

Best Hated Grapplers Will Mix at Armory Here Tonight

JONES-JACKSON BOUT IS BILLED

Fans Hope They're Both at Least Half Killed; go And Help Uncle Sam

Salem wrestling fans' two best hated maulers, Henry Jones and Bulldog Jackson, will attempt to maim each other at the armory tonight and the best available guess is that the fans will be there, hoping and praying that they both succeed.

Figuring that the fans have to either love 'em or hate 'em to be interested, and being of a temperament that is hated easier than loved, these fellows have taken pains to build up a great store of hatred against themselves in Salem. Somewhere, perhaps at home with their children on their battle-scarred knees, they are loved.

They have wrestled several times without a great deal of decisiveness in the outcome; anyway a couple of draws and then that time in Portland when Jones won because a ringsider oglingly smacked at his opponent, that is, any out of Jackson after he had landed on the floor.

Aside from hoping they're both half killed, the fans' chief interest will be in looking Jones over for the last time before he goes into the arena out at the fairgrounds with hopes of taking Rob-in Reed's world welterweight belt away from him.

Two promising prelims: Prof. Newton vs. Pete Axman, Toughie Davis vs. Joe Gardiner. And don't forget. Attending this show will help Uncle Sammy balance his budget. A percentage of your ticket fee goes to the government and that's added onto what used to be the price. And if you belong to the elect and have a pass, you'll still have to pay the "war tax."

Western Paper Wins 5-2 Over Maytag's Team

Putting Maytag Washers in a paper sack, the Western Paper Converting players in Kithball league last night walked home with the victory theirs by a 5 to 2 score. Kitchen and Glenn Sanford were the winning battery, Kelly and Goodenough, the losers. Facing each other on Sweetland field at 6 o'clock tonight will be State Printers and Wranglers.

FINISH OF ENGLISH DERBY

Here is the thrilling finish of the recent English Derby, showing April the Fifth winning by three-quarters of a length from Dastur with Miracle a close third. The winner was an outsider quoted at 100-5 in the betting. Inset is Amelia Earhart Putnam, only woman trans-Atlantic solo flyer, who watched the historic race as the guest of Lord Astor, shown with the famous aviatrix.

Heavyweight Title Battle Is Tonight; Schmeling and Challenger Both Confident

By BILL KING
NEW YORK, June 20.—(AP)—Jack Sharkey, one of the few to make a financial success out of failure, will have his final crack at fame tomorrow night when he renews his fistic argument with Champion Max Schmeling in the Madison Square Garden's new outdoor arena at Long Island City.

And Sharkey, judging from his actions today, realizes that fact. He has trained long and well and, according to his handlers, is in splendid physical and mental trim for the 15-round battle with the tough and durable German.

The Bostonian, taking a few pages from Gene Tunney's book, has mapped out a careful battle plan. He intends to win on points, boxing coolly and patiently during every second of the 45 minutes of fisticuffs.

Although Sharkey is conceded

NORTH ENDERS NOSE OUT WIN

Beat Salem 13 to 12, Game Is one for Book; Last Year Players Star

In one of the weirdest, wildest ball games on record, the Woodburn American Legion Juniors completed a clean sweep of the county series Sunday on their home diamond and at the same time the Salem Juniors demonstrated that the margin of supremacy wasn't very wide. Woodburn squeaked in the run that gave it a 13 to 12 victory in the ninth inning after the lead had changed hands five times. Salem was ahead more of the time than Woodburn.

All the right handed hitters were hitting to right field, all the portside hitters to left; base runners kept getting caught off their bags, or pushed off and tagged out, with resultant sudden changes in the complexion of the game; Woodburn made only three putouts at first base aside from a couple thrown out there on dropped third strikes; "Hank" Leffler, Woodburn's star hurler, alternated between strike out sprees and fence-ball chucking; play after play was so close it could have been called either way and the fans thought they were all called the wrong way.

Nicholson, Schwab Have Great Day
Jimmy Nicholson of Salem and Carl Schwab of Woodburn, the two boys who were on the county team last year, seemed to think they had to hustle to make it again. At any rate Nicholson hit four times out of four trips, one of them a homer over the fence; and Schwab hit five for five, including a double. Both made some circus catches in center field.

The tall end of Salem's battle rounds, as he did with Stribling at Toledo last year.

The "gate" will probably be the smallest in many years of heavyweight history. William P. Carey, president of the Garden, said the box-office had reported more than $150,000 in cash and 170,000 worth of reservations.

It could easily have gone the other way. Delaney smacked one in Salem's half of the park if it had been two feet longer; and Leffler, who scored the tying run, could easily have been called out at third base, stretching on Oberst's hit. He went on in and Oberst went to third on a costly lapse immediately following, and Oberst scored on Davidson's neat squeeze play to let the customers go home.

