ECONOMY MOVE HELD CAUSE OF SIAM'S REVOLT

Army Opposition to King's Action Removing Some Hospitals Cited

Constitutional Monarchy is Expected, Prajadhipok May Retain Throne

PARIS, June 24.—(AP)—The revolt in Siam was caused by sweeping economy ministers put into effect during the last week by King Prajadhipok, the newspaper Le Matin will say tomorrow.

Numerous functionaries and officers of the army were dismissed because of this economy program, according to the newspaper account.

The king recently convoked a meeting of officers in an attempt to justify the drastic cuts but failed to placate them, with the result that a revolutionary conspiracy developed.

Information reaching Paris was that a "pro-republic party" had been formed to carry out the movement.

BANGKOK, Siam, June 24.—(AP)—One of the world's few remaining absolute monarchies topped today when the army and navy of this picturesque land suddenly revolted and set up a "constitutional monarchy."

The coup was almost bloodless. The army chief of staff was believed shot to death by his own men when he resisted their demands for surrender.

Most of the royal family was captured by the soldiers and sailors who invaded the principal royal palace. Several government officials and cabinet ministers were also taken.

The navy commanders ordered a warship to bring back as prisoners King Prajadhipok and his consort from Huahin, where they were spending a royal holiday.

High officials are imprisoned in their quarters there.

The capital was taken completely by surprise when the uniformed lines poured into the city and in army tanks. Many had machine guns. They marched on the palace and took over control, imprisoning designated high personages in their quarters there.

The army and navy leaders announced they intended to deliver the country from the government of princes.

Later some of the prisoners were reported to have been released, but other high officials and princes were still held prisoners in one of the royal palaces by troops.

Dispatches relayed through Paris and Berlin indicated in some reports from direct word from Bangkok. These advices said the king and queen had been captured, and the military were carried about the city on the shoulders of the cheering citizens.

The announcement of the military chiefs appeared susceptible to the interpretation that perhaps Prajadhipok would be allowed to stay if he granted a constitution.

The king is responsible to no one under present law, and his advisers initiated the idea of selecting advisors in the cabinet and privy council.

While in the United States for an operation on his eye last year, the king told interviewers he intended to set up a constitutional monarchy when his country was ready for it.

'Kidnaping' Just Case of Parking Place Forgotten

PORTLAND, Ore., June 24.—(AP)—W. R. Boher, of Portland, left his automobile parked on a downtown street here today, and when he returned to the place he was sure he had left it, the automobile was gone.

Not only that, but his two sons, aged 3 and 9, left in the parked car, had also disappeared.

Boher frantically called police and informed them of the kidnaping and theft. Police radio cars were sent into action.

A few minutes later police found the car at another location than that Boher reported, but the location where it had been parked all the time. The two lads were weary from the long wait for their father.

Leskovar Given Sixty Day Term, Battery Charge

DALLAS, June 24.—John Leskovar of Dallas was sentenced to serve 60 days in the county jail this afternoon by Justice of the Peace Gregory. Leskovar was arrested last night on a charge of assault and battery and was given a hearing late this afternoon at which time the sentence was imposed. He began serving his sentence immediately.

L. L. Johnson of Portland, recently arrested on a charge of child stealing, was bound over to the grand jury for investigation.

Parade Main Feature Of Build Salem Day; Big Crowd Expected

Continuation of Bargain Day is Additional Attraction; Procession to Start 11 a. m.; Farmers' Conference

BUILD SALEM DAY, the idea of members of Salem chapter, Oregon Building congress, will materialize today with a huge parade, a building-conference for farmers, awarding of prizes, and a second Bargain day thrown in. Having publicized the event over the radio, in the press and through other congress chapters, the builders are hoping their program will attract many persons downtown.

DEDICATE NEW UNIT OF HOSPITAL TODAY

Former Tubercular Patients Return for Reunion; Officials Speak

Veterans in the fight against tuberculosis will gather at the dedication ceremony to be held at the state sanatorium near here this afternoon to dedicate the new modern hospital unit recently completed there.

Local physicians, nurses, health association officers and friends and the general public are cordially invited to attend, according to word received here today from Mrs. Saldie Orr Dunbar, executive secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis association, which has been taking charge of plans at the request of Dr. G. C. Bellinger, sanatorium superintendent.

Among those on the program will be Dr. E. A. Pierce, one of two living members of the original commission appointed by the late Governor Benson to establish and supervise the first hospital, which was erected on the site of the old state school for deaf-mutes in 1910.

Dr. H. J. Clements, Salem physician and first superintendent of the sanatorium, will speak at the dedication, as will a member of the state board of control, Mrs. Dunbar, and others.

