CHISELING DELAYS ADVANCE OF EGGS

Young Berries Appear on Market; Fruits are Generally Quiet

PORTLAND, June 24.—(AP)—Increasing strength in the egg trade here is held back to some degree by the continued underselling of the established price list by so-called independent producers selling direct to retail stores that make a specialty of price cutting and selling at cost of loss.

There was no further change in the selling price on eggs for the day while buying values here in general kept pace, or even slightly better, than the increase in sales.

Receipts of butter from points outside of Portland have been extremely heavy during the last few days while liberal production has been shown in centralizing plants. Here and there the market appears easy for cubes.

Quiet trading situation is reflected in the market for live chickens. Prices are still down in the collar and especially so for lightweight hens and broilers.

All through the market for country killed meats, steady prices and trade conditions are reflected.

First Young berries, a cross between the loganberry and the blackberry, have been received. The initial shipment consisted of two one-half crates. They were sold at $1 half crate.

Almost general dullness is reflected in the market for berries. Strawberries are moving slowly and at various prices, loganberries are dragging with increased supplies while raspberries are lower and only a slow movement.

Prices continue to seek a lower level in the tomato market. This applies to outdoor stock from the south as well as for local hot-house offerings.

Vernonia Bank Fails to Open

The bank of Vernonia failed to open its doors for business Friday morning and was placed in the hands of the state superintendent of banks for liquidation.

The bank was chartered in 1920 and had a capital stock of $25,000. Deposits aggregated approximately $131,000. H. E. McGraw was president of the institution.

90 Days for Forest—Edward Forest, tried in justice court yesterday for larceny of fishing equipment, was found guilty and sentenced to 90 days in the county jail.

Under the Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's state government

THE capitol building will be virtually deserted today. Most of the state officials will be at Camp Clatsop to watch the annual national guard review and to witness the big battle staged by General White and his army. It is a sight worth seeing. But some of us have to stay here and run the state.

Promise of a radio for the capitol news room has been made, to be installed Monday in time for the big national democratic convention in Chicago, which starts off with the week. Voting on candidates will hold lots of interest as the 1154 votes are cast. The two-thirds rule makes it necessary to have 770 for the nomination.

In order to secure the democratic nomination for the presidency, a candidate must secure every vote from the 20 largest states in the union. The votes range from 10 in the smaller states and portions of 24 in New York. Oregon casts 10 votes at the democratic convention.

The next meeting of the state highway commission will be held in Salem Friday, as which time consideration of log hauling will be given. The commission adjourned Thursday night after two days of almost continuous meetings in Portland. And at times these meetings were rather warm from the standpoint of talk.

The finest place for holding highway meetings so far is the Portland hotel, where the last two meetings have been held. Not only is the big meeting arranged there, but the smaller ones, like the one on log haulage, are held there. It is in the center of business and is more than convenient for the commissioners and department officials.

Not only does the hotel management provide these rooms without charge, but it furnishes extra desks and tables, even press accommodations, page service, water for the commissioners, and believe it or not, paper and pencils are presented newspaper men. The place is the most comfortable yet encountered.

There are rumors current in Portland that a moratorium on automobile licenses will be declared by the governor for one month. A lot of pressure, both personal and public, is being brought upon the executive for a 30-day stay. Although he had previously indicated there would be no moratorium, no definite statement has been issued by Gov. Meier.

SILVERTON WOMEN REPORT ON CONFAB

Products From Oregon Make Good Showing at National Gathering

SILVERTON, June 24.—Interesting reports of the national meeting of Federated Women's clubs held last week at Seattle were given Thursday afternoon at a called meeting of the Silverton Women's club held at the home of Mrs. V. B. Bentzen, who serves as Oregon Products chairman of the Oregon federation.

Mrs. Bentzen and Mrs. J. E. Hosmer, president of the Silverton club, were both representatives at the Seattle convention. Both women spoke at Thursday's meeting.

"Things from Silverton made quite a showing," Mrs. Bentzen said, in referring to the Oregon products dinner held at Seattle June 12. Among the things from Silverton at the time of the dinner were sweater sticks from the Winlock broom handle factory, fast-cooking toasted wheat and paper napkins from Fischer's flouring mill, and envelopes showing pictures of the Silver Creek falls. One of the envelopes was placed at each cover. Other Oregon products which Mrs. Bentzen particularly commented upon were the finger towels from the Salem linen mills, and the Oregon Club-woman, the official organ of the Oregon federation, which showed pictures of Silver Creek falls.

At the meeting Thursday the club women sang a group of club songs led by Mrs. Bentzen and accompanied at the piano by Mrs. F. M. Powell.

Special visitors were Mrs. C. A. Austin of Woodburn, Mrs. Albert Burch of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Sara B. Hull, member of the Monday St. Louis Women's club at St. Louis, Mo.

Pouring at the tea hour was Mrs. W. R. Tomlinson, while Mrs. A. O. Nelson cut ice and Mrs. Mahlon Hoblitt and Mrs. Lowell Hoblitt served.

WALLING AND RUBLE REUNIONS SUNDAY

LINCOLN, June 24.—The first hay baling to be done in this section was that on the Gus Lake farm Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Lake used his own outfit.

The 14th annual reunion of the descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Walling, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Walling and Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Walling, pioneers of Oregon will be held Sunday, June 26 at the rural home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Walling of Lincoln. Nearly 80 members of the families were present at the reunion held last year, some coming from as far as Idaho, Minneapolis, Phoenix, Arizona and other distant points. A picnic dinner under the oak trees and a program will be features of the day.

CHARLES W. REED DIES; IS PIONEER

Charles W. Reed, native of Marion county, and member of a pioneer family, died at the family home in the Hayesville district Thursday night. He was 51 years old. He had been in ill health for the past year.

Charles Reed was born at Marion, in this county, and had spent all his life in and around Salem. He worked for a number of years as upholsterer in various furniture stores in Salem.

Besides the widow, Pearl, he leaves two sons, Ernel and Gerald, both of Salem, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary James of San Diego and Mrs. A. Adkinson of Spokane.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Clough Barrick chapel, with Rev. Hugh B. Fouke, Jr., officiating. Interment will be in Cityview cemetery.

Mr. Reed was a member of the W. O. W. lodge in Salem.

Jarman Building Opening Will be Late Next Week

Late next week probably will be the opening time for the store in the new Jarman building on South Commercial street, it was learned yesterday. Installation of fixtures will be nearly finished today.

Briefs Asked in City Water Suit

Briefs have been called by Judge L. G. Lewelling from both sides in the city of Salem-Oregon-Washington Water Service controversy on the $2,500,000 bond issue. The defense argued its demurrer in court Thursday, W. H. Trindle replying for the city. The defense has 10 days to file its brief, the city has 10 days to answer and the defense then has five days to reply. If the demurrer is then turned down, attorneys for the defense have announced a general answer will be filed to the city's complaint.
