Hayden on Vacation—The automobile license moratorium may expire, but it won't worry Justice of the Peace Hayden a bit—at least not for a week. For Judge Hayden, with Mrs. Hayden, left by automobile yesterday for a week's vacation trip into southern Oregon, and possibly along the coast highway into northern California. Their first stop will be at Bandon. Judge Hayden will be out of the office only a week now, that being all the time he can take off due to the rush of business that will come on when the district attorney's staff is relieved from the murder trials to be completed next week. He may take another week early in the fall.

Picnic is Saturday—Former Wisconsin people and their families who reside in Marion county and valley points will hold their annual picnic next Saturday, August 6, at the municipal auto park here. About 100 persons are expected to attend, according to A. C. Bohrnstedt, president. A picnic luncheon will be enjoyed at 2 p. m. and a program of various activities will complete the afternoon. Entrance to the park will be free, and of course picnickers are expected to provide their own food and dishes.

Special dinner, 5 to 9 p. m. 35c. Senator Food Shop.

Marriage Licenses—Three marriage licenses were issued here yesterday to bring the total for July to 33, slightly more than one a day. Receiving them yesterday were: Edward Roy Chapman, 24, Springfield laborer, and Jessie M. Valet, 16, Salem route 8, housekeeper; Fred A. Marquis, 21, independent laborer, and Edna Orey, 17, Independence student; Clarence T. Heiser, 40, Snohomish, Wash., saw filer, and Linda B. Ferguson, 39, Gervais housekeeper.

Don't Miss It—Special Virginia baked ham and chicken dinner Sunday. All new decorative table linen made by Salem Linen mills. Price 50c, Hotel Argo.

Tennessee Picnic—The annual Tennessee picnic will be held next Sunday, August 7, at the city auto park, with an old-fashioned Tennessee style dinner to be served at noon. All former Tennessee people are invited to attend. Races and games, particularly for the youngsters, will be held in the forenoon, and in the afternoon there will be a program of varied interest.

Miss Jory Better—Some improvement is noted in the condition of Miss Ada Jory, who has been quite seriously ill for the past month at her home on Fawk avenue. Miss Jory has been a resident here all her life, and has a wide circle of friends. She is the daughter of the pioneer, William Jory, who with his five brothers took up donation land claims in what is now the Liberty section.

Correct Postage Used—Since the first rush of mistakes, letters lacking three-cent postage are seldom received at the local post office, reports A. E. Giffard, assistant postmaster. Many have believed that rates on postal cards were raised, and numbers of inquiries are received concerning it. Cards seldom contain more than one cent in postage, however.

TOMORROW will be the first day of August—the month of vacations—and in addition this year the great Olympic games will be staged at Los Angeles—republicans will bet on leadership in Oregon—and the Oregon supreme court will take its annual vacation of one month. Several opinions will be handed down tomorrow as the final windup.

John Kelly, political writer on the Oregonian, in an informal discussion the other night said he would remain in Oregon for a while, at least until Congress reconvenes next December. John likes Oregon a lot, but knowing his deeper likeness for politics a note of desire to return to the national capitol was certainly detected in his talk.

And just when the republicans believed they had everything fixed up yesterday by the election of Leslie Scott as chairman of the state central committee, Scott yep and refuses the post. As a compromise candidate Scott was probably the most fitted for the position.

Your correspondent missed writing this column yesterday for the reason he took a trip to Portland to listen to the highway commission hand a lot to Salem and its environs and also to attend the republican caucus of Friday night. But the caucus was short lived. Nothing could be agreed upon.

The state highway commission the two members at least—did a lot for this section of the state at the meeting Friday afternoon. Not only did they agree to improve the Pacific highway to Aurora, but also added some work on the Santiam highway out of the federal aid funds. There will be lots more work to be done which will be decided later.