The program will begin at three o'clock with music furnished by a group of Salem musicians, who will conclude with a tour of the grounds.

DECISION DELAYED ON VOTE CONTEST

Final decision on a possible contest of the May 20 vote on the republican nomination for the first congressional district was expected today as Congressman W. C. Hawley and Ronald C. Glover, his opponent, together determined their course of action. In Portland yesterday conferences were held by Mr. Hawley with friends from various counties where balloting irregularities were reported.

While both Hawley and Glover are assured there have been mistakes made in various precincts, they have no assurance sufficient errors have been made to change the 239 vote lead James W. Mott now has to a lead for Hawley.

One principal difficulty if a contest was decided upon would be the necessity of Mr. Hawley's being in Oregon as plaintiff in the contest action which would be filed in the circuit court or courts where protests were made. His presence is needed in Washington now, his advisors feel.

It is also indicated a contest was likely, through an error in reporting. The probability then and yesterday was that there would be no legal action taken by Mr. Hawley or his manager.

Watchman Shoots Farmer

JUST FOR FOURTH
BEND, June 24.—(AP)—Wooden money, made from pine trees which started growing in the Deschutes country before Columbus discovered America, will be legal tender in Bend until the July 4 holidays, and will be redeemable in currency.

The new medium of exchange, called Ponderosa Pine script, was placed in circulation today.

Every cent of the script will be backed by money placed in a local bank. The wood script is the size of regulation currency and was issued by the American Legion post, in charge of Bend's Fourth of July celebration.

C. D. FAULKNER DIES
LEBANON, June 24.—(AP)—Chester D. Faulkner of Lebanon died last night from injuries sustained when his loaded logging truck collided with another truck and he was thrown beneath the logs.

He is survived by his widow and two children.

MILTON MILLER GETS APPLAUSE IN SILVER PLEA

Colorful Oregon Delegate is Heard in Resolutions Committee Meet

Roosevelt Forces Control Platform Writers; to Draft Repeal Plank

By LESLIE J. SMITH
CHICAGO, June 24.—(AP)—Oswald West's proxy as national committeeman was transferred today to Joseph K. Carson by James Farley. Carson had wired West asking him to authorize the appointment.

Milton A. Miller, of the Oregon delegation, advocating dissolution of tariff walls, coinage of silver and facilitation of foreign commerce as steps toward business improvement, was lauded in the resolutions committee session today.

Miller, in white striped vest, dark coat and white trousers, pleaded the historical Bryan case. He told the committee that the gold standard has failed; that particularly the Pacific coast must deal with countries using the silver standard.

Carson May Run For Mayor, States
Press today that he may run for mayor of Portland in the November election. A pronounced wet, he promised to eliminate all graft and effect administration economies.

Carson also said that if the democrats straddle the liquor question, he will bring out a minority report for adoption of the Bingham plank, verbatim.

MACPHERSON SAYS MERGER IDEA GOOD

Monmouth Only Town Hurt He Tells City Club; Petitions Signed

PORTLAND, Ore., June 24.—(AP)—An address in favor of the proposed measure for consolidating the University of Oregon and Oregon State college on one campus at Corvallis was delivered before the City club here today by Hector Macpherson, Linn county farmer, legislator and ex-Oregon State professor.

Dr. Macpherson asserted the consolidation would save the taxpayers $50,000 annually; that the establishment of a first class normal school at Eugene would mean better high school and grade school teachers; that it would give the state one football team to boost; that it would prevent the log rolling and fights in the press between the two larger institutions; that the only town hurt in the least by the move would be Monmouth.

ALBANY, Ore., June 24.—(AP)—Eight petitions bearing 229 signatures on the proposed measure consolidating Oregon institutions of higher learning were filed here today. Thirteen petitions have now been filed at Albany.

Berry Workers Wanted Though Shortage Ended

While the labor shortage resulting from picking Etterburg and Marshall strawberries is at an end, demands for berry workers are still being received at the U. S.-Y. M. C. A. Employment bureau. Transportation to the fields is generally offered.

For the first time in several days, calls were received for woodcutters. Five men were sent to work. Likewise, two men were sent out to work in hay fields. Altogether yesterday, 82 persons were provided jobs through the employment service.

Shear was stricken with cramps yesterday as he was swimming in the Willamette river. Hughes plunged in with his clothes on and brought the stricken lad to shore, where he was revived after considerable effort.

CLAIMS SELF DEFENSE HOOD RIVER, June 24.—(AP)—Elmer Annaia, rancher, was shot last night by William Brehm, elderly watchman at the American Fruit Growers warehouse at Lenz station.

Follics said they were informed Annaia attacked Brehm, knocking him to the floor, and that Brehm shot in self defense. Hospital authorities here who examined Annaia said his condition was critical.

