

'UNUSUAL WEATHER' IS NOTED FOR JULY

More Like Fall With Rain And Temperature not Above 90 Degrees

"We're enjoying fall this summer and we may have summer this fall," has been about the way local residents have summed up the weather situation so far, and resume of July weather conditions bolster the contentions of these persons.

For in July, the hottest day recorded only a 90-degree temperature, that on July 21. In July 8 year ago, eight days equaled or bettered that heat, and on the 19th day of the month in 1931, the thermometer raised to 101 degrees, record for that month.

The record low July temperature for Salem was repeated here the fifth day of last month, with the minimum of 35 degrees recorded. The minimum of July, a year ago, was 40 degrees, and the highest minimum was 57 degrees, reached twice.

The mean maximum for the month just closed was slightly more than 79 degrees; and the mean minimum, slightly higher than 49 degrees. The average mean was 64 plus.

The greatest daily range for the month just ended was 44 degrees, reached twice, on the 8th and 12th.

There were 11 clear days, 10 part cloudy and 10 cloudy days last month, as compared to 23 clear days, five part cloudy and three cloudy in July, 1931.

Rainfall for July was .65 inch, all recorded during the first 16 days, while last year there was no rain in July. In July, 1930, there was .05 inch of rain the second day of the month. The last rainfall July of this year fell the 16th, with .01 inch. There was .08 inch July 11 and July 15, .12 inch July 10 and July 10, .12 inch July 13 and .02 inch July 4, with a trace of rain on July 3.

"SON" CLAIMS WENDEL MILLIONS

JOHN GWENDEL'S "MARRIAGE CERTIFICATE"
From Dundee, Scotland, comes the latest claimant to the vast estate of the late Ella Wendel, spinster reclus of New York, to spread consternation amongst the 6,000 or so other people who are engaged in a legal battle for a share of the $75,000,000 left by the last of the Wendels. The new character to monopolize the spotlight is Thomas Patrick Morris, who bases his claim to the estate on the assertion that he is the son of John Gottlieb Wendel, brother of Ella, by a secret marriage. Unlike the other claimants, Morris is armed with documentary evidence that apparently substantiates his claim. One of the exhibits introduced is a time-yellowed marriage certificate purporting to be that of John Wendel to Mary Ellen Devine, of Edinburgh, Scotland. Morris says he is a child of that marriage, accounting for the name Morris by the fact that he was brought up by foster parents in Scotland. Morris is also in possession of a book he asserts was given him by his father. The front fly leaf of this volume bears written instructions, signed "John G. Wendel," telling the story of his secret marriage and subsequent quarrel with his bride over religious differences. On the back fly leaf of the book is what is purported to be a will. This, too, is signed "John G. Wendel," and leaves the testator's entire property to Thomas Patrick Morris. If the man from Dundee can substantiate his claim, it is probable he will be named sole heir to the Wendel fortune, as he is the only claimant who comes within the third degree of blood relationship.

HARRIS HAS CONTRACT
MEHAMA, Aug. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Harris and Ivan Harris were home a few days looking after their property. They are in eastern Oregon where they have a contract hauling wheat from Arlington to Portland. The children are in Coquille with Mrs. Harris' parents.

TRIANGLE FEATURE IN 'HEARTSTRINGS'

Girl (Beautiful of Course) Finds Herself in Queer Tangle of Romance

Is it ever right for a girl to permit attentions from the husband of a close friend? Even if the husband and wife are estranged and the girl thinks he is her ideal love?

Edwina Macdonald, noted author, offers this complex problem from real life to readers of The Statesman in "Heartstrings," her new novel which begins serially Sunday, August 7.

Pamela and Jimmy Warren thought their marriage idyll was over. Patricia Braithwait thought so too, convinced by the cynical reflections of Pam, her closest friend, who confides that after eight years of happiness, her marriage has lost its glamor. As Jimmy paid closer court to her, Pat came to believe that it was they who were the real lovers.

There was one flaw, one discordant note. That was the admiration which Jack Laurence evinced for the beautiful Pat. Jack was as fascinating as the dashing Jimmie, as well as extremely eligible and rich. And Pat's father admitted to her that he was bereft of the fortune she thought still remained in the Braithwait family.

The triangle moves to Paris where Pat studies painting and attempts to settle her dilemma. Here matters gather for a climax that contains enough potential emotional dynamite to satisfy the most fervent seeker after thrills and dramatic situations.

