made a good showing in this meet, their victories do not necessarily mean that they will be eligible to enter the Olympic games, according to Boardman. In none of the three races were the times comparable to world record figures. It is possible, however, that the Salem swimmers might be permitted to participate in further tryouts in New York.

While at Jantzen beach, Boardman interviewed Miss Helene Madison of Seattle, holder of 13 of the 16 world swimming records for women. At this meet she set two new world marks in the 50-meter swim, the final one, 30 3-5 seconds.

TIES RECORD

Not only did Percy Beard, of the New York Athletic Club, win the 120-yards high hurdle event at the annual Metropolitan A. A. U. track and field meet at the Yankee Stadium, New York, but in so doing he tied the world's record. Beard's time in the steeplechase was 14.2 seconds. He's headed for the Olympics.

BRINGING HOME THE BACON

Gene Sarazen, the birthplace of golf, lost its open championship to an American for the ninth consecutive year when Gene Sarazen won the title at Sandwich, England, the other day. The former Rye, N. Y., caddy, and onetime American open king, broke the tournament record with a total of 283, two strokes better than Bobby Jones' mark set up at St. Andrews, Scotland. Sarazen is the third American born golfer to win the coveted crown, the others being Walter Hagen, four times winner and Bobby Jones, who annexed the title three times.

CURT COMMENTS

Tonight—had you heard?—there's going to be a fight in Brooklyn or somewhere—we're kind of lazy about those places away out on Long Island. The winner, if any, will be the world's champion, but maybe you've thought nothing of it. Lots of people apparently haven't. Don't know why. It's the nearest thing to a real fight between men who between them have a real claim to the title, that we've had in six years.

By tonight, perhaps, there'll be a lot of interest aroused, and so for your information we might say that the show starts at 7 p. m. eastern standard time, and the main bout—some time between 8:30 and 9, by the same standard. Station KGW will broadcast starting at 6 p. m., by your own watch and chain if they're correct.

Inasmuch as there's to be a broadcast and you or your neighbor have a radio, we're not going to put on a downtown broadcast, though Graham McNamee Knapp and the Cherry City car were perfectly willing to help us out. It's possible that there may be something to report before 6 o'clock and we'll gladly tell you by telephone—then or any other time, anything we know if it isn't illogical.

The Statesman will have round-by-round report as the fight goes along, and that and a descriptive lead by Alan Gould, Associated Press sports editor, will appear in Wednesday morning's Statesman.

As for what we think—well, no matter what happens, we'll not faint.

California's Crew Takes Regatta Win

By ALAN GOULD
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 20 (AP)—California rules the inter-collegiate seas again. The Golden Bears with the Olympics as their goal this year and their world championship to defend on home waters, scored a triumph this evening over seven rivals in the four-mile varsity feature of the intercollegiate regatta.

California took command of the big race from the start and easily withstood Cornell's last mile challenge to win by two and a half lengths from the Ithacans. Washington finished third, two lengths back of Cornell and a length in front of Navy, 1931 champion, which in turn had a length and a half over Syracuse, the "hot" pre-race favorite. Columbia, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts Tech brought up the rear with Tech so far behind that it was passed by the referee's boat. Syracuse won the first two races, for freshmen and junior varsity crews.

The strange freshmen uncorked a superb finishing drive to win handsily, with Navy second, Cornell third, California fourth, Columbia fifth, Pennsylvania sixth and M. I. T. last. Coming right back in the three-mile "jays" battle, Syracuse again took the measure of California to win by a full length from the Golden Bears, with Navy third, Cornell fourth, Columbia fifth and M. I. T. last again.

GORDON DELIVERS FAREWELL SERMON

SILVERTON, June 20.—Dr. W. S. Gordon delivered his last sermon as pastor of the Methodist church at Silverton, Sunday morning before a packed auditorium. Dr. Gordon will go to Portland to make his home, leaving Tuesday for the conference at Portland.

Prior to the morning services, Children's day program, with Mrs. Edson Comstock, assisted by Mrs. Fern Davenport, was given. An exceptionally large audience was present for this.

Sunday evening a concert was given at the Methodist church with Mrs. F. J. Roubal in charge. Featured on the concert program were George Isrealson, baritone horn soloist; John Small, violinist; Mrs. Roubal, vocalist; the senior choir and the male quartet, composed of N. M. Smith, Bert Day, "Dad" Cain and I. B. Altred.

TWO WOMEN SEEK DIVORCE DECREES

Two suits for divorce were begun yesterday in circuit court here. Elizabeth J. Hughes, who was married July 13, 1927, to Harold V. Hughes, claims her husband has refused to work regularly, has frequently issued n. s. f. checks, has been profane in his language and has at some times gone to the coast with other women. She asks custody of their two children and $25 a month for their support.