CATTLE RUSTLERS BUSY KLAMATH FALLS, June 24.—(AP)—Word reached here today that cattle rustlers have been active in Lake county. Fifty head of beef cattle from the Chandler & Son herd were among the missing.

An investigation of the rustling today brought State Veterinarian E. H. Lytle to Klamath Falls.

Will Nominate F. D. Roosevelt

Friend of 25 years' standing, former Justice John E. Mack (above), of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., will place the name of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt in nomination for the Presidency at the Democratic national convention, opening at Chicago, June 27. It was Justice Mack who sponsored Governor Roosevelt for the first political office he ever held in 1910.

METHODISTS RALLY TO PROH DEFENSE
Lockenour Vice-President Of Laymen Association; Marcy, Fouke Chosen

PORTLAND, Ore., June 24.—(AP)—The Oregon Conference Laymen's association, meeting in conjunction with the Oregon conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here today, voted to sponsor a movement to rally Methodist forces of the state for support of the 18th amendment and another resolution to pledge support of the 18th amendment and another resolution to organize church members to vote dry in the November election.

R. E. Close, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in Oregon, declared at the meeting that less than 50 per cent of church people have been voting.

The conference of laymen re-elected Ernest W. Peterson, Portland newspaperman, president. Other officers follow: Roy Lockenour, Salem; Ralph Speelman, Portland, and Clyde Umphrey, Cottage Grove, vice presidents; John L. Gary, West Linn, secretary; James E. Kelly, Portland, treasurer.

The laymen authorized a commission to meet with a similar commission of clergy to work out procedure.

To the clergy commission, Bishop Titus Lowe appointed Rev. M. A. Marcy, Salem; Rev. Fred Taylor, Astoria; Rev. Hugh B. Fouke, Salem; Rev. Thomas Hardy and Rev. James E. Milligan.

Stannard Again Named Head of Linn's Pioneers

BROWNSVILLE, Ore., June 24.—(AP)—H. Wayne Stannard was re-elected president of the Linn County Pioneers association at the closing session of the annual reunion here today.

Other officers, all re-elected, are: Willard L. Marks, vice-president; R. D. Coshov, secretary; H. C. Farnham, treasurer; J. W. Craig, chaplain.

Salem Chamber Quartet Heard, Hoot Owl Hour

Appearing for the first time on the Hoot Owl program over radio station KGW, the Salem chamber of commerce quartet gained a big hand from the studio audience, local listeners reported. The quartet appeared on the program to advertise today's Build Salem program.

Members of the quartet are Dr. L. E. Barriok, Newell Williams, Howard Leech and John Morris. They were invited to appear on another Hoot Owl program at a later date.

Slight Damage Done by Blaze

Starting from hot ashes left in a gutter near the corner of the home of Mrs. Annie M. Hughes, 833 Jervis avenue, at 11:15 o'clock last night, slight damage was done by the flames but the house was badly smoked up.

Railway Service Made Difficult By Caterpillars

EUGENE, Ore., June 24.—(AP)—A column of caterpillars from 1000 to 1200 feet across has been making the going hard for Southern Pacific trains at Pryor, Ore., for several days.

The train service has not been delayed, but trainmen have been forced to use an unusually large quantity of sand because of the slippery condition of the rails.

Caterpillars have not been reported in such large numbers in this district for several years. Pryor is five miles above Oakridge.

TAMMANY WILL HOLD FORT FOR 2-THIRDS RULE

But is not Committed for Or Against Roosevelt Leaders Declare

Hall Just Wants to Retain Dominant Position; no Hints on Support

CHICAGO, June 24.—(AP)—Steadfastly opposing changing the two-thirds rule, Tammany Hall tonight still maintained neutrality in the biggest issue before the convention—choice of the 1932 nominee.

The almost instant response from the Tammany tiger to the demand by followers of Franklin D. Roosevelt for a rule that would permit a majority of the convention to name the presidential candidate was an explosive roar of protest.

With it, however, went emphatic insistence this did not preclude in any way the position Tammany will take when the roll call of states on the nomination begins.

News that the Roosevelt men intended to make the two-thirds rule history, was followed by a series of conferences by John F. Curry, chairman of the powerful New York city organization with its lieutenants.

Still Reticent On Candidate Choice
Soon word came from behind closed doors of his hotel quarters that he would "fight to the last ditch" against the proposal.

This declaration was generally interpreted as meaning Curry would throw all his strength into the controversy in order to maintain a dominant position in the convention.

TROUBLE IN BONUS ARMY THREATENED

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(AP)—All policemen in Washington were ordered tonight by Peigham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, to hold themselves in readiness for duty in case of disturbances among the bonus army, but the instructions later were canceled.

