Boyer Receives Claim—Copy of a claim sent by the federal reserve bank to State Banking Superintendent Schramm for $564.75 against the Bank of Stayton has been received by County Clerk Boyer. The matter probably will be turned over to Schramm since the Stayton bank is not in process of liquidation as far as court records show. The federal reserve bank claims it is owed the amount in question as a collecting bank for its member banks.

Picnic Date Set—The annual Salem day picnic in Portland will be held next Saturday, June 25, in Laurelhurst park. The program starts at 3:30 p. m. and the supper will begin at 5 p. m. The date was erroneously announced locally due to improper information received from Portland. James W. Crawford, former Salem attorney, is president of the Salem group in Portland. A number of local people are planning to attend.

Stateism subscribers have been paid $378.93 in claims on their $1 Accident Insurance Policies.*

Zehner's Answer—Answer was filed in circuit court yesterday by John and Winnifred Zehner, defendants in a suit recently brought by Herman Fresia. The defendants claim they were hampered in the execution of their contract by Fresia. They ask that they be awarded a refund of $9167 instead of assessed $8548 as Fresia asks. To his claim they add $500 for work done on the property as an additional counter-claim.

Banks Decrease—State banks have been reduced from 152 in the state five years ago to 93 now, reveal figures secured yesterday from the state banking department. Much of the reduction has come through merger of the institutions with another bank in the community. The majority of the banks closed for liquidation have had $25,000 or less in invested capital.

Building Is Better—Activity in the building this week is greatly improved over last. Nine permits have been issued for work costing $2344, in contrast with but eight permits for jobs costing $904 for all of last week. John Wickstrom has taken out a permit to erect a dwelling at 1536 South 22nd street at cost of $1500.

Revocation Denied—The state corporation commissioner has no authority to revoke the certificate of incorporation issued March 4, 1932, to the Port Orford chamber of commerce, nor to compel the corporation to change its name, amend its articles or to abandon its purposes, Attorney General Van Winkle held in an opinion Wednesday. A protest filed with the corporation department by George Soranson charged that the incorporators of the Port Orford chamber of commerce had purposed the same and purposes of a similar organization which had been in operation there for many years. The latter organization was unincorporated.

DUPREE POE QUEST ANSWERS RECEIVED

French Criminology Service Sends Polite Note to City Police Here

The "law" is still seeking the trail of Dupree Poe, alias Dupree Buck, believed to be one of the men who a year ago last May murdered Night Patrolman Iverson of Silverton. Inquiries have been sent out to many foreign countries and answers are gradually being received from criminology investigation bureaus everywhere.

One of these answers was received yesterday by city police, from the Director of Criminologic Service, French republic. City police called in assistance to translate the communication, written in French, and displaying the French polite diction.

The form letter read as follows: "(From) Republique Hellenique, Minister of Interior, Director of Criminologic Service, June 3, 1932."

"(To) Bureau of Investigation, Salem, Oregon. 'Mr. Director: In response to your letter of the 26th, I have the honor of informing you that in our collection we have not found finger prints corresponding to those which you sent us, and belonging to one named Dupree Poe or Dupree Buck sought by you for various motives.

"The name mentioned does not appear in our alphabetical collection either."

"Please let me know, in due time, the result of the action eventually taken by you against the suspect."

"Please have the assurance, Mr. Director, of my highest consideration."

"By order of the Minister, 'The Director, 'GARDUUY'."

Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's state government

WE'VE listened all day for some one around the statehouse to agree with the big fight decision Tuesday, but so far in vain. Even parties with money on Sharkey said they felt like backing up when they collected it. Some go as far as to state it was the "rankest" decision ever given in a fight.

In fact this was about all that could be talked about in the various offices all day long. This gives them something else to think about instead of the salary cut which is due very soon. In fact the committee on wage reductions is expected to report the first of next week to the board of control.

Quite a number of state officials have announced plans to attend the annual national guard review at Camp Clatsop Saturday. The governor will be there, his secretary, Charles P. Gray, Charles Thomas, Charles Howard, and many others including of course the rest of the Charles's around the capitol.

The statehouse will undoubtedly look deserted for the half day Saturday, but naturally since the scene of action will be on the beach below Astoria. Jerry Owen, Wayne Pettit, the remainder of the staff of the national guard headquarters here and many Salem citizens will leave Friday night or Saturday for the big show.

Governor Julius L. Meier left yesterday afternoon for Portland where he said he had conferences and appointments on state business every Friday night or Saturday until he goes to review General White's army. The governor hopes to go to Astoria in the morning.

CITIZENS MEETING UP WITH NEW TAX

Most noticeable of new taxes which went into effect here Tuesday was the two-cent charge against bank checks issued. Salem's three banks had previously adopted uniform accounting systems for applying the tax which will not be noticed by depositors until the month's end statements are in. Then two-cent charge will be listed against each check drawn, the amount being added daily to each debit item made against the depositor's account.

