FOX RAISERS WILL HOLD SCHOOL SOON

The seventh annual summer school for the Oregon State Fox Raisers' association will be held at Corvallis auto park July 8, announces E. N. Walker of Gresham, president.

This school is for the benefit of the industry and especially the fox farmer. Three other schools, at Grants Pass today, at Coquille July 6, and at Gresham July 10, are scheduled.

All fur breeders are invited. The program starts at 10 a. m. and at the noon hour will be interrupted for a community picnic dinner.

Among the authorities who will appear as speakers are: A. G. Rapa of Denver, Colo., president of the Rocky Mountain National Fur Growers' association; A. H. Crow of Denver, secretary of the Rocky Mountain association; Eugene Finley of Jefferson, F. S. Brewer of Ashland and C. W. Stacy of Salem.

E. F. Brown of Independence is vice president of the state group, and L. A. Wootton of Forest Grove is secretary-treasurer. Directors include: Eugene Finley, Jefferson; G. W. Stacy, Salem; T. E. Zeek, Aurora; Mrs. I. J. Biers, Corvallis, and W. L. Churchill, Eagle Creek.

HEARING ON POWER RATES SCHEDULED

Hearing of the arguments in the case involving the rates, practices and charges of the Northwest Electric company, has been set for Monday, July 11, in Salem. Charles M. Thomas, public utilities commissioner, announced Saturday.

He said it probably would require at least two days to complete the arguments.

The meantime two engineers employed by the commission will be sent to Albany where they will conduct an investigation of the books, records and accounts of the Mountain States Power company.

Three other engineers will conduct an examination of the books and records of the California-Oregon Power company at Medford.

Thomas declared that several weeks probably would be required to complete the order in the case involving the Northwest Electric company. Approximately four weeks were required to take the testimony in the case, exclusive of months of preliminary investigation on the part of the commission engineers.

Picking Resumed In Logan Patch; Market is Found

A sale Saturday of 50 tons of loganberries to Paulus Bros. cannery caused William McGilchrist, Jr., to resume picking at his field. He had discharged the crew of the McGilchrist again, to take care of this order.

"The price is low," said McGilchrist, "but it will be something and will pay wages to pickers who need employment. I am mighty glad to be able to put people back at work."

His tonnage would have been around 100 tons, so this will take care of about half the crop.

Offers Loot to Original Owner
A prowler recently entered D. Samuel's home here and stole a quantity of plumbing fixtures. Yesterday the same prowler appeared at Mr. Samuel's second-hand store and offered the fixtures for sale. Samuel recognized the loot, but was unable to hold the suspect until the police arrived.

ROSENDAHL GOES BACK TO SEA

Leaving his heart in the clouds, Lieutenant Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, whose name is practically synonymous with the progress of lighter-than-air craft in the United States, has relinquished his command of the U. S. S. Akron, which he had shipped since she was commissioned last year, and gone back to sea. For some reason, obscure to the layman, the Navy Department has a ruling that a sailor cannot qualify for promotion in the air; hence the transfer of Rosendahl from the control room of the Akron to the bridge of the U. S. S. West Virginia, to which he has been assigned. Since the U. S. government first became interested in Zeppelin-type aircraft, Rosendahl has been associated with that branch of aviation. Graduated from Annapolis in 1914, he was assigned to the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J., in 1923, and was navigation officer aboard the ill-fated Shenandoah when it met disaster in a storm over Ohio in 1925. Six months later he was given command of the German-built Los Angeles, holding that command until 1929, when he was transferred to the Navy Department Bureau of Aeronautics. Commander Rosendahl made the trans-Atlantic flight aboard the Graf Zeppelin in 1928 and a year later flew around the world in the same ship as U. S. Navy observer.

The new shipper of the Akron, Commander Alger H. Drexel, is 43. He was born at Annapolis, the son of a navy lieutenant killed during the Spanish-American War. Graduated from Annapolis at 20, he has been stationed at the naval air base at Lakehurst since 1925.

OUTLINE FOR CIVIL SERVICE ADVANCED

Plans for operation of Salem's civil service commission are advanced up and will be ready at the end of the 90 days allotted for drawing up regulations for the body, Chairman Paul V. Johnson reported yesterday. A meeting to consider plans will be called early this week.

Johnson and A. H. Moore already have studied the mass of data received from many other civil service commissions. Lloyd T. Rigdon, the third commissioner, is now doing so. The commissioners will draw up their regulations, using the features of other commissions best adapted to Salem.

The commission is required to hold examinations and set up an eligibility list for the fire department by September 3.