Early in the evening men off duty were required to contact their precincts each half hour in case of need. As no signs of trouble developed among the approximately 20,000 men encamped here demanding payment of the soldiers' bonus, the close watch of police was relieved.

Glassford had feared increased friction between factions might lead to internal trouble.

Officials said dissatisfaction among certain groups within the leadership of the army of approximately 30,000 seeking payment of the soldiers' bonus had brought growing discord in the last few days. Minority groups have talked of forcibly overthrowing the dominance of W. W. Waters of Portland, Ore., commander-in-chief of the veterans.

Woman Injured By Police Dogs

PORTLAND, Ore., June 24.—(AP)—Mrs. A. M. Young, 32, of Portland, was treated at a Portland hospital today for a fractured hip, sustained in what police described as an odd accident.

Two large police dogs, dashing down the street at top speed, struck Mrs. Young, knocking her down.

Women of Church Lauded At Eucharistic Congress

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, June 24.—(AP)—Irish women, who have sent forth many sons to serve the Catholic church and women from many parts of the world, assembled more than 100,000 strong tonight before the eucharistic congress altar in Phoenix park and heard themselves praised for their religious sacrifices.

Speaking from a tiny white pulpit, the most Rev. Andrew Feeney, archbishop of St. Andrew and Edinburgh, told them the "destiny of the human race lies largely in the hands of women."

Citing the pope's recent encyclical concerning the spread of the forces of anti-religion, the archbishop assured his hearers "evil is not cast out except by prayer and penance."

Monarchy Restoration In Germany Heralded; Various Signs Appear

Secret Parleys With Former Kaiser in Holland Cited

Hohenzollern's Denial Made but Family's Stock is Rising

LONDON, June 24.—(AP)—The Daily Herald today said conferences have been going on in secret for a week among the former Kaiser, German bankers and monarchist politicians with a view to possible restoration of the Hohenzollerns.

The dispatch, dated Amsterdam, added the former crown prince had made his first visit to Holland in seven years to attend one of the conferences at Zandvoort, Holland, where the former Kaiser is spending a short vacation.

"With the arrival of the former crown prince, the gathering was complete for hearing reports on the situation in Germany and developments in the monarchist movement," the Herald said. "The private talks between the bankers and politicians and secret emissaries continued until late last night."

BERLIN, June 24.—(AP)—Although the Hohenzollern family issued its customary denial of plans to restore the former Kaiser today, there was a great deal of evidence his family stock is on the rise in Germany.

The former monarch's sons appear regularly in parades and demonstrations by war veterans, where they usually review troops beside officials of the former soldiers' organizations.

Der Arbeiter, Berlin monarchist organ, currently expressed the opinion that, following upon the downfall of the Brüning cabinet, the "monarchy is the necessary final goal."

The left radical paper, Berlin An den Morgen, the Bavarian national socialist, and reichstager, visited the former Kaiser at Doorn recently to discuss the possibility of his return to the throne.

PRIZE WINNERS IN CONTEST SELECTED

Varying Opinions on Place Woman Should Hold are Noted in Answers

Opinion among women is by no means in accord on the question: "Should women work after they have been married?" according to the answers received by The Statesman to this question. Letters written by a number of readers to the "Inquiring Reporter" contest showed a majority of women firm in the opinion that the home is the proper and only place for a woman unless her husband is physically unable to work or for the moment, absolutely unable to find a job.

However a considerable number of answers gave the viewpoint that women should work away (Turn to page 2, col. 2)

TILLAMOOK BANKS WILL MERGE SOON

TILLAMOOK, Ore., June 24.—(AP)—W. J. Reichers, president of the First National bank, and H. H. Rosenberg, president of the Tillamook National bank, tonight authorized a statement that the two banks will be merged July 1 under the name of the First National bank.

Their authorized statement read in part: "The directors of both banks have had this matter under consideration for some time, the object being to make a saving in overhead and operating costs, many of which are now being duplicated. Furthermore, general business conditions at the present time demand larger and stronger banks, and it is with these objects in view that the merger has been approved by the directors of the two institutions."

Plans Complete For Celebration

"We could put on the July 4 celebration tomorrow if we had to," General Chairman J. T. Delaney reported following the celebration committee meeting last night. Plans for all features of the day were checked over without any changes being made.

To pass on contracts for the celebration, the advisory committee will meet with Delaney at his office Monday night.

Possession of Liquor Charged

Jack Woods, 19, and Lyle Johnson, 26, made a mistake early yesterday when they inquired of state policemen the location of the highway leading from Salem to Woodburn. The officers searched their truck and found a quantity of liquor.

Both men were arrested on charges of transporting liquor illegally on foot.
