling will once again be a "missionary" minister, going where ever he is needed to aid a fellow worker.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Poling will go back to make their permanent home in Portland where they began their labors in Oregon, and Dr. Poling will once again be a "missionary" minister, going where ever he is needed to aid a fellow worker.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Poling will go back to make their permanent home in Portland where they began their labors in Oregon, and Dr. Poling will once again be a "missionary" minister, going where ever he is needed to aid a fellow worker.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Poling will go back to make their permanent home in Portland where they began their labors in Oregon, and Dr. Poling will once again be a "missionary" minister, going where ever he is needed to aid a fellow worker.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Poling will go back to make their permanent home in Portland where they began their labors in Oregon, and Dr. Poling will once again be a "missionary" minister, going where ever he is needed to aid a fellow worker.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Poling will go back to make their permanent home in Portland where they began their labors in Oregon, and Dr. Poling will once again be a "missionary" minister, going where ever he is needed to aid a fellow worker.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

An outstanding accomplishment was the organization of La Fayette college in 1889 and at whose head he was instrumental in placing Dr. W. C. Kanter. Later he was president of the college and aided in effecting the merging in 1900 of LaFayette with LaCroole academy at Dallas into Dallas college and LaCroole academy of which he was president until 1906 when he resigned to take the presidency of Western Union college in Iowa. After two years he came back to Oregon for a short time and was then called to Grace Evangelical church in Pittsburgh.

All during these years he had been on the commission working for the reunification of the two branches of the Evangelical church which split in 1890. In 1922 this reunion was brought about. And Dr. Poling left the east to again come to Salem and take the pastorate of the old Cottage street church. A few changes came between this and 1926 at which time he was again a member of the Oregon conference and lived three years in Portland. He was pastor of the East Side church, which he started away back in the 1880's, until 1920 at which time he came to take the pastorate of the new church in Salem.

And now he is through he says, with active work. "I will work at my hobby which is interdenominational work. There should be closer relations between the denominations if they do not want to fight a losing fight" said Dr. Poling.

"I am also one of the few men who link the time of 50 years ago with the present in our church," said Dr. Poling and "that gives me much to do."

Dr. and Mrs. Poling have three sons, two ministers of large congregations and Dan, minister, brilliant leader for dry forces in the United States and president of International and World Christian Endeavor society as well as editor of the Christian Herald.

Charles S. Poling is pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church in Bloomfield, New Jersey, and Paul is pastor of Bound Brook, New Jersey, Evangelical church. There are three daughters Ethel Poling Phelps, well-known musician in Salem; Mrs. Laura Good and Mrs. Mabel Wood both of Portland.

A family of which to be proud, a life of accomplishment, the years ahead must seem inviting to this young-old minister of 73 years who will now "ride his hobby" and work hard at it.

Setting up as a defense that Frances Monner, who died as result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident February 13, 1928, knew the manner in which he was driving the car and made no objection thereto, J. A. Starker yesterday filed in circuit court denial of liability in claim for damages filed against him by Frank Monner as administrator of the estate of the dead girl.

Starker, who was driver of the car in which the girl was riding, admits the details of the accident set forth in the complaint, save those which place blame on him.

Trial of Starker on involuntary manslaughter charge in connection with this same accident was slated for the last term of circuit court, but continued on account of illness of a material witness.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1882. She was one of the first women evangelists in the Evangelical church and Dr. Poling half seriously suggested that "she evangelize me" and added, "a wonderful woman; without her I could have done little."

After this bit of splendid matrimonial "organization" his next big organization venture was that of aiding with the Oregon conference. From this he organized churches in Portland and then for 25 years off and on was superintendent of the Oregon conference and as such was continually occupied with organization work.

Organization has been one of Dr. Poling's strong characteristics. He has a calm, determined, and intelligent view of situations which has brought to him visions of opportunities and his abundant ambition and enthusiasm have never failed him in putting over an idea upon which he started working.

Among the things to be organized was first his life. Dr. Poling is the son of an itinerant minister, therefore there was none too much money so Dr. Poling had to make his own way through school which he did by teaching when he reached academy age.

He preached in several places in his native state, West Virginia, and in Ohio after graduating from Mt. Union college, Ohio. Then he married Miss Savilla A. Kraing in 1