

Testimony Much Varied so Judge Will Take Look

Testimony, even of two disinterested witnesses, was so diametrically opposed in a damage action on in justice court yesterday, that Justice of the Peace Miller Hayden will take a look at marks on cars involved in the accident before he hands down a decision on the case. The suit, for $175 general damages and $25 specific damages for loss or use of the car, was brought by E. Howard against O. M. Rowe. Action is result of an automobile collision here April 12, in which plaintiff's car was driven by her agent, E. M. Emsden. Plaintiff alleges defendant's carelessness was cause of the collision.

McGILCHRIST FETED BY ROTARIANS HERE

New District President is Welcomed Home; Given Ovation, Seattle

Wednesday was homecoming day at Rotary club for William McGilchrist, Jr., who was elected president of Rotary district No. 1 at the international convention in Seattle last week. "Bill" was given a rousing ovation as he was introduced by Fred Talsness. The honor is one of the highest in Rotary. The term is for a year and the incumbent must visit during the year all the clubs of the district, numbering over a hundred. He is responsible for the program of work carried on in this district through the year. "Bill" has been a leader in the Salem Rotary club for many years and served as president. He gave a talk outlining his experiences at Victoria and Seattle and the nature of the task which Rotarians should undertake in promoting idealism among men and nations. At the district banquet in Seattle, returning Rotarians reported, which was held in the Eagles' hall, one of the largest meeting places there, with 1800 present, when the time came to introduce the new district president, an ail was made through the tables and "Bill" was marched down the length of hall behind a lone Scotch bagpiper and introduced as the finest Scotchman in district No. 1. Wednesday's meeting closed with the service of President E. M. Page and he was awarded the past president's pin by Dr. R. E. L. Steiner. W. L. Phillips was introduced as the new president. The club voted to invite the conference of presidents and secretaries for the district to meet here August 8-9.

Jersey tour has good attendance. About 30 members of the Marion county Jersey Cattle club attended the tour held yesterday to visit Jersey herds in the southern part of the county. Victor Madison of Silverton, president, reported here late in the day. Farms visited during the morning included those of A. C. White at Jefferson, Ovid Pickard, Warren Gray and Stanley Riches, all in the Marion area. The group enjoyed lunch at the Stanley Riches place. In the afternoon, herds owned by Wallace Riches, L. D. Roberts and J. R. Davis came in for visitation and admiration. Madison reported all herds were found in excellent shape and the owners not too discouraged by present conditions. The tour is the last activity of the Jersey group until August, when a meeting will be held to make arrangements for showings at the state fair.

Eddie Lewis is Visitor; Heads Theatre Chain. "Eddie" Lewis is among the vacationers to spend some time in Salem. He is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lewis. Young Lewis is well known in Salem, where he was connected with the show business for several years, first with Frank Bligh, as house manager at the old Oregon, later at the Capitol and during several summers publicity man for Browning Bros. Lewis is now general manager for J. G. Roy, independent theatres in Eugene and Corvallis. He makes his headquarters in Eugene.

BENNETT PROPOSES TAX SCRIP SCHEME

Issuance of scrip by the various counties in Oregon in an amount equal to their tax delinquencies, and payment of this scrip to persons employed under any emergency relief program that may be adopted, was proposed here Wednesday by Senator J. E. Bennett of Multnomah county. Bennett said he would place his plan before Governor Meier's state-wide relief committee. Bennett declared that under his proposal it would not be necessary to issue bonds with the result that the state and counties would save interest payments aggregating many thousands of dollars and at the same time avoid the possibility of being compelled to sell the securities at a heavy financial sacrifice. "Under my proposal," Bennett said, "the scrip would be legal tender, and could be used in the purchase of commodities the same as money. It would be redeemed by the counties only for the payment of delinquent taxes. This would necessitate the scrip eventually passing into the hands of persons indebted to the counties for delinquent taxes, as it would not be redeemable for the payment of current or future tax obligations." Bennett said his proposal would put several millions of dollars of "new money" in circulation, and increase materially the purchasing power of the wage earner. He declared his plan would provide for the payment of a living wage.

The IDEAL SUMMER LAXATIVE

So many people want the beneficial, non-habit-forming laxative effect of mineral oil but object to heavy oils for summer use. Agarex is a creamy emulsion that is actually delicious. And while it has the action of mineral oil it has no ill effects. No leakage—for the oil is in minute drops. Non-absorbent, so non-fattening.
