

RAILROAD BRIDGE HAS EARLY BLAZE

JEFFERSON, July 7—Jefferson people were aroused from their slumber at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday morning by the ringing of the fire bell. It was found that the small bridge just north of the railroad bridge was on fire. The fire truck went to the scene of the fire, and soon had it extinguished. No serious damage was done, only some of the ties and cross pieces were scorched. It is not known whether the fire was of incendiary origin, or if it was set by the train.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Webber sustained minor injuries in an auto accident two miles north of here Sunday night at about 10 o'clock. The Webbers, in an Oakland sedan were traveling south and in trying to pass another car which swerved over to the left side of the highway directed in front of them, and to avoid hitting the car were forced into the ditch. Their car turned over and was badly damaged.

Another accident occurred four miles north of Jefferson Sunday night, when a party of Salem people, due to too much speed, their car failed to make a curve in the highway, and overturned in the ditch. The occupants of the car, whose names are unknown received minor bruises. The car was slightly damaged, and was driven back to Salem.

One Thing This Depression Has Done

is to make people live longer. If that happens to be any advantage to you. We hear people refer to the good times of 1929 as if that was at least 30 years ago, and by gum we catch our self doing the same thing.

But we assure you folks

You've no worry in that regard for—as the Chain Stores say in their ads, we have anticipated some such a coningency as that and have because of our Enormus size (referin to the business not personal of course). Now lets see what were we going to say, ah yes, we've got everything all fixed meaning of course that the foods we see are so cheap—now lets see thats not what we mean either, we mean so low priced that four bits worth of food today will last twice as long as the same four bits would in 1929. Now if that isn't doing our part we don't want a cent. Now just as an illustration we quote a few prices—so please stand by or better yet come in and buy.