Pearl Idella Kolbe, married October 7, 1931, at Vancouver, Wash., to Benjamin E. Kolbe, says he proved to have a bad temper and often would stay away from home until late at night without subsequently divulging his whereabouts. She asks the restoration of her maiden name of Pearl Idella Anderson.

Marriage Boom Continues With 3 New Licenses

A healthy marriage license business continued Monday at the county clerk's office. Three licenses were issued during the day following Saturday's unusually heavy license number of six licenses. Couples to secure licenses were: Leonard Snyder, 18, Aumsville,

BYRD PLANNING NEW EXPEDITION TO ANTARCTIC

Once more hured to the frozen end of the earth, Admiral Richard E. Byrd, who has already conducted extensive exploration at both the north and south poles, having actually flown over the top of the world and under the bottom, is planning another trip to the Antarctic. Conditions permitting, Byrd plans to leave Boston about September 1, outfitted for a two-year stay in the frozen wilderness at the bottom of the earth. In this latest venture, the Admiral is taking two planes and several tractors, as well as 150 dogs to provide transportation of men and supplies to bases he plans to establish in the shadow of the South Pole. Nearly all of the scientists who accompanied the famous explorer on his previous venture will be members of the expedition. Paul Siple, of Erie, Pa., who went with Byrd on his former venture as a Boy Scout observer, will also be a member of the new expedition, though no longer a scout. The entire expedition will travel to the South in the Bear, a sailing ship built in the '70s and used for many years by the U. S. Coast Guard. The men will probably make their home on the ship for the winter at Little America, the Byrd base. The primary object of the expedition is a closer study of Marie Byrdland, territory discovered on Byrd's previous venture in the Antarctic and named for his wife. But an attempt will also be made to elaborate on scientific data gained on that occasion.

Widening Tasks Won't Handicap Regular Traffic

There will be no interruption due to widening operations on the Pacific highway between Salem and Brooks, contractors announced Monday. The plan devised by the contractor in cooperation with the state highway commission calls for completion of the grading operations before work is started on widening and resurfacing the old pavement. The new paved roadway will be 20 feet wide with a non-skid surface and only a slight crown. It will be flanked on either side by shoulders graded to a width of 10 feet, six of which will be graveled.

Notable Record Owned by Fisher Who Visits Here

Interesting to meet and one whose stories are not like those heard before is a visitor in Salem just now by name of Henry R. Fisher, better known as "Frenchy from the Rockies." A trooper in Madagascar with the French army, wounded and scarred as a result of it, childhood spent in Switzerland, born in Wyoming, sailor in French navy, rancher in Wyoming, rider in rodeos, all this and more is a part of the man's history. His only children, two sons, were both killed in action with French troops at Chateau Thierry before the United States entered the war.

Party Going to Santaly; Camp To Open July 9

Mrs. Elizabeth Gallaher, accompanied by a group of girls and women, will spend Wednesday at Camp Santaly where they will make preparations for its opening July 9. The site for the swimming pool will be roped off, and routes for hikes planned. Mrs. Gallaher plans to make a general check-up on camp equipment and conditions. The party will include Mrs. Gal-

CITY CAMP NOT SO WELL PATRONIZED

With an average registration of from 15 to 18 campers who actually spend the night, the reports of the municipal campground indicate that this year there are no more than half the number of campers who have been in Salem in former years. The majority of them are just touring the country and not looking for jobs or a place to locate, although there are exceptions.

A large percentage of the campers are here from California, while most of the others are from Oregon and Washington. H. S. Postal, superintendent of the grounds, states that tourists from the east have not begun to arrive in any large numbers, but will probably start coming about July 1. Since June 11 the most distant places from which people have registered have been Joplin, Mo., Chetwood, Mo., West Palm Beach, Fla., and Polkstown, Pa. Registration for Saturday, June 18, includes the following: O. A. Dollins, Las Vegas, Nev.; A. A. Hayes, Roseburg, Ore.; G. A. Gurnea, North Bend, Ore.; and W. A. Lippman, Beverly Hills, Cal. Those registered for Sunday, June 19, include Robert Sellmann, Polkstown, Pa.; William McLeay, California; E. C. Coops, California; S. M. Falten, Bremerton, Wash.; Chester Vincent, Los Angeles, Cal.

W. U. Graduates Having Trouble Lining up Jobs

Willamette university graduates in the class of 1932 are having unusual difficulty in securing positions, university officials report. In a class of 84 graduates in the liberal arts college, less than one-half have as yet secured work. Fifty members of the class have prepared for teaching positions and to date only ten of these have secured contracts. A number of the graduates are under consideration for teaching positions but schools are slow in making commitments. Litigation over the state high school tuition law has held up many contracts. Once this law is decided a number of the graduates prepared for teaching jobs feel they will be able to secure work.
