

DELAY OF ARCHERD TRIAL HERE ASKED

Move on part of Charles R. Archerd and his attorney to continue trial of the criminal charge against Archerd until the September term of circuit court instead of having it go to trial this term, is contained in an affidavit received from his attorney at Grants Pass by the county clerk. Archerd's affidavit states that he has no funds with which to pay for himself and his attorney from Grants Pass to Salem from the trial; that he has a good defense against the alleged irregularities in connection with a warehouse receipt and that he cannot prepare his defense in full until he gets in touch with a W. M. Meier, who is now in California.

When Archerd sent the affidavit, it is presumed he had not yet learned that his case has been set for the September term of court, instead of going to trial in the present term as at one time talked.

Pursuant to postponement, he also states he has been under great mental strain over a suit for foreclosure in Jackson county of Archerd vs. the Mining Brothers company in which he was a material witness for two days, and says he is not in fit condition as a result of this case to make the best accounting of himself.

Unusually Big Neon Sign Goes Up. Nelson Shop

A new Neon sign, one of the largest in town, blazed forth last night over the Nelson Brothers plumbing shop at 55 Chemeke street. The sign has four distinct colors: It is done in four light colors and contains different wording, in part, on either side.

Colors used in the big sign are blue, red, green and yellow, with the blue running to two shades, the lower end of the sign is a replica of the familiar paint bucket flowing over the earth to advertise Sherwin-Williams painters.

Nelson Brothers have the Neon sign agency here, and also handle roofing, painting and plumbing fixtures.

Jurges Refuses To Prosecute in Shooting Affair

CHICAGO, July 15.—(AP)—Violet Popovich Valli gladly admitted that Bill Jurges, Cub shortstop, was a "pretty swell fellow."

For the young Cub star had saved her life and then followed through by saving her from a probable jail sentence.

When the case of the pretty brunette was called today on a charge of assault with intent to kill Jurges July 6, the Cub player informed Judge John Sbarboro he did not wish to prosecute. The judge dismissed the charge and the girl walked out of the court free.

Under the Dome
Occurrences & Gossip at the center of Oregon's State Government

HOW do you like it? We mean the new type of heading for this column. Study the figures of the men carefully and you will perhaps recognize some familiar faces. So far we have been able to distinguish only one, or almost one. The one seated at the desk—if he doesn't look like us he certainly has our pose correctly.

The management presented us with this heading as a token of something or other—we are a little afraid to ask just what. Anyhow it sorts dresses up the "Under the Dome" feature and makes it an institution. So far we have heard from lots of readers in our year and half existence, plenty to warrant continuance.

The weather certainly is trying to discourage all these scheduled picnics Sunday. It may succeed in some of them, but it is doubtful whether the women's press club picnic can be stopped. Newsday is declared to be "all rain" anyhow, so what is a little rain more or less?

The death of a kitten ordinarily does not make news. But when a group of kiddies called upon your correspondent and wished official notice be given the death of a little gray pet kitten last night, that was different. To them this was a tragedy of major importance and the press was not to overlook it.

It seems the kitten had been run over by a car and breathed its last while these children stood watching it and trying to do something for the pet. Proper burial was accorded the animal, and it will be a long time before it will be forgotten. The kiddies desiring the notice were Peggy and Billy Bird, Joan Adolph and Sally and Jimmy Bernhard.

John W. Kelly, Oregonian political writer who for the past two years has been in Washington, D. C., paid the press gang and state officials a visit Thursday evening. John is looking the same as when he covered legislative sessions here. He said there were 360 newspapermen in Washington entitled to all press privileges.

OLINGER JUNIORS AHEAD IN SERIES

With showers interfering with most other activities on the playgrounds yesterday, baseball games were the chief interests. About a hundred boys were out during the day.

Fourteenth street juniors won 29 to 8 from the Lincoln Juniors and forged one game ahead in the series. Quamme, pitching for the 14th streeters, took the major hitting honors also, knocking out a home run and two three-base hits to bring in seven runs.

Two other ball games, between the 14th street intermediates and Nazarenes, resulted in wins for the 14th street boys, 3 to 1 and 4 to 3.

Oswald West, former governor of Oregon, with his interesting stories and conversation, descended upon the press room yesterday to make what was up to that time a dull day very much brighter. Os related several experiences at democratic meetings and voiced slighted of the national convention.

Talk about dull, even the state accident commission had to make its report without listing any casualties for the past week. The number of accidents, 495, was an increase over the list for several weeks in Oregon industry. But no casualties is good news.

Maytag Captures Championship in Kitball Circuit

The Maytag Washers took the Western Paper Converters to a cleaning in the final and deciding game of the kitball league last night thereby winning the championship. The score was 5 to 1.

The two teams split the first two games of a three game series necessitating a playoff last night.

Batteries were Bone and Kelly, Maytag, and Kitchen and Sandford for the Paper converters.

GIRL OF FOURTEEN NEW DIVING QUEEN

JONES BEACH, State Park, New York, July 15.—(AP)—A mite of a girl from Florida, Katherine Rawls of Miami Beach, aged 14, came to this Long Island beach resort today to dethrone the great Georgia Coleman as America's finest woman diver and give the outstanding performance of the first day of the Olympic swimming and diving trials for women.

Helene Madison of Seattle, holder of every world free style record for women, although several have not yet been accepted, was expected in the 100-meter free style event while Margaret Hoffman, of Kingston, Pa., came back to her championship form of 1930 to win the 200-meter breast stroke, the other event on today's program.

Legion Juniors Play Practice Contest Today

WOODBURN, July 15.—The Woodburn Junior Legion team which annexed the district title recently plays a practice game here Saturday afternoon when the youngsters play a team made up of boys who played last year on the Newberg Juniors' team. There probably will be other players on the team. The game is to be played in the Woodburn Legion park, starting at 2:30 in the afternoon.

A number of Woodburn's followers who are working for the boys' best interests are hoping that they will be beaten Saturday so they might work even harder in anticipation of the

Mortgages Are Principal Buyers

Practically all buyers of foreclosed real property are the holders of the mortgages, the sheriff's office announced yesterday after a check of sales made within the past year. In only three instances out of 109 sales were buyers parties other than the one who held the obligations. Sheriff Oscar Bower said he did not think foreclosures had been unusually numerous this year. Creditors have shown a willingness to extend the time of payment where debtors keep up interest and taxes, Bower said. Some instances of readjustment on interest rates to help a debtor meet his obligation have been reported.

Body Sent Back On Same Ticket After 8 Years

A. J. Wrens of Aberdeen, South Dakota, arrived in Salem in November, 1923, but later was stricken with illness and remained bedfast until July 4 of this year when he died.

Eight years later his body was sent back to Aberdeen on the same round trip railroad ticket that he purchased when he left Aberdeen for Salem.

"This organization has nothing to do with the floaters who must be maintained by charity, but is for citizens... who don't want to get into the breadline," Church said.

It is proposed to work out the scheme through issuance of currency or scrip, and named on the currency committee were J. M. Clifford, W. E. Wilmer and Roy R. Hewitt. The same three form the bylaws and constitution committee. A committee to recommend officers is: Harris, Dr. Frank Schutz, Frank Marshall and N. J. Reasoner.

The general group will meet again next Friday, with the project committee to report at that time.

Borah Refuses Dry Candidacy
