

EARLIEST BENTON CLANS HOLD PICNIC

Large Scale Turkey Raising
On at Cook, Brown
Ranches.

WELLS, June 30.—The ninth annual Williamson, Holman and Carter family reunion of Linn and Benton counties was held at Bryant's park in Albany Sunday. A basket dinner was served at noon that was enjoyed by everyone. These families represent some of the earliest settlers of Benton county. One of the oldest members present was Grandma Carter of North Palestine, who celebrated her 97th birthday last December. The main speaker was Clyde Williamson of Albany who told of his recent trip to Washington, D. C., and other places of interest in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Price of Los Angeles have been visiting with Mr. Price's sister, Mrs. Pearl Carter.

Raising Many Turkeys
Local men engaged extensively in the turkey raising industry are T. H. Cook, who has about 1400, and Lee Brown, with 5000.

Boys of this community who have just returned from the national guard encampment at Camp Clatsop are Russell Morse, Lyle Gant and Marvin Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gant, who have been residing in Wells for the past two years, have rented the J. A. Stombaugh ranch in the Tampico district, where they plan to move in the fall. Mr. and Mrs. Stombaugh are moving to Linn county.

Churchill Assumes New Position Today

MONMOUTH, June 30.—Friday morning at the 11 o'clock convocation, greetings will be exchanged with President J. A. Churchill, new head of the normal school here. President and Mrs. Churchill arrived this week, and reception will be extended them by faculty, students and townspeople Friday night, the day he officially assumes duties here.

NEW TEACHERS CHOSEN
SILVERTON HILLS, June 30.—Duan Knapp of Molalla has been engaged to teach the Davis school for this coming term. Mr. Knapp just graduated from state normal at Monmouth this past spring. Alvin Hartley is the new director in the Davis district. Mrs. Maybell Towe, who has been teaching at Silver Cliff, will teach the Porter school this next winter. John Tichants is the new director here.

PLAN BENEFIT DANCE
SILVERTON HILLS, June 30.—The Home Economics club of the Silvertown Hills Grange met Wednesday afternoon to complete plans for the benefit dance to be held at the grange hall Saturday night. It was decided to serve strawberries, cream and cake along with the dance ticket. Music will be furnished by the Maurice Winter group.

Bits for Breakfast

that not a single prophecy had come true.

"A non-host dinner was served from basket lunches brought by the members. Stories, anecdotes and pranks of school days were retold and each member gave a birdseye review of his or her life. The class decided to form a permanent organization, and Mr. Barker was chosen president and Cora Litchfield-Holman secretary."

Since the reunion and permanent organization of the class of 1888 resulted from articles in this column, the writer takes some pride in it, and submits that the above is a remarkably complete showing, besides being a creditable one. Basil H. Wagner, of Salem, as above reported present, recited the following impromptu lines:

BUDGET BALANCING BEGINS

NOW, SWEETHEART, DON'T CHASE
SEE, IF IT'S A GONE AN' GOTTEN A SODA IS A HARD TO HAVE LAID OUT A LOT O' MONEY IN TAXES

AND WITH A TAX ON
SOFT DRINKS, WELL—

HEY, WHAT ARE YOU
TRYING TO DO BALANCE
THE BUDGET BY YOURSELF?

THERE IS A NEAT
LITTLE TAX OF 5% ON
COSMETICS NOW, GIRLS

STAND STILL, DESE
BULLETS IS COSTIN'
ME PLENTY.

From now on when a girl powders her nose, she is helping not only to take the shine off that organ, but is also helping to remove the shine from Uncle Sam's pants. The old gentleman was getting a little bit shabby since his Federal Budget took that alarming list to starboard, and the new taxes, which came into effect June 21, will restore its equilibrium, according to our financial experts. But the operation will be far from painless, for every person in this broad land will have to contribute his share to satisfy the rapacious appetite of the Treasury. Chewing gum, matches, telephone calls, automobiles, radios and phonographs are amongst the commodities which are affected by the levy. One cannot even enjoy a soda without contributing to the life raft that is to keep Uncle Sam's head above the flood water of depression. Even love is taxed indirectly, for the young man who calls on his lady love with the traditional box of candy will have to pay tax on the sweetmeats. He will also be taxed on the telephoned sweet nothings he whispers into her shell-like ear. The married man, too, with a fondness for poker will pay for his terminological inexactitudes when he buzzes the wife on the phone to tell her about the terrible rush of work that will keep him at the office. One cannot even go to a show or a movie to forget as they also come under the tax hammer. And don't imagine you can escape by dying for there is a tax of 4 cents a pound on the copper fittings of your casket.

Long Trek to Hills Made To Find Pasture For Cows

LYONS, June 30.—Lawrence Trask and Denton Brown of Lyons and Fred Roewe of Jordan made a trip to Minto mountain the last of the week. They drove their cattle in for the summer, taking several days to get in to the pastures. The boys got home Sunday morning, and not long after, received word by telephone that their cattle were coming out. They had to drive them back again. A few years ago fine summer pasture was abundant in any of the foothill mountains, but it has been pastured so close that cattle have to be put back several miles

Fourth Isn't What it Used To be, Buell

KEIZER, June 30.—With the Fourth of July again approaching, and Salem preparing to celebrate on big scale at the state fairgrounds, Charley Buell, native Oregonian, the other day recalled earlier fourth celebration here, and particularly one which was held at Marion Square in 1881.

He says eight young men living near Sheridan decided to take the shine off that date and with a lumber wagon having four spring seats and drawn by four spirited grey horses, these eight young men started for Salem in the early morning and were held up at the landing almost an hour on account of the heavy traffic. They crossed on the ferry at Spongs landing, the river being very high for that time of year. They followed the road through the Keizer district which was mostly lined with timber where now are fertile orchards and gardens.

Upon arriving at Salem they hunted for a barn—as most of the Salem residents had their own barns, they found one and were given permission to put their horses in for the day and night and to use the haymow for sleeping quarters. He said the day was a big day and the park was full of people. As he recalled, a H. R. Thompson, lawyer of Portland, was the principal speaker.

The eight young men whom many may recall were Buford Stone, N. M. Conner, Avery Henshaw, Nathan Blair, Billy Blair, Cyrus Blair, Charley Buell and Will LaFollette who was a newcomer from Indiana, a relative of Robert LaFollette of Wisconsin and the late A. M. LaFollette of Salem.

Only two of the eight, Buell and LaFollette are living. Will LaFollette is in Pullman, Wash., and is engaged in growing peaches and apples. LaFollette was a member of congress at one time from the eastern district of Washington. Mr. Buell is at present making his home at the Geo. N. Thompson ranch in Keizer.

BERRIES GO TO WASTE
SILVERTON HILLS, June 30.—Because there is no place to dispose of the strawberries after this week, the berry picking season will be completed although there are said to be acres and acres of the finest hill berries that haven't been touched so far.
