SILVERTON VISITOR GIVEN FINE HONOR

SILVERTON, July 20—Mrs. J. J. McConnell (Marguerite Longacre) has returned to Seattle after a short visit with her mother, Mrs. S. Longacre at Silverton. Mrs. McConnell, who is an Oregon girl, was recently accorded the honor of a tree dedicated to her on Recognition Lane on the new Sand Point Navy airport at Seattle.

The airport, after its establishment, needed decoration and Washington clubs, headed by the Evergreen club whose headquarters is at Seattle, are planting trees on the grounds. These trees are dedicated to living people who have done something outstanding for their community. No one can ask for a tree or buy a tree for another. The committee must choose the one to whom the tree is to be dedicated.

Mrs. McConnell, who has had an exceptionally interesting life, was given rare tributes at the time the tree was dedicated to her. She has helped unite in friendly spirit with the northwest. The daughter of the Chinese consul at Seattle, assisted in the dedication service.

Following the dedication Mrs. McConnell entertained at a tea at which there were 250 guests. Mrs. George Hubbs of Silverton poured at the tea, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Max Hubbs of Seattle assisted in serving. Mrs. McConnell will return to Silverton before long for another visit with her mother and other friends.
