TIED AT NOON, DEFEATS DOLP

Johnny Shields Downs Joe Brown Easily, is Only Outside Threat

PORTLAND, June 30—(AP)—Steadily lightening his game this afternoon, Eddie Hogan, Portland, won his way to the semi-finals of the Pacific Northwest Amateur Golf association tournament by defeating Vincent Dolp, Portland, 3 and 2. The Portlanders all but matched stroke for stroke in the morning round, to finish all square at noon.

Johnny Shields, Seattle, Washington State champion, remained as the only out-of-state threat to gain the semi-finals. He downed Joe Brown, Portland, with ease, and 6. Shields was able to take the afternoon round easy, having amassed a six-hole lead in the morning 18.

Jones Enters First Match To get Auto Ride; Says He Started Dempsey in Fistic

By JIM NUTTER
Henry Jones of Provo, Utah, who will meet Robin Reed at the state fairgrounds Monday for the world's welterweight wrestling championship, is the man who first started Jack Dempsey in the fight game.

Jones and Dempsey went to the same school house in Provo, Utah.

"He was considered a coward by all the boys at school," Jones said. "He avoided getting in any fight and seemed to dodge all arguments and quarrels."

At that time Jones had a little gymnasium in Provo and Dempsey came there to train. When finally induced to put on the gloves, Dempsey knocked out his first two opponents. From the very first Dempsey started out as a mauler and continued in the same style of fighting.

Jones used to do some fighting himself, but gave it up for wrestling as he dreaded the thought of becoming "punch drunk." However as a fighter he didn't absorb much punishment as he was fast and clever.

"My first wrestling match was in 1911," stated Jones. "Jack Comdard was then wrestling coach at University of Utah and he offered me an automobile ride if I would go to another town and meet Del Stewart who was then inter-mountain amateur champion. Automobiles were scarce then and a ride in one was a rare treat," continued Jones.

When they reached the other town Jones had to wrestle another man before meeting Stewart. In his very first match he threw his opponent in 10 minutes and then stayed with the champion for 39 minutes before finishing him. Jones was out-weighted 10 pounds in that bout.

Jones was persuaded to attend University of Utah and wrestle there. With this collegiate background he turned professional in 1925. His first professional match was against the world's lightest champion, George McCloud. McCloud won by two straight falls which took two hours for execution and two to tie the competitive course record and beat a quartet of famous shot-makers to the top of the scoring list by exactly one shot.

Turning the tables, Olinger yesterday defeated their Lincoln rivals by a 10 to 5 score. The senior and junior series are now tied with each field victors in two games.

Mike Miller, Olinger's left shortstop, led his team mates by banging out two home runs and coming in later for a third run.

Young Sargent Leads Western Open Like Dad

CLEVELAND, O., June 30—(AP)—Alfred Sargent remembered all of his mountain golfing father's lessons at Canterbury today and responded with a record-equating 69 that shoved him ahead of a tightly bunched field in the opening 18-hole skirmish for the western open championship.

Banging magic iron shots dead to the pin, the 23-year-old Toledo son of George Sargent, national open title holder in 1909, toured the championship layout in 35-34 months later the pair wrestled a three-hour draw.

"In those days rough stuff didn't go, they really wrestled," said Jones. "But McCloud played me dirt. He bent both my elbows in and it was that which decided me for boxing."

Jones declares that the toughest match he ever had was against Robin Reed in Albany when the pair went to a two-hour draw. "I have wrestled longer bouts," said Jones shaking his head, "but that was the fastest and most gruelling I've ever had."

Henry never runs from an opponent and has taken on heavyweights as well as welters and lightweights. Once he wrestled 235 pound Alec Christopherson and won from him. He has also met such men as Ira Dean, Jack Sherry, Mike Yokel, Joe Turner and Billy Edwards.

Jones won the junior middleweight championship of the world in 1928 from Mike Collins and has held it off and on since then. Just last year he took it from Saeneo Achien in Eugene, but lost it soon afterward to Ray Lyons when he became injured.

Henry is now down to 143 pounds in weight and states he is in tip-top condition for the bout with Robin Reed. He did not meet such men as Ira Dean, Jack Sherry, Mike Yokel, Joe Turner and Billy Edwards.

