Winifred Byrd To Arrive Soon

Her many Salem friends are eagerly awaiting the arrival next Thursday of Miss Winifred Byrd, former Salem girl, who is expected from New York City to pass the summer months with relatives and friends. Word of Miss Byrd's coming to Salem was received Monday by her aunt, Mrs. L. H. McMahan.

It has been two and one half years since Miss Byrd was in Salem and her return this season is being anticipated by ones who remember her as a talented pianist. Miss Byrd is the daughter of the late Dr. W. H. Byrd, pioneer physician. During her early childhood in Salem, her musical talent was outstanding and with concentrated study and practice has achieved considerable success and recognition in the concert world. She has toured nationally and abroad and has become well known in artist appearances in New York City.

Miss Byrd has appeared in concerts in Salem a number of times and on her last appearance two years ago, was greeted with a genuine welcome. Numerous delightful social affairs are being arranged to welcome her as the prominent guest, during her sojourn in Salem.

Family Picnic July 4 Event

Mrs. Jay Bishop entertained with a delightful family picnic at her home Monday afternoon.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rex Bishop and son Arthur of San Francisco who arrived this past weekend to be the guest of Mrs. Bishop until the last of this week.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mason Bishop and Miss Henrietta Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Gillette and Miss Margaret Gillette and Leland Gillette.

Miss Florence Howe arrived in Salem Monday evening from her home in Brownsville, to spend a few days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter Kirk on North High street, who is recuperating from a fall in the Kirk home which resulted in two broken ankle bones.

Mrs. Kirk plans to motor to Agate beach where she will convalesce. Miss Howe, accompanied by Miss Aubrey McPherson of Eugene will be a guest at the Kirk home until the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Dutton and young daughter Nancy of Portland, were weekend guests at the home of Mrs. Dutton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Hunter.

Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS
If you like under garments that really fit, you will enjoy this slip as seams have been arranged to create a perfect foundation to wear under your new frocks. The pointed bust line affords modesty as well as a graceful line, and if you like, a bit of lace might be used for trimming. Lovely in flesh or tea rose crepe de chine.

Pattern 2188 is obtainable only in sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 46. Size 36 requires 2 1/2 yards of 36 or 39-inch fabric.

European Traveler is Guest Here After Eight Years Absence From Salem

THE large circle of friends of Mrs. Ralph W. Barnes are welcoming her back after an absence of over eight years, most of which time has been spent in Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes arrived in Paris in April, 1926, and from that time until this June both have been jaunting about in most interesting places in a most interesting manner.

Mrs. Barnes, nee Esther Paroungian, whose parents were prominent in Salem as well as in the northwest, was graduated from Salem high school and Willamette university, from which schools Mr. Barnes also graduated. After he had finished Harvard they started their "roaming," which they thought would take them to New York for only a year, but from there they went to Europe and for eight years Mrs. Barnes is not certain whether she will return to Europe or not. Plans will not be definite until later in the summer and in the meantime she is dividing her time between her mother's home in Portland and the E. T. Barnes home in Salem.

Mrs. Barnes has let no opportunity go by for deeper and broader knowledge and appreciation of Europe and the result is that she can look back upon bicycle trips over Brittany, much of it by herself because Mr. Barnes was kept close within the reparations conference in Paris, with bicycle tours with Mr. Barnes through the Black Forest of Germany, through Switzerland, in Italy, England, Scotland and Holland, and has a fascinating memory to look back upon concerning the first summer she and Mr. Barnes spent in Europe.

They took their vacation in a trip across Germany, this part with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Davies, also known in Salem. Both Mr. Davies and Mr. Barnes were foreign correspondents for the New York Herald. In Germany the Barnes visited Norway, Finland, Denmark and then to Moscow. Here the unusual occurred. They had an invitation to spend a few days with Albert Rhys Williams, author of several books on Russia, and his wife, Lucretia Squire, who were living in a tiny Russian village on the Moscow river. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Barnes could speak a word of Russian and the trip had to be made by sign language and information as to where they were going was written on papers in Russian and handed to transportation officials.