The commission meets again Friday of this week at the same place—the Benson hotel at Portland. At this session it is believed more work for Oregon will be decided. But the big session will be at Portland August 24. It is hoped that by the time of the Friday meeting a new commissioner will be appointed.

One of the familiar figures around the state capitol will be missed after tomorrow. Gordon Wilson, salesman for the Shell

Oil company here, has been transferred to the Portland office of the firm. His many friends here are glad to hear of the promotion, but sorry to see him leave. Several newspapermen honored him with a party last night.

And the moratorium is ended tonight. It looks like a lot of us will have to buy licenses the first thing tomorrow morning or put our cars in "hook." And Charlie Pray says there will be no leniency, and we just have a feeling that the first car he looks for Monday morning will be ours. Guess we better keep it in the garage.

William Hammond, in charge of the operators license division, was here the past two days after an operation for appendicitis. He says he will be back on the job again the coming week. In the meantime Colonel Ray Olson was taken to the hospital here yesterday because of an attack of appendicitis. The same good fortune is wished the colonel.

Phillip Fischer, bridge foreman, is completing work on a bridge near Broadacres, and will move Tuesday or Wednesday to market road number 24, that passes around the Wheatland bottom. On road 24 he will put in a Port Orford concrete bridge about 500 feet long which will require between two and three carloads of piling.

This job will require about a month, and from it he will move his crew a short distance to another piling bridge, about 200 feet long. From here he will move to a district road in the Wheatland ferry area to put in a 100-foot bridge.

Peter Jensen, who is also handling some of the smaller bridge work for the county, started yesterday constructing a concrete culvert near the Waconda district. The job will require two or three weeks.

Oscar Storaasli of Silverton, who contracted to handle several county bridge jobs, is north of Salem near the McNary farm, where he had about half completed his third job. From here he will move his crew to put in a small concrete bridge on the Geer market road.

COUNTY ROAD JOBS ARE NEARING CLOSE

Crews and Equipment Being Moved to Other Units, Says Roadmaster

Several road jobs in the county were near an end yesterday, and foremen were preparing to move their equipment and crews to new jobs Monday or Tuesday.

Lee Wells, foreman on the grading job in the Ankeny Bottom district, reported to Roadmaster Frank Johnson that he would be ready Tuesday to move to the Abiqua road northeast of Salem, where he will direct grading of two and a half miles of road.

Another grading job is being finished by L. M. Van Cleave, who yesterday moved a load of tools and tile to the Hubbard-Woodburn road along the Southern Pacific track, where grading will be done, starting Tuesday. Van Cleave and his crew have been working on a new road near Broadacres.

THREE LARGE SUITS ON FILE AT DALLAS

DALLAS, July 30—Three actions were filed Saturday in the county clerk's office in which the principal amounts asked total $45,000.

The Prudential Life Insurance company of America is the plaintiff in two of the actions. In the first, the Prudential is against R. L. Walker, Mary E. Walker, and others. The plaintiff asks a judgment against the Walkers to the amount of $11,000 with 10 per cent interest from April 17, 1932; $229.17 with interest at 10 per cent from April 1, 1932; $88.24 at 10 per cent interest from July 28, 1932; $10 for continuing the abstract; $600 special attorney's fees; and all costs and disbursements by the plaintiff in this action.

In the second Prudential claim Garnet E. McCrow, Clara E. McCrow, and others are defendants. The plaintiff asks a judgment for $10,000 at 10 per cent interest from October 1, 1931; $94.17 at 10 per cent interest from October 1, 1931; $231.85 with 10 per cent interest from July 27, 1932; $70.50 at 10 per cent interest from July 27, 1932; $10 for continuing the abstract; $550 special attorney's fees; and all costs and disbursements of the action.

The third action filed was J. A. Luckel vs. the Wattenberg company. In it the plaintiff asks for a judgment of $21,000 at 6 per cent interest from July 1, 1931 to date, and at 10 per cent interest until paid; $95 at 10 per cent interest from July 1,
