

Reed Beats Nelson, Keeps Belt for Match With Jones

TITLE BOUT IS ASSURED HERE

Early Rematch Explained as "Now or Never" Affair; Others Wanted it

PORTLAND, Ore., July 13.—(AP)—Robin Reed, of Reedsport, Ore., defeated Doc Nelson, of Atlanta, Ga., in a rough wrestling bout here tonight. He won two of the three falls.

Reed won the first fall in 19 minutes with a series of whip wristles and finishing with a flying tackle. Nelson won the second in 3 minutes with a headlock and Reed took the final fall in 19 minutes.

Matchmaker Harry Plant and members of the Salem boxing and wrestling commission presumably headed individual and collective signs of relief Wednesday night upon learning that Robin Reed had clung to his world welterweight title in a bout at Portland and therefore was in position to risk it again here next Tuesday night against Henry Jones at the armory.

That just about completes arrangements for the bout, which will occur only 15 days after the history-making battle for the same crown which Reed and Jones waged at the fairgrounds July 4, winding up in a draw after the pair had engaged in one of the most grueling mat contests ever witnessed here, punctuated with fireworks that put the usual independence day pyrotechnics in the shade.

Fans, perhaps, are wondering why Reed and Jones have been matched again so soon after that unparalleled battle. There are two reasons, either of which would be entirely sufficient in itself.

Reed is billed to wrestle in the middle west again week after next, and the date for this rematch is the very latest that he could be persuaded to stay here. It has to be July 18 or never.

And in the second place, various other cities were bidding for the rematch, egged on by the reports of an 8000 crowd here on the Fourth. So Salem had to get in its bid early and make it high—higher than for the first bout. Reed this time gets a guarantee of $600.

SEBODTZ HURLS TWO-HIT GAME

Woodburn to Enter Finals With Record Clean; Wins 10 to 1

WOODBURN, July 13.—With Nick Sebodtz hurling two-hit ball, the Woodburn American Legion junior baseball team completed its official schedule prior to the state finals, still undefeated when it vanquished Newberg today 10 to 1 in the final district game.

Sebodtz struck out nine men and would have had a shutout but for the fact that one of the two hits against him was a three-bagger by Gardner in the eighth. It came with nobody out; Nick retired the next two men but then pitched wild and Gardner scored something of a walkaway.

With Jimmy Nicholson, Jr., again setting the pace with three hits including a home run in the first inning and a two-bagger in the seventh, the Woodburn boys smacked out 12 hits to make the game something of a walkaway. Nicholson's homer brought in one man ahead of him after one had already scored in the first inning; three more tallies were made in the second, one in the third. Then there was a dearth of fireworks until the seventh when Nicholson, Oberst and Sebodtz all hit two baggers to account for two more runs. One more run was tallied in the eighth.

The Woodburn boys played errorless ball in the field. Newberg was charged with two bobbles.

CURT COMMENTS

The fact that the city tennis tournament is under way, with something like 80 pretty fair players involved, reminds us of a little sermon we've been intending to preach for a long time.

Nearly every community in which tennis is played at all, has an "inner ring" of good players and more or less of a swarm of medium players outside that ring. And the main reason a good many of the medium players aren't better than they are, is that they don't get into competition with the better ones.

Strange to say, there's only one way to improve in tennis and that's to play fellows who can beat you. All right, you medium players, a word to the wise should be sufficient. But there's a catch. The good player doesn't gain anything by consenting to play those less expert.

And so the "inner ring" isn't much to blame for being that way. The fact is, playing a less expert player does actual harm. We don't know that the better tennis players in Salem look at it from a selfish angle, or even that the situation is notably prevalent here. Maybe the best players could play anybody that came along, if they found fellows willing to play and take the game seriously enough to learn.

The reason it's necessary to play better men, in order to improve, is that a fast pace is the thing that has to be acquired. Any lad may learn to drive and serve and all the rest, but until he gets accustomed to using his strokes against a fast opposing pace, they'll not be timed right when he does meet such a player.

DUCKS OUTSLUG OAKS BUT LOSE

Portland Rallies to tie up Game in Ninth, Then Hufft Breaks it

OAKLAND, Cal., July 13.—(AP)—A single by Fuzzy Hufft in the tenth inning scored Le Roy Anton from second base to give Oakland a five to four victory over Portland tonight.

Portland came from behind in the ninth with a two-run rally which tied the score four and four. The rally saved Bill Shores, Portland starting hurler, from defeat.

The defeat was charged to Art Jacobs who relieved Shores, while Eddie Walsh, who pitched the final inning for the Oaks, was credited with the victory.

Deshong Wins Again SACRAMENTO, July 13.—(AP)—Jimmy Deshong turned in his eighth pitching victory in 10 starts since joining the Senators and the result was a second straight win for the Sacs over the Seattle Indians. The score was 4 to 2. Lynn Nelson, outpitched Deshong until the sixth when after two walks, he yielded three straight singles for three runs. Two hits, a walk and a hit batsman gave the Tribe a two run lead in their half of the sixth.

HAWAIIANS PILFER AQUATIC SPOTLIGHT

CINCINNATI, O., July 13.—(AP)—A couple of Hawaiian lads who used to make a living diving for nickels in Honolulu harbor bobbed up at Coney Island and pool here today with "United States Olympic timber" written all over them.

Tomorrow the Kailii brothers—Manuela and Malolo, representing the Los Angeles Athletic club—will be among the favorites in finals of the 100 meters free style in the second day of the Olympic swimming trials.

Manuela's time was 61 2-5 seconds. Malolo beat that by a second.

These boys won their respective heats and became co-favorites in tomorrow's show with Ray Thompson of the United States naval academy, who they said was the fastest "plobe" ever to duck into a navy tank, and Al Schwartz of the Illinois Athletic club.

"Big Poison" of Pirates

PAUL WANER - PITTSBURGH'S FAMED HITSMITH, WHO IS AFTER THE N.L. BATTING CROWN THIS YEAR!

TAKE the Waners out of the Pirate lineup and the Bucs would be a push-over," said Rogers Hornsby recently while discussing the strength of various western clubs.

this, saying that he was in there taking his cut as always, but was just in one of those slumps which all hitters experience occasionally.