The result was that transfer at a large town had to be made and a drive into the country arranged, then they were let out on the bank of a small river just when darkness was coming on, and in the falling, their only information being that they were to row themselves across the river to the little town on the other side. This they did through the dark, scrambled up the bank in the dark and finally found their hosts by means of repeating the word "American" until someone took them to the Williams home, the only American one in the village.

Here they recall a "fish stew" feed in which all the villagers and Mr. and Mrs. Barnes participated. Many other amusing things are remembered from this vacation trip. A cable received from Mr. Barnes Monday made Mrs. Barnes believe that he had recently visited this little village where they spent part of their first European vacation. Mr. Barnes is now in Russia for the New York Herald Tribune.

Former Salem Girl Bride of Sunday

Of interest to many will be the news of the marriage of Miss Caroline Heubets, formerly of Salem, to Conrad Loehner of the medical department of Columbia university in New York City on June 27.

Mrs. Loehner recently received her degree of doctor of philosophy in the department of medicine at Columbia university and will continue teaching in that department next year.

Mrs. Loehner was a popular member of the local school staff for several years and also attended Willamette university; later she took additional work at the University of California from which school she was graduated.

Zonta Club Meeting Planned for Thursday

Members of the Salem Zonta club were entertained last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Ora McIntyre, when the complimented members of that organization, Miss Alene Phillips recently returned from the Zonta International convention at St. Louis, gave a detailed report of the convention.

Zonta members will meet Thursday noon at the Marion hotel for their regular monthly meeting, at which time an interesting program is being arranged by Miss Alene Phillips, newly elected program chairman. The regular monthly business and dinner meeting for the group will be held July 21 at the Marion hotel.

Something new in the way of golf tournament and entertainment is being made for ladies' day, Friday, at the Salem Golf club. Teams captain, Mrs. C. R. Rittner has announced a "dress-up" tournament for that day. All women attending are requested to appear in an amusing costume and a small fine will be assessed as penalty for those not in costume. The fun feature will be carried out in the day's play, with appropriate signs on each tee and green designating the clubs to be used for that hole. The Hartman trophy will be awarded Friday afternoon, the series of play having been completed. Prizes will be awarded for the most unique costume as well as for the usual Friday low score.

Prof. and Mrs. Roy M. Lockenour are receiving the felicitations of their many friends upon the birth of a son, born Sunday morning at Salem General hospital. The young man started out in the world weighing over nine pounds and having very black hair. He has been named Lynn Lo Lockenour. The Lo is Chinese, the name of one of the illustrious poets of China. Both Dr. and Mrs. Lockenour have been much interested in international affairs and thus the suggestion of this name. Mrs. Lockenour, nee Mary Findley, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Findley. Prof. Lockenour is a member of the law staff of Willamette university.

W. C. T. U. Hears Mrs. Necia Buck

Mrs. Necia Buck, national organizer for the W. C. T. U. addressed the Salem union Tuesday afternoon at its regular meeting. She gave an excellent report on the work being accomplished in Washington and Idaho, from which places she has just returned after having visited and organized over these states.

Mrs. Buck said that the grange is standing for national prohibition, and that in order to get enforcement and observance of the law people must be educated to that end. The speaker also told her audience that the prohibition laws of Oregon are better enforced than the traffic laws.

During the business meeting, plans were discussed for regular special speakers for each meeting of the union. Reports were also made from department heads.

Evans-Stayner Nuptials Told

The marriage of Miss Joan Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Evans of Salem and Ray Stayner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stayner of Silverton took place in Bend, Oregon, Sunday at 7 o'clock in the First Christian church, Rev. Oliver Jones officiated.

Following the ceremony a reception was served at the Loomis home in Bend with Miss Dorothy Loomis and Fred Loomis as hosts. Attending the ceremony were about 40 guests.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stayner are sophomores in Willamette university. Mrs. Stayner is a member of Daleth Teth Gimel organization and prominent in musical circles. Mr. Stayner is prominent in athletic circles. They will return to make their home in Salem and will continue with their work in Willamette.

