See Prune Pictures—Men and women working on the cherry packing crews at the Salem Cherry Growers' association in West Salem enjoyed a treat yesterday afternoon when O. C. Brooks, manager, showed them moving pictures of the persons on the cherry crews working during the prune season, thereby adding interest to the pictures. The film, taken by Brooks and Kathryn Gunnell, showed handling of the prunes from receipt at the packing plant to loading into the refrigerated cars.

Miller's July Clearance beginning today features good quality merchandise at extremely low prices. A special feature in the basement will be women's fine quality broadcloth wash frocks at $1. These were made to sell at $2. Read clearance ad on page 8.

Enrollment Slows Down—Few applications have been received from prospective freshmen at Willamette university in the last ten days. A decidedly smaller enrollment in the school is anticipated this fall because of prevailing economic conditions. Many students are eager to come, the registrar's office reports, but lack of funds will not make enrollment possible. Last year 634 students were enrolled the first semester and 696 the second. The attendance this fall is expected to exceed 500.

Child is Hurt—Dorothy Brown, aged nine, of route three, Salem, was taken to the hospital yesterday morning with a badly cut and bruised left leg. She was injured when the truck in which she was riding skidded on a slippery road and backed into a tree, pinning her leg between the truck and the tree. Mrs. G. L. Frost, route three, on the south river road, Mr. Frost reported that she would be able to return home Friday evening.

Newsman to Portland—A number of local newspapermen motored to Portland last night to attend the annual "gridiron" banquet of the Oregon Editorial association. Such a banquet was held here last year when the editors were guests of Salem. At that time the Meier-Hoss controversy formed the basis for a great round of jokes by the editorial visitors. The association's annual summer meeting closes tonight in Portland.

PYTHIANS PRESENT FLAG AT CHAMPOEG

State Emblem Will be Given Memorial Association at Exercises Sunday

Sunday, July 17, at Champeog park the Knights of Pythias will present to the Champeog Memorial association an Oregon state flag, funds for which have been provided by the order throughout the state. The public as well as members of the order is invited to come and enjoy the day. Coffee will be furnished free and those not bringing lunch can purchase on the grounds.

Leslie E. Crouch, supreme chancellor of Knights of Pythias, will make the presentation speech. This is a fitting time for this order to honor the state, as it is the first time the head of the order has been selected from Oregon. On behalf of the Memorial association the flag will be accepted by Peter H. D'Arcy of Salem.

Guests of honor will include many residents and former residents of Oregon, among them being Mrs. Caroline Kamm, a descendant of W. H. Gray, prominent in the organization of Oregon's provisional government; Mrs. Amelia Clemens of Hillsboro, first person of white blood born in what is now Multnomah county; F. X. Mathew, member of the group which formed the provisional government, will be represented by a son; John Floyd of Virginia, who introduced into congress the first measure favoring the acquisition of Oregon territory, will be represented by Mrs. E. T. Wethered, a daughter, and George H. Elmore, secretary of the Oregon Pioneer association.

Central lodge No. 18 of Salem expects to be represented by an attendance of about 100.

PRIVATE DELIVERY OF BILLS IS LEGAL

W. N. Hamilton, manager of the Portland General Electric company, in a communication to the Statesman quotes from a letter of the third assistant postmaster general to the effect that "there is no law prohibiting the private mail receptacles, such as electric light bills, gas bills, circulars, leaflets, newspapers."

The question was raised in newspaper articles recently regarding the practice of the electric company in delivering its own monthly invoices. Mr. Hamilton also quotes the postal laws which specifically permit delivery of such matter by special messenger employed for the particular occasion only, and concludes:

"The foregoing information is conveyed to you so that you may in turn convey it to the public if you see fit to do so, and thereby eliminate the idea that may be held by some people that firms who are delivering their bills and statements are doing so in violation of the laws of the land."

OREGON ELECTRIC CURTAILS SERVICE

Effective July 24, the Oregon Electric railway will discontinue all passenger trains on its lines with the exception of one train to Eugene and return each day, from Portland. The passenger service on the Forest Grove line will be entirely discontinued. The trains operating through Salem will be No. 1 southbound at 4:45 a. m., and No. 12 northbound at 4 p. m. Operating one train may be required to save its franchise in various cities.

At one time the Oregon Electric operated many passenger trains between Salem and Portland but auto bus competition has made steady inroads on its patronage until recently it has been running two trains each way daily. Another factor in loss of patronage was stopping of trains at the Jefferson street depot in Portland instead of running down 10th street through the business section.

E. F. Roberts, city passenger agent, will continue in charge of the passenger depot here, he stated yesterday. He also looks after sales of tickets on the parent roads of the O. E.

CHURCH OF GOD CONVENES 21ST

Annual State Camp Meeting At Woodburn Grounds To Attract Many

WOODBURN, July 15—For the 22d time, the state-wide convention of the Church of God of Oregon will be held in the grove north of Woodburn this year, beginning Thursday, July 21, and extending to Sunday, July 25. The Church of God owns a beautiful grove and surrounding grounds about a half a mile north of the city, along the railroad tracks.

There are a large auditorium, a kitchen, community store, library, and several other buildings on the grounds. Each year members of the Church of God from every part of Oregon gather there for the ten-day convention. Usually there are about 300 persons registered.

There are special sermons, worship meetings and young people's gatherings in the morning and afternoon and evangelistic services in the evenings. It has been especially pointed out that anyone, whether he is a member of the church or not, may attend any of the meetings.

Friday, July 22, will be observed as young people's day. On Wednesday a Sunday school day has been arranged for.

Chairman of the general program committee is O. K. Chapman. Others on the committee are F. E. Rawie, F. Van Lyden, G. E. H. Ahrendt and J. J. Gillespie. Chairmen of various special committees are: Sunday school day, Ruth Schaefer; young people's day, Walter Shrock; music, J. J. Gillespie; special music, Osa Chapman; camp grounds, J. L. Green.

NO SUMMER SLUMP HITS NAZARENES

The Church of the Nazarene is maintaining a busy summer schedule which includes a daily vacation Bible school, a program of special features for the Sunday night services, a ladies' chorus, and a program of young people's activities. The Sunday school, instead of a "summer slump" has made a 10 per cent increase in average attendance over the average for the entire year just past, says Rev. Fletcher Galloway, pastor.

The daily vacation Bible school opened Monday morning and 135 pupils have been enrolled to date. The school is held in the basement of the church, which has 103 and the pupils range in age from 4 to 14. Rev. Galloway is superintending the school. There are four departments which are supervised by eight teachers.

The women's chorus made its first public appearance last Sunday morning. It is being directed by Miss Viola Lottis. The chorus will sing again Sunday morning.

The pastor announces the following sermon subjects: 11 a. m., "Rich, unbounded, joyful living"; 8 p. m., "The special music for Sunday night will be request numbers."