The manufacturer's excise taxes went into effect yesterday but in many lines they will not be passed along to the consumer until the merchant's stock of non-taxed goods is exhausted. This does not apply to gasoline, however, where a one-cent increase was effective at 12:10 a. m. Tuesday.

Local banks yesterday arranged for non-negotiable withdrawals which will not be subject to tax. These are used only in the banking house where a customer withdraws cash and gives the bank an order to charge the withdrawal to his account.

THEATRE MATINEE PROBLEM STUDIED

Mrs. Mark McCallister is calling a meeting of the motion picture committee composed of members of women's organizations of the city and various churches, at her home this afternoon.

The matter for special discussion will be concerning matinee attendance of the Mickey Mouse club. Manager James Carey of Warner Bros. Elinore has cooperated with the committee in placing only shows of correct theme for children on the Mickey Mouse programs, but many parents are allowing their children to remain over for the adult show on Saturday afternoons and thus the children are viewing the show intended for themselves and also the one intended for the adult audience which follows the Mickey Mouse show.

This matter will be submitted for discussion and some plan to handle the situation satisfactorily will be attempted.

his big boat and take with him a party of friends.

The state highway officials left early yesterday for Portland to attend the preliminary meeting of the commission late yesterday. The big session will be held there today in the Portland hotel, but the matter of the Fourth street project was again up for consideration last night.

Unemployment will also be an important matter for the highway commission, and it is expected the governor will have several matters for action by the commission. Seventeen road projects will be awarded as well as hearing demands of many delegations. The calendar for the commission looked plenty full.

Jerry Owen had a new gray suit initiated for him the other day. No sooner did he arrive at the office in his new outfit than someone came in and greeted him cordially. The suit was alright, but in reaching across the desk to shake hands they struck a fountain pen filled with green ink and hurled it into the air. The spray did the rest.

The column has an apology to make. Last week it announced two Salem couples were entered in the bridge tournament in Portland and neither made high scores. This was wrong. The couples left before the scoring was computed but Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Huston learned since they were second high in their flight. The other couple's status, however, remained unchanged, near the bottom.

CREDIT GROUP TO PICNIC AT COAST

With a coast resort, Devil's lake, yesterday designated as the place for the second annual picnic of the Salem Retail Credit association, committees will get down to work at once to plan for an event that will set a high pace for future picnics.

At the regular weekly meeting yesterday, Philip Holmes, chairman of the general committee, reported Sunday, July 17, had been chosen as date for the outdoor event. There is some discussion that invitation be extended to McMinnville and Corvallis associations to attend the picnic, bringing together a large group of valley credit members and their families for the first time.

In selecting the coast point for the picnic, credit members pointed out that golf, ocean sports, boating on the lake could be included in the day's program, thus providing wider selection of activity for the picnickers.

Committees for the affair, selected by Mr. Holmes, Carolyn Hansen and E. W. Balderoe of the general committee, are: sports: Lee Schoettler, Carol Ford and Juanita D. Hald; eats: James M. Clark, Ralph Glover and May R. Seely; transportation: Fred Keiser, Laura Cheney and A. E. Robins; prizes: John Weisner, Kathryn Carthew and George Allen.

committee in charge is planning an entertaining evening to conclude the year's work for the club. At 8:30 a basket supper will be enjoyed. The club will supply coffee and ice cream and the members will bring their baskets of provisions. Boating, swimming, horseshoe pitching will be in order.

DIPHTHERIA CASE NOTED, SUBLIMITY

Another case of diphtheria was reported by the county health department yesterday, this of a 19-year-old Sublimity youth who had been working in berry fields in the Silver Creek falls district. He was given anti-toxin treatment at the health center and placed in isolation.

No danger of spread of the disease by the boy is foreseen by Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, county health officer. All persons with whom the youth was in contact were tested and showed negative cultures to the disease.

The Salem man recently suffering from the disease has completely recovered. Two children, however, are still in quarantine.

MARINE RESERVES BEING RECRUITED

Five Salem young men have enlisted in the U. S. Marine reserve corps and many more are preparing to do so, Sergeant Mack Sherman, local officer in charge of recruiting, reported yesterday. Hollis W. Huntington, Salem high school athletic coach and an ex-marine lieutenant, is assisting with the reserve recruiting.

Newly enlisted are: Loren W. Simpkins, 238 West Miller street; Melvin Hickman, 1830 1/2 South 13th street; James F. Reidy, 1345 North Liberty street; Leslie W. Whittington, 944 North Cottage street, and Leland B. George, 1635 Hoyt street.

Sergeant Sherman advises that enlistments be made before next Tuesday when Captain E. B. Moore of Portland, officer in charge of marine recruiting in the northwest, will be in Salem. Reserve corps members of the class now being enlisted are required to enter active service only in case of national emergency. They must be between the ages of 18 and 35 and able to pass a thorough physical examination.
