

GOOD GAINS MADE ON STOCK MARKET

Strength in Rails, Auburn Shorts' Retreat Mark Strong Late Rally

NEW YORK, July 11.—(AP)—Stocks pulled farther away from the June lows today, making a spirited advance in the last hour, after sluggish fluctuations earlier.

Support for the rails and a brisk retreat of shorts in Auburn Auto were among the technical developments that worked to the general list's advantage.

The short squeeze in Auburn brought an extreme gain of 1 3/4 points for that dynamic stock and the close was only a point under the top.

The early market watched American Telephone, Coca Cola and Public Service of New Jersey make new lows, but buying of carriers shares quickened the brakes on reactionary tendencies and by afternoon the list was crawling upward.

GRAND ISLAND, July 11.—(Special)—Ellis Dixon, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dixon, here, was electrocuted at five o'clock today when he was thrown to the ground by the same shock Sunday morning at the Nell Stoutenberg farm in the Unionvale district.

Mr. Stoutenberg was confined to his bed today as result of the injury he received, and his son Pete was burned on one side. The other three members of the party were Stoutenberg's sons, Harry and Wilbur, and a neighbor boy, Herbert Wright.

SPRING WHEAT FORECAST BULLISH HOGS MAKE SUBSTANTIAL ADVANCE

Over Billion Bushels Of Supply Outlook For N. America

CHICAGO, July 11.—(AP)—Faced by prospects of more than a billion bushels of wheat supplies in North America this season, wheat values went generally down hill today.

Crop advances both north and south of the Canadian border were optimistic regarding spring wheat, the Foreign grain market was reduced 19 per cent, and official forecasts indicated that Germany's 1932 wheat crop would be the largest ever known.

The government July 1 crop estimates issued late were construed as decidedly bearish, indicating the 1932 domestic yield of all wheat would total 737,000,000 bushels, against latest private forecasts of 685,000,000.

Wheat closed unsettled, 3/4-1/2 up, Saturday's finish, corn 3/4 off to 1/2 up, oats unchanged to 1/2 lower.

Today's closing quotations: Wheat: July old, 47 5/8, new 47 1/2, 1932, 47 1/2 to 1-8, new 50, Dec. 52 1/4 to 3-8.

Ray-Brown Plant Nears Season End

WOODBURN, July 11.—The last loganberries to be canned this year by the Ray-Brown cannery will be received Tuesday, according to notices on the blackboard at the receiving porch.

Loganberries this year than it was first thought it would. The crews packing the berries have been working several hours a day for over two weeks. The berries have been received during the day and packed at night, the process of canning taking from two to eight hours.

Montmorency pie cherries were being pitted and packed at the cannery up to a few days ago. The pitter broke down recently, so the remainder of the crop is being received here and shipped to Hillsboro, to be canned at the sister plant in that city.

The canning of Royal Anne cherries was terminated some time ago. After Tuesday the cannery will probably be shut down for at least six weeks, until the blackberries and pears get ripe.

Whether or not there will be any blackberries and pears cannot have been learned. However, it is thought that the packing plant will can some pears, at least. In former years there was quite a good market here for the evergreens.

Mrs. C. J. Rice was a guest to the Woodburn chapter of the W. T. C. U. Friday afternoon at her home on East Cleveland street. There was a good attendance of members. An interesting program was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ramos, residents of Echo, Ore., are visiting here with the B. J. Byers, Ivan Byers and Herman Bontrager families. Mrs. Ramos is a niece of Ivan and Bert Byers.

Some effort will be put forth by the community to hold interdenominational or undenominational Sunday school services as soon as some plan is offered for consideration.

The church building and acre of land surrounding it which joins the grange half acre property was purchased by the North Howell grange three years ago and the building itself was erected nearly 50 years ago, by J. H. Baughman, who was aided by old friends and neighbors.
