

Senators' Eight Run Rally Beats Chicks Here 12 to 4

GAME TIED UP IN 8TH INNING

Ashby, Bashor, Gribble and Erickson Star at bat; Visitors Scraggy

A hard-scratching flock of Corvallis Chicks gave the Salem Senators a lot of trouble on Olinger field Wednesday afternoon, tying the score in the first half of the eighth inning after the Solons had enjoyed a lead up to that time. But, obeying the instructions of their absent boss, "Frisco" Edwards, to "hit 'em out all the time," the Senators pounced on their unwary foemen in the last half of the eighth for an eight run rally to win 12 to 8.

Triples by Gribble and Erickson and a two bagger by Gribble in that same inning were some of the high lights, but it was "Burly" Bashor who came through with the hit that sewed up the game, a smash through the box that the umpire just dodged. It scored two runs, the bases being loaded at the time.

This happened just after Jack Woodward, brother of the irrepressible "Lefty" of Oregon State fame, had been relieved by Carpenter who previously had robbed the Solons of three hits by spectacular catches in left field. Jack Woodward had held the home man to five hits up to the time he started to wobble in the eighth. Carpenter lasted only while three batsmen faced him and then "Lefty" himself took up the job.

Oregon State Hurler Falls to Stop Rally But "Lefty" was cold and the Senators were hot. Ashby drove in two runs with a single. Erickson came up when the bases were loaded and drove in three men with his triple, but he was caught on a squeeze play; Gribble's three bagger brought in one more.

The Senators had scored two in the first inning on two walks, a hit batsman, an outfield fly and an error. They got two more in the second on hits by Foreman, Ashby and Adams, with an error helping. The Chicks made up for those bobbles, however, by spearing half a dozen sure hits.

Ashby had a perfect day at bat with three blows and two walks. "Doby" Wood struck out nine men and held the visitors to seven hits, walking only one. Corvallis A B R H P O A E W. ## Biancone and Ted Giesecke Whitewashed

PASADENA, Cal., July 27.—(AP)—John Biancone, Oregon State quarterback star of 1931, and Ted Giesecke, Oregon back, who had been declared ineligible for further Pacific coast competition because of participating in soccer games in Woodland, Calif., were reinstated today by faculty representatives in meeting here.

The faculty representatives considered both cases only technical violations, inasmuch as the pair in participating in soccer league games in the northwest received no money, and voted reinstatement.

Athletes of the conference were permitted to participate in motion picture work at the fixed salary of $10 paid extras under an interpretation of the rules decided on in today's session, but the faculty ruled to bar from competition any athletes who permitted their names or pictures to be used in commercial advertising.

Approval of a 1932 grid schedule was given in the morning meeting, with four inter-sectional games listed. These are between Stanford and Northwestern at Evanston, Ill., Oct. 14; Utah and Oregon at Eugene, Ore., Nov. 4; Oregon State and Fordham at New York Nov. 18; and Southern California and Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., Nov. 25.

MAKING ATHLETIC HISTORY

Here's Bill Carr, of Pennsylvania, breaking the tape to win the 400-meter event in the final of the American Olympic tryouts and national championships at Palo Alto, Cal. Carr set a world's record of 46.9 seconds for the event, proving that his victory in the I. C. 4A meet was not a fluke. Ben Eastman, the Stanford star quarter-miler, is shown finishing second.

CURT COMMENTS

The whiskered ball players of the House of David will be here August 18, to play the Senators. These colorful ball players and murderous hitters are always popular here. Don't know yet if Grover Cleveland Alexander is still a convert. He played with this team last year, pitching a few innings every day so the fans in all the towns could get a look at him. But that was the first season in many years that House of David passed up Salem.

Among the ball players Harold Olinger is known as "Slug", but since reading intimations in "Skits and Scratches" this week

U. S. HOPE

Eddie Tolan (above) of Detroit is looked upon as a sure point scorer for Uncle Sam in the 100- and 200-metre sprints at the Olympic Games. The former University of Michigan negro star finished second to Ralph Metcalfe in the tryouts in both events.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 27.—(AP)—While Portland was busy trouncing the Mission Reds, 6 to 3, here tonight, Hollywood lost to Seattle and the Beaver-Ducks moved forward to a three-game lead over their nearest rivals for the coast league leadership.

Portland and the Missions each scored in the first, Eckhardt scoring on Almada's single for the Reds and Berger, of Portland, slamming the first pitched ball over the left field fence for a home run.

Portland scored three more in the fifth and two in the seventh. The Missions added one in the seventh and another in the ninth when Almada connected for a home run.

Winfield Needham, beaten in the championship flight Tuesday, advanced Wednesday in the first flight formed of the beaten 16 in the title flight. Millard Groves' victory over his high school team mate, Walter Cline, Jr., puts him in the quarter-finals of the second flight.

Although the wire report does not carry mention of flights beyond the second, Larry Blaisdell at latest report was still winning in the fourth flight. Bill Hemenway is in the fifth flight after losing in the fourth.

that Harold was in the habit of running too much in one place, there is a tendency to change it to "Treadmill."

Joe Mack and Lefty Woodward put on a lot of horse play at Wednesday's game here and the fans who stayed away missed some color. This boy Woodward, in addition to being a mighty good pitcher under ordinary circumstances, is fast on his feet.

After chasing a Shetland pony around the outfield before the game, Lefty put on another speed exhibition when he beat out a bunt, stole second, took third while an argument was under way, and then tried to score on a squeeze play. But he overplayed his luck. Gribble came in fast and threw him out in a play which featured a resounding collision between the fast boy and "Burly" Bashor at the plate.

When Carpenter in left field robbed Walt Erickson of a home run or something with a leaping one-handed catch, all the peppery Corvallis boys did a Spring Dance in emulation of his feat.

The House of David game comes on a Saturday and will be played at 2:30, missing that blinding sun that spoils many twilight games. In the one Wednesday, the sun hid behind a cloud twice while the Senators were at bat and came out again while the Chicks were up. Then it turned around and favored the Chicks, and that was when they tied the score.

DALLAS, July 27.—In the next to the last game in the 1932 twilight league Tuesday night the Industrials scored a 6 to 2 victory over the Legion Hares. The Legion was playing without the services of the regular pitcher, Pemberton, and staged their regular season windup by letting any member of the team who wished, do the twirling.

One more game remains on the schedule, but will not affect the championship as the Farmers have already won the cup for the fourth consecutive time. The Legion Hares will meet the Firemen Thursday night in the last game. This is a playoff of the 9 to 0 tie the teams played several days ago.

Batteries for the Industrial-Legion game were: Stoltenberg and Luthé for the Industrials; and Vaughn, Quiring, McCann and McCann, Vaughn. Umpires were Garrett and Patterson.