CURT COMMENTS

Andy Peterson has time off from home run hitting and strikeout pitching in Tokyo to look around a bit. In his letter to friends here he mentions strolls about the streets of the Japanese metropolis, walks which he finds interesting and particularly at night, as the stores are all open and booths at the sidewalks offer almost everything imaginable for sale.

In the day time, a walk through Tokyo discloses boys and young men in playing baseball everywhere, in the streets and every vacant corner. That, he believes, explains the proficiency which Japanese teams have acquired in so short a time with the game—and the keen interest and practice along with an undoubted native talent for the game.

The Japanese pitchers have better control than any Andy has ever seen before, being able to cut the corners of the plate almost invariably. And that, he says, is necessary because the umpires never give the pitcher the benefit of any doubt.

Andy took a snapshot of the ball park in playing he has been playing; it's a monstrous affair, judging from the picture, and if he knocked a couple of homers over the fence, they must have done some traveling. The picture was taken while a game was in progress and there must have been thousands of people there, for bleachers spreading all the way around the outfield are well filled.

Charles F. Lappenbusch comes highly recommended to take over the athletic directorship at Albany college and appears to be qualified to direct all sports as he has participated in all of them though he specialized in football while in college.

And according to coaches with whom Lappenbusch has worked at U. of W., he is a great organizer and leader as well as an athlete with thorough knowledge of the game.

Lappenbusch announces he will use a shifting style of football for the backfield and a balanced line, and expects to work a lot on fundamentals this fall. Intercollegiate athletics apparently are not going to be completely submerged even if they are "de-emphasized" at Albany. The homecoming game will be with Columbia, October 29.

TIE FOR COAST LEAD RESUMED

Angels Score Nine Runs in One Inning, Beat Ducks; Hollywood Wins

LOS ANGELES, June 30—(AP)—While Los Angeles was piling up nine runs in one inning to win from Portland, 14 to 4, tonight, Hollywood was hammering Sacramento for a victory including a 10-run inning. And Portland dropped back into a tie with Hollywood for top position, yielding the league leadership she held for one day.

After Portland opened the game tonight with a three-run lead in the first inning, Ballou pitched great ball for the Angels, allowing the Ducks only two more tallies, one in the fourth and one in the eighth.

On the other hand, the Angels hammered Bill Shores off the mound in the fourth, after scoring six runs off him in that frame, then maltreated Peterson for three more before ending the inning's spree.

The series now stands two to one for Portland.

VINES AND MOODY WIN, WIMBLEDON

WIMBLEDON, England, June 30—(AP)—Ellsworth Vines, Jr., American champion, and H. W. "Bunny" Austin, England's first ranking player, today won their way to the finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships and on Saturday will play the first Anglo-American final in the 56 years of the tournament.

Vines defeated Jack Crawford, Australia's Davis cup star, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3, to win his final berth and Austin had an almost equally easy match with Jiro Satcho of Japan, 7-5, 6-2, 6-1.

Mrs. Helen Willis Moody defeated Mary Healey, Irish player, 6-2, 6-0, to make it an all-American final in women's singles. She will play Helen Jacobs, fellow Californian, in the final tomorrow.

Mrs. Moody felt slightly indisposed after her singles triumph and scratched with Vines from mixed doubles competition. Elizabeth Ryan paired with the Spanish champion Enrique Maier to defeat Betty Nuthall and Patrick Spence 6-4, 7-5, to continue American representation in all five departments of play.

The end of the main bout came after the men had grappled an hour and 35 minutes. Sonnenberg was seemingly on his way to victory and had glued DiGlaine to the ropes with a flying tackle. He tore in to finish the Frenchman but glanced off DiGlaine's body and both men fell to the floor. Referee Sam Smith declared it "unfinished contest."

Heavyweights Counted Out At Same Time

BOSTON, June 30—(AP)—Henri DiGlaine, heavyweight wrestling championship claimant, and Gus Sonnenberg, former titlist, were counted out simultaneously tonight as both fell exhausted through the ropes.
