years. At this meeting, under Porter's resolution, a republican ticket would be selected and given official party endorsement for the primary campaign.

Committee to Scan Convention Scheme

After considerable debate, Porter's resolution was referred to the executive committee of the county organization, and Kowitz was authorized to name the committee which will consist of ten precinct committeemen, subject to his call.

Grant Murphy of Stayton opposed Porter's plan on the ground that the people had adopted a direct primary law and as long as it remained in effect, the endorsement of a candidate by a convention weakened the strength of the party's position. In Murphy's opinion, Porter lead the move to have Porter's resolution referred to committee.

A written protest to the secretary by Newell Williams, Salem republican, who declared Friday's actions illegal since more than 20 days had elapsed since the May 20 election, was ignored. Williams held in his letter that the state law provides that the organization meeting must be held within the time prescribed by law or else the state chairman of the republican party must name a temporary chairman to call the meeting.

Report of Election Held Delay Cause

J. C. Perry, who presided as the meeting started, said when questioned about Williams' protest, that it had been impossible to call the meeting sooner as insufficient time had been allowed to notify 79 precinct committeemen following the official announcement of the vote last week by County Clerk Boyer.

Chairman Kowitz agreed with Perry that the intent of the law providing for a temporary chairman appointed by the state chairman was to organize counties where no effort had been made.

If the present chairman of the party called the organization meeting as soon as possible after the official caucus of the vote for precinct committeemen was announced, the meeting is not illegal and its results are valid, Kowitz held.

Williams' protest was thought by party leaders to go back to four years ago when some criticism was leveled at him for his conduct of the 1928 campaign. Williams later opposed Perry's leadership and was a candidate for the county chairmanship in 1930.

No opposition to the nomination of Kowitz or Macy was evidenced at the meeting. Both men are known to be strong drys. Both opposed a re-submission plank offered at the republican county convention held last April.

MUST DIE

Convicted of murdering Senorita Tonia Casillas two years ago while intoxicated, Miguel Ahumada, son of the late Governor of the State of Chihuahua, Mexico, has been sentenced to be shot at Guadalupe. Ahumada is a graduate of Harvard University, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He admitted he had no recollection of events at the time of the crime.

Students Recitals Prove of Interest To Silverton Folks

SILVERTON, June 17—One of the interesting musical events of the late spring was that of Wednesday night when Mrs. Forna Davenport, piano, and Miss Beryl Ottaway, violin, presented their students in recital. The violin quartets given by Mrs. William Swift, Miss Ottaway, John Small and Fred Baker, were particularly enjoyed. Another outstanding number was the violin duet by Edith Knight and Miss Ottaway.

Those taking part in the recital were Phyllis Tweedie, June Baker, Robert Sidwell, Richard Hartley, Dale Bust, Lorraine Peterson, Virginia Case and Neida Trullinger. Norma Leek and Orin Goughenower, Miss Alma Trullinger, Dorsey Tweedie, Mrs. William Swift, John Small, Fred Baker, Joda Trullinger, Hazel Trullinger, Mable Norton, Norma Leek, Alleen Stanton.

ondary, the court held. Only bills primarily created for revenue raising need originate in the house, the court ruled.

Representation is Provided, Decision

Taxpayers need not have direct representation in the disposition of tax moneys collected from their property, the judge declared in his opinion. He cited several taxation units which secure and spend moneys without direct control by the taxpayers. Indirectly the tuition taxpayers do have representation in the expenditure of the money, the court ruled, since through their legislators they have delegated this taxation power to the county courts and allowed the courts to distribute it in an equitable manner to the various high school districts for expenditure on the basis of high school costs.

Mr. Heitzel said Friday that his clients were anxious for a final decision from the state supreme court in order to determine their next course of action. If the high court turns down the appeal and holds the tuition law equitable and holds the taxpayers will then take their fight into the 1933 legislative and try to wipe out the high school tuition law, Heitzel said.

SECRET CLUBS ARE ISSUE IN ELECTION

the south Salem district. Perry, backed by the Junior Civic club, is a graduate of Salem high school.

McCallister, incumbent, is the only nominee thus far to come out with a statement of his views on school costs. This he gave out last night:

"I want to maintain the schools on the highest standards we can and cut costs to the bone. I anticipate that we can cut costs another 10 per cent."

On the secret society question, McCallister pointed to the prohibitory state law and said the schools should abide by it. He also stated that "as in the past" he would "stand by the decision of the majority of the school board."

"The boys were expelled for the rest of the school year. The year is over. They can come back to school in the fall like the rest of the students," McCallister explained. "The superintendent and principal made the recommendation; we backed them up. I see no reason why we should change them now. It is a good idea for the boys to study up."

Referring to the secret society situation, Mrs. Wright, this week declared, "I hope that 'that' won't be an issue. I have always tried to be a law-abiding citizen."

Mrs. Wright averred that the matter of allowing the expelled students to make up their credits was "the present board's worry."

Dr. Pound's stand has been that the punishment meted out to the seven boys was of the wrong sort. Other restrictions might have been better, in his opinion.

TRAINING SCHOOL FUGITIVE SOUGHT

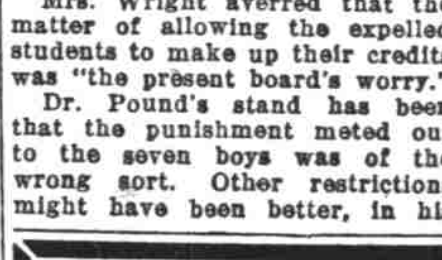

Another lad escaped from the state training school for boys at Woodburn yesterday. This one, the fourth in a week, was Roy Randall, 13, of The Dalles, who served as water boy for the older inmates working in the fields.