Mr. Stayner has been competing in the central Oregon tennis tournament.

Jefferson—The Miller's burk Wednesday embroidery club met at the home of Mrs. E. O. Truax Wednesday afternoon. During the afternoon, plans were made for a picnic to be held at Wilson Lake, on Sunday July 17, when the club members will entertain their families. The club meetings will be discontinued for the summer.

Those present included Mrs. S. J. Thomas, Mrs. Tom Farrow, Mrs. Elizabeth Truax, Mrs. L. W. Drager, Mrs. Lester Conser, Mrs. Floyd Fisher and daughters, Janis and Dorriett, Mrs. Clark Moreland, Mrs. A. W. Moreland, Mrs. Ellen Burwell, Mrs. Ray Baxter, Mrs. Elias Truax, and daughters, Frances and Ethel.

SLATED FOR FILM STARDOM

With rumors going the rounds in Hollywood that Greta Garbo, famous Swedish movie star, may quit the American films and return to her native land, the eyes of the movie magnates are on Gwili Andre (above), whom many critics favor as the logical successor to the glamorous Garbo. Miss Andre is a Norse girl of exceptional beauty and talent. She has already demonstrated her ability to the satisfaction of producers and fans and is well on the road to stardom.

Interesting guests at the home of John T. Ross and Miss Ada Ross, include Miss Laura Ross of Chicago and Mrs. Holley Brandrup and small son of Mankato, Minnesota, who arrived in Salem Sunday morning to spend a part of the summer months. Both the visitors are former Salem girls, and Mrs. Brandrup will be remembered as Lucille Ross.

At the conclusion of their stay in Salem the middle western guests are planning to return to their homes by the southern route, stopping enroute at Oakland, California to visit their brother Arthur Ross and at Berkeley to spend several days with their sister, Mrs. Shannan Hogue who is attending summer school at the University of California.

Amity—Alice Bickford of Amity and Bert Sutherland of Amity were united in marriage Monday, July 4th, at the Methodist parsonage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. F. L. Cannell.

The Aid of the Woman's Relief Corps will meet Thursday at the Fairgrounds for an all day "get-together and picnic." A covered dish luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock. All members of the order are requested to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. William Moses, Prof. and Mrs. T. S. Roberts and Prof. and Mrs. Frank Churchill returned to Salem Monday evening from Bay Ocean where they spent the Fourth of July weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Vincent Smith, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Kuhns and small son Craig, arrived home Tuesday evening from Nelscott beach where they enjoyed the past weekend.

The Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Britton Ross, 549 N. Liberty St. Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

PLAQUE IN HONOR OF MORROW GIVEN

MEXICO CITY, July 5—(AP)—A group of Mexican friends of the late Dwight W. Morrow last night presented a plaque honoring him to the United States in an independence day reception.

The donors included General Plutarco Elias Calles, President Ortiz Rubio and Javier Sanchez Mejorada, president of the national railways, who made the presentation address.

Senor Mejorada declared the name of Dwight W. Morrow shall always awaken the remembrance of a new diplomacy.

More than 500 members of the American colony attended the reception of Ambassador J. Reuben Clark, Jr., and Mrs. Clark.

Carnival Games Raided as Large Losses Claimed

SEASIDE, Ore., July 5—(AP)—Sheriff Harley J. Slusher led a raiding squad against games operated in connection with the Hildebrand Carnival company last night and arrested the operators of nine concessions. Vacationists had complained of losing funds totaling more than $1,000, the sheriff reported.

The operators were held in jail on open charges. Sheriff Slusher said that formal complaints will probably be filed tomorrow.

Find Smuggler In Piano Box

LOS ANGELES, July 5—(AP)—Detectives watching the unloading of freight from the steamer Cecilio after its arrival Monday from San Francisco stepped up to a piano box, tapped on it and called "The game's up; come on out."

The call, according to their report, brought from the box a man who gave his name as John Smith, 33, Canadian. He was arrested on a charge of grand theft, involving the smuggling of himself aboard the ship in the box and attempted theft by use of another piano container of $600 worth of cigarettes.