Spring Tourney at Salem Golf Club in Semi-Finals; Eugene Wins by One Point

Glen Lengron, Dr. A. D. Woodmansee and Curtis Cross Reached the semi-finals in the championship flight of the Salem Golf club spring handicap tournament last weekend. Guy Smith and Don Young halved their match and because of the team competition with Eugene Sunday, were given an extension of time to play it over.

Walgren defeated Cox in one second flight match. The others have not been reported. Page defeated Hicks, Wiper beat Einzig and Lytle won from Hulseby, in third round matches.

Dr. Woodmansee will play Cross this week and Lengron will meet the winner of the Smith-Young match.

The Salem club demonstrated that it has a strong 25-man team when it lost to the Eugene County club team, one of the leading contenders in the state in this sort of competition, by a single point Sunday, 39 1/2 to 38 1/2. Points were pretty well distributed all down the list, only three Salem men failing to bag some portions of their matches.

SENATORS BEAT BEND ELKS, 1-0

Ashby's Three-ply Swat is Important in Battle Of Mound Stars

A three base hit by Hubert Ashby in the first inning was the decisive blow in the Salem Senators' 1 to 0 victory over the Bend Elks at Bend Sunday when "Squeek" Wilson of the Senators and Clyde Wunder, the new Bend pitcher, engaged in the tightest duel of the State league race to date.

Foreman, first man up in the game, walked but was caught off first base when he bogged down in the dust. Ashby then came up and lambasted the pill over the center fielder's head; it landed in the sawdust of a tackling pit or it would have been a homer. Adams bunted perfectly for a squeeze play though Ashby was in so fast he would have been safe if Adams had missed the ball. And that was all of the scoring.

As a result of this victory, the Senators are very much in the league race, tied with West Side for second place.

Each moundman in the game allowed eight hits and both kept them scattered. Wilson struck out nine men and Wunder seven. Scales and Erickson each got a couple of blows, one of Scales' being a two-bagger.

Eugene attained a solo position on top by beating the previously undefeated Pacific Outfitting club, 9 to 2, and the Townies established bases, Delaney, Elliott 2, Nicholson 2, Penny, Oberst, Schwab 2. Sacrifice hit, Davidson. Two base hits, Salstrom, Evans, Pinett, Davidson, Schwab. Three base hit, Landsem. Home run, Nicholson. Hit batsman, Hart by Leffler. Wild pitches, Leffler 2, Serdutz 2. Earned runs, Salem 5, Woodburn 9. Umpires, Bomhoff and Mason.

Needham and Laferty Get First Places

Salem swimmers entered in the northwest Olympic tryouts at Jantzen beach Saturday won three first places. R. R. Boardman, who served as head timer, reported yesterday.

Win Needham, swimmer in the Y. M. C. A. team here, won the 100-meter race for boys 16 years old and younger. Bob Needham took third place in the senior 100-meter dash.

Paul Laferty, former Salem boy, took first place in the breast stroke.

In the gruelling 800-meter relay, Wallace Hug, Bob Needham and "Red" Foster managed to edge into first place over the famous Seattle Athletic club team.

WORLD'S HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION... READY TO DEFEND HIS TITLE AGAINST HIS OLD FOE SHARKEY...

JOE JACOBS... THE CHAMP'S MANAGER... HE SAYS THAT MAX HAS DEVELOPED A WOV OF A LEFT HOOK!

CALM and confident, Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion of the world, awaits the call to battle. To him this affair with Jack Sharkey at the Garden Bowl, in Long Island City, N. Y., tonight is just another fight.

Max has come through the training grind in perfect shape. Those fistic authorities who watched the German going through the training sessions of the past few days were amazed. Already they had seen a new Schmeling in that affair a few months back with Billy Stribling. They then remarked at the wonderful improvement in the German. But now this like, darkskinned athlete, weaving and battering sparring partners about the "raining ring, seemed an entirely different person. He had acquired poise, which had been lacking in previous bouts. He had gained in speed and was punching with a power reminiscent of Dempsey. In short this new Max Schmeling was a revelation.

Before leaving camp for New York, Schmeling told the newspapermen of his plans. During the training period he had concentrated on a left hook to the body and head. "As a teaser," Max explained, "Then I will hit with the right."

He pointed out that Sharkey is not getting any younger; that he has been in the fistic game a long time and that he has shown but flashes of his old form in recent bouts. "He is getting old," said Max. "In the last fight I was coming, today I have arrived. Sharkey he is gone!"

Another thing, he explained, was that Sharkey is a worrier. This fight means everything to the Boston man; he is excited, high-strung and apt to make mistakes. "Me, I do not worry," continued Max. "I am cool in the ring, and to me, when I step through the ropes to meet Sharkey I will be just Max Schmeling in just another fight. And I will win!"

Well, we shall know tomorrow. (Copyright 1932 The National Sportsman, Inc.)