Randall was last seen at the school yesterday morning by boys in the fields. They said they saw him walking away, carrying his kit and a bundle. Later in the day, reports came from Mt. Angel of a boy answering his description, who was carrying two sticks and a bundle. It was thought he had deserted the kit.

The lad was sent to the institution on an arson charge. He is small for his age, four feet, seven inches tall, has blue eyes and dark brown hair.

Angus Moore, 16, one of three boys who escaped from the training school last Saturday night, is still at large.

AT "CHI"

STATE BANK IS GRANGE'S PLAN

Grange Picks Pendleton as 1933 Meeting Place by Majority Action

Taxes on imported vegetable, animal and fish oils, as advocated in Senator Henrik Shipstead's amendment to the pending revenue bill, were endorsed by the grange. Approval of the Pomona grange of the county or of the executive committee of the state grange will be required on all letters and resolutions before they can be circulated among the granges, it was decided.

The by-laws of the grange were changed to make the terms of office of the executive committee two years each to correspond with other officers.

Among many resolutions that were turned down was one advocating a reduction in federal excises and urging no further increase in governmental taxes; and another which would have limited power of the executive committee to carrying out the program of the grange as adopted at the state convention, except where an emergency is known to exist.

Still a third defeated resolution would have abolished the district deputies. It caused much discussion before it was voted down.

Malpractice is Alleged in Suit

A renewed demand for $75,000 in damages was made here Friday by Lucy Dawes through J. Dawes, her guardian ad litem in a malpractice suit filed against William W. Allen, Mill City physician. Plaintiff contends in her second amended complaint that Allen failed to be present when her baby was born in the spring of 1921 and that as a consequence she was greatly affected. She also contends that he subsequently failed to give proper attention, necessitating an operation.

Pretty senioritas of the Los Angeles Mexican colony are doing their bit for the "old country" by displaying the official Mexican Olympic seal, sale of which in stamp form will provide funds to bring their athletes to the games. Above, Senorita Josephina Oles M. is shown with one of the striking designs, the work of Robert Silva, noted Mexican artist.

DATA FOR CIVIL SERVICE RULES BEING GATHERED

To make the civil service rules for the Salem fire department the best possible, the new civil service commission is writing to other cities for copies of their rules, members reported yesterday. The local rules will be drawn up when all of this material is assembled. Portland, Seattle, Tacoma and Klamath Falls commissions already have sent the desired information.

The commission has 90 days within which to draw up rules and hold examinations to create an eligibility list for the department. Firemen now in the city's employ automatically come under civil service without taking the examination.

LADS TRAVEL 350 MILES BY BICYCLE

Unworried by approach of new license plate laws, George Cassey and Howard Elliott, Salem boys and juniors at the high school, do their vacationing by bicycle. The pair returned here yesterday from a 350-mile ride to Tillamook, Seaside, Astoria, Portland and return.

George and Howard left Salem a week ago Thursday, made Tillamook the first day and Seaside the second. At the beach resort they spent four days visiting friends, then rode to Astoria. The longest day's ride of their trip was from Astoria to St. Helena, 80 miles. Thursday they arrived at Portland where they viewed the rose festival events, then proceeded to Oregon City for overnight camp.

Enthusiastic over their trip, the boys seemed none the worse for eight to 10 hours riding each day. They carried their bedding and camping equipment with them. While they have gone on previous bicycle jaunts, this was their longest one.

Hemstead to Study Law at Stanford; Will Leave Sunday

AURORA, June 17—Jack Hemstead after a short visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hemstead, will leave Sunday for Stanford university where he will enter the law class which finishes in 1934. Jack, though a few weeks less than 25 years of age, has had an energetic and diversified educational career. As a student of the university his scholastic ability and fluent speech attracted attention, and with Avery Thompson and Benoit McCroskey of Salem he represented the university in an international debate with a visiting Australian team.

He participated in the first around the world debating tour, the first meeting in debate teams in this country, 9 in 9 foreign countries and crossed the frontiers of 16 others. Jack was given his degree from the university in 1929. Vacations to him meant only more academic pursuits, a course at Columbia university or a few months of law at Stanford. In the fall of 1929 he became a full time instructor of English at the University of Oregon. At the same time he devoted some time to study and received his Master of Arts degree. Boat to be Christened Here Sunday

STAYTON, June 17—The "Betty Ann," a trim little craft, will be duly christened and launched in the Willamette river at Salem on Sunday. The boat is the property of Gooden's floral gardens and was built by Mr. Gooden and his son, Don, the past winter and spring. It is 16 feet long and carries the most modern equipment.

The cabin and upper part of the boat are in mahogany finish, the lower part is white. A portable seat, which will easily seat three, covers the gas tank and just in front are two "jump" seats. The cabin is equipped with two seats also in addition to a slightly raised platform which is covered with three large-cushions, so that this part of the boat will be used as a lounge. The cushions are filled with kapak, so that in case of an accident they might be used as life preservers. In addition there will be four of these life preserver cushions, kapak filled and government inspected and approved.

A 25-horsepower motor has been installed. The boat will carry light, as well as two wall lights by an electric spotlight and tail in the cabin. A radio has also been added. Beside the American flag, on a small flagpole, there will be a clever pennant, depicting the profession of Mr. Gooden. The boat has incited the admiration of all those interested in an attorney.

Boats who have seen it and so enthusiastic are the Goodens about it that they have plans and considerable material on hand for a much larger boat.