SHIPPING OF BLACK CHERRIES TO BEGIN

Beginning the first of the week, black cherries for shipment to eastern markets will be packed by Claude McKinney at the Terminal Ice and Storage plant, McKinney announced yesterday. He will handle an unlimited quantity.

McKinney will pay cash, but made no statement as to how much. Another fresh black cherry deal will also start the first of the week, when Young and Wells will pack for eastern shipment, from the same place.

Both McKinney and Young & Wells have handled packs before. They will ship to some central point east, cherries to be diverted after sales on the Chicago or New York auctions.

CHURCHILL STARTS DUTIES AT NORMAL

MONMOUTH, July 2.—(Special)—Dr. J. A. Churchill, new president of Oregon Normal school succeeding J. S. Landers, officially assumed his new position at a special convention of the school yesterday. Last night a reception was tendered Dr. and Mrs. Churchill in Jessica Todd hall.

About 250 faculty members, students and townsfolk attended the reception. In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Churchill, Mr. and Mrs. Landers, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Starr of Portland, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Kerr of Corvallis, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Lindsay and C. A. Howard of Salem.

Speakers were Mr. Landers, Dr. Churchill, Mayor F. R. Bowersox, Mr. Starr and Mr. Howard.

Dr. and Mrs. Churchill have taken up residence in the Dietrich house on South Monmouth avenue.

INDEPENDENCE DAY BRIDES ARE MANY

Independence day didn't mean a thing to prospective newlyweds, four couples making their way to the county clerk's office yesterday to receive legal permission to wed. Three couples came in simultaneously and a waiting line was formed while the necessary details were obtained from each pair. Licenses were issued as follows:

Ralph H. Grosse, 21, 433 West Eighth street, Eugene, woolen mill worker, to Claris E. Gould, 20, 271 North Grand street, Eugene, woolen mill worker.

Victor J. Sherman, 22, 411 Front street, meat cutter, to Opal Mae Tansey, 18, Salem route 2, housekeeper.

Benjamin Louis Jones, 24, 844 Mill street, Salem, laborer, to Elma Lucille Patton, 18, 108 North 15th street, Salem, house keeper.

Willard B. Cooley, 42, 920 Johnson street, Portland, bindery worker, to Grace E. Robinson, 42, Silverton, housekeeper.

Science Forum Hears Address By Robin Moser

Fishing trips, work and warm weather caused small attendance at the Science Forum meeting held Thursday evening on the Willamette university campus.

The chief thing on the program was a talk by Robin Moser who told about his graduate work in chemistry at the University of Oregon.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 Friday evening, July 15, at Eaton hall. All members of the organization are urged to be present.

LONE EAGLE ON WITNESS STAND

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is shown on the witness stand in Fleming ton, N. J., court as he testified in the trial of John Hughes Curtis Norfolk, Va., shipbuilder, charged with obstructing justice by perpetrating a hoax on Lindbergh after the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby. The famous aviator testified that Curtis had attempted to obtain $25000 ransom, which he, as intermediary, would pay for the return of the child, since murdered. Inset is Curtis with his daughter Constance, shown outside Flemington jail after the court adjournment.

HOBO STUDIES GREEK BUT JUST WANDERING

Strange tales these depression hoboes tell. Strange ways they have. But strangest of all is to find one who can outtalk many a university graduate, use excellent English when he wants to, write his notes on jobs, etc., in Greek, talk fluently in terms of psychology, analyze people and conditions keenly; one who has enormous quantities of mental ability, but still is just a traveler, picking up whatever work comes to him, be it cooking, salting, cow punching or gardening.

A short, wiry, ruddy faced, sandy haired man, clear and sparkling of eye, answering to the above description was seen at city police headquarters recently. No, he wasn't under arrest, just looking up the address of an old friend here.

"Sandy," he will be called, to avoid embarrassing him, should he pick up this newspaper.

ready been delegated to special duties tomorrow were asked to report to O. E. "Moses" Palmer, chairman of the police committee, at the grandstand tomorrow morning.

The Opening of Shipley's
SPORTSWEAR
Department
August 15th.

We will soon open the finest, most complete sportswear department that is possible to arrange. Plans are now under way for the moving of some departments and the closing out entirely of others, to make room for this much needed contribution to the wants of the up-to-the minute dressers of Salem.

This new department will occupy a prominent space in the very center of the store where there will be assembled a most complete stock of sports wear for the Junior High, the high school miss, the college girls and the ladies from the school of "higher learning."

We hope to have the new department in readiness about August 15th.

CLOSING OUT
Our entire stock of infants' wear, brush sets, water bottles, dresses, well in fact anything that one would want to buy for a baby can be had during this sale for a fraction of its former price.
