

POULTRY REFLECTS WEAKNESS IN EAST

Cent Advance on Eggs Being Held Firmly, Decrease of Supply Noted

PORTLAND, June 21—(AP)—(AP)—Extreme weakness of the poultry market here and especially light weight hens, appears the result of congestion in the eastern markets. Prices, as low as they are here, are still high comparable with what packers are able to secure their needs in the Midwest.

There was no further change in the price list from the week's opening but depressed trading is suggested.

There remains a generally steady tone in the local butter trade and without quotation change for either cubes or prints. Make is still decreasing but general wants of the trade are being taken care of.

Late advance of 1c in the selling price on eggs is being generally maintained here with receipts still showing an almost general decrease. Movement into storage continues on a liberal scale.

Expressing full sympathy with the late advance in the price of hogs, market for country killed stock is firmer and higher. It has been rather active for some time past.

Somewhat better feeling is also expressed in the market for country killed veal and lamb. It is the first improvement in the latter for some time past but extreme quotations in both lines are on a nominal basis.

All through the market for tomatoes broken prices are reflected for the day. Offerings of all sorts are greater and the trade's full wants are more than taken care of. Hothouse movement now at the peak.

Owing to the forced maturity as a result of a shortage of water, the Pasco section is rushing potatoes to market. Several carloads are on the track here. Prices are ranging mostly around $1.15 per 50 lb. bag.

Surprising increase in local demand for celery continues with most excellent quality offered from Milwaukie and the Labish sections. Prices are held firm at the late advances.

Business Men Put Up Sum to Handle Berry Barrelling

SILVERTON, June 21.—Members of the Silverton chamber of commerce and Silverton businessmen have subscribed $3,800 for the barrelling of strawberries at the Silverton Food Product company. This move was taken to save the berries and to save money for the farmers.

Today—George Bancroft in "World and The Flesh."
Friday—George Grant in "Weekend Marriage".

THE GRAND
Today—Robert Armstrong in "Ex-Bad Boy."
Friday—Will Rogers in "Lightnin'".

THE HOLLYWOOD
Today—Clive Brook in "Husband's Holiday."
Friday—Walter Huston in "Law and Order."

A gusty adventure-story of the hectic days during the Russian revolution is the current vehicle for George Bancroft at the Elsinore theatre. Bristling with tense dramatic thrills, "The World and the Flesh" provides the ebullient Bancroft with his most sensational characterization since "The Mighty", according to preview critics.

Miriam Hopkins, blonde favorite of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde", "The Smiling Lieutenant" and "Dancers in the Dark", heads the supporting cast which includes Alan Mowbray, George E. Stone, Mitchell Lewis, Oscar Apfel and Reginald Barlow.

Family life—its joys and disappointments, its excitements, its human drama, its laughing hours—all these are presented with facile directorial touches and skillful artistic strength in "Husband's Holiday", the Paramount talkie featuring Clive Brook, Charlie Ruggles, Vivienne Osborne and Harry Bannister at the Hollywood today.

Tomorrow marks the opening of Universal's hilarious screen comedy "Ex-Bad Boy", at the Grand today, with a cast headed by droll Robert Armstrong and the beautiful Jean Arthur.