Be sure to follow "Heartstrings" every day in The Statesman.

Wild Blackberries Plentiful This Year

JEFFERSON, Aug. 1.—Wild blackberries are plentiful in the hills in the Silver Creek district. Friday, Ralph Weddle and daughter Frances, Geraldine Jones, J. R. McKee and John Alexander made a trip up there and came home with well filled buckets of the luscious berries.

Laura Kibb and Beulah Wilson of the local Evangelical church left for Jennings lodge Monday where they will attend the summer assembly of the Oregon conference Evangelical church during this week.

VON GRONAU ARRIVES AT MONTREAL

RESERVES' OUTING GREATLY ENJOYED

The summer season at Camp Santaly, Girl Reserve camp on the Santiam, was the most happy and successful one ever experienced, reports Mrs. Elizabeth Gallaher, camp director. About 75 girls attended all together, a larger number than formerly. The friendship idea carried out proved a valuable theme, and was the basis for pageants and discussion. Mrs. Gallaher stated that the daily program used was very satisfactory, and the girls seemed to enjoy it. Dr. David Bennett Hill spent one day at Camp Santaly taking motion pictures of the girls about their work and recreation. These included all the important activities of camp life. These will likely be shown in September, when a big camp rally is held.

Another interlude to camp routine came Thursday night when members of the Salem Zonta club were special guests. In their honor a pageant, "An Adventure in Friendship," was put on by the Girl Reserves, with parts taken by Barbara Pierce, Edith Morehouse, Flavia Downs, Mary Frances Entress, Edith Jones, Jean Pound, Alice Chandler, Evelyn DeMarais, Agnes Chandler, Evelyn lotte Hill.

Angel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilbert, Christine Heeman, Cleo and Adele Amort, Georgia Spencer and George Berg, all of Salem.

July Low Month In Job Handling At Y. W. Bureau

July saw a falling off in both number of jobs available and in applications for same at the employment department of the Y. W. C. A., according to the monthly tabulation of Mrs. M. B. Wabstaff, employment secretary. Only 44 jobs were open and for these there were 390 applicants or almost 10 for every job. Thirty-seven of the 44 jobs were filled, 25 permanently and 12 temporarily. Nursing and household work formed the bulk of the demand for help.

PRACTICE GOES ON FOR WATER EVENT

Practice for the big water pageant to be staged at Olinger playground pool Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock is occupying attention of children and instructors on that ground. Two practices are announced for today, one at 11 o'clock and another in the afternoon.

At the 11 o'clock rehearsal, the Cherry City baking company truck will be on hand to make a practice broadcast, so this end of the Wednesday event will move smoothly.

The pageant is the most pretentious undertaking of the Olinger playground this season, and children are anticipating that a large crowd of parents and townspeople will come out to witness the event.

In a baseball double header yesterday afternoon, Olinger and Lincoln split the games, Olinger winning the first 10 to 5 and Lincoln the second 5 to 4 after Earl knocked the only homer of the day to bring in the winning run.

Scott Successor Is Not Yet Found

Selection of a man to succeed Leslie M. Scott as a member of the state highway commission is still being considered at the office of the state executive here. Governor Meier was not in Salem yesterday but was expected today. Several prominent Portlanders have been under consideration and it was understood yesterday that the post had been offered to one of them who was considering his acceptance or rejection. The governor has indicated he would not hurry in his selection of a new commissioner.

RUNS AWAY

Because she thought she had become a burden to her family, Miss Fannie Turnhill, a student at Vassar College, ran away from her Lake Forest, Chicago, home and is being anxiously sought by her parents, friends and police. Miss Turnhill is twenty and very pretty.

76 GASOLINE

breaks 5 records in grueling hill climb tests again proving its lower performance cost!

ON STEEP, crooked grades in the Sierra Madre mountains two strictly stock cars carrying full service equipment and under the supervision and timing of American Automobile Association officials, broke 5 major western hill climbing records last week.

Report of Eye Witness
Earl Cooper, famous racing driver, an observer of the tests, states:
"These grades varied from 6 to 22% and the cars changed altitude as much as 335 feet per minute. Only a master fuel with thoroughly stable anti-knock and power qualities could have brought the cars through with these records. 76 Gasoline, which was used throughout the runs, has again proved itself to be the finest anti-knock non-premium fuel ever offered."

What This Means to You!
These records not only show you how to get thrilling performance from your car—they again prove the LOWER PERFORMANCE COST of 76 Gasoline!

Four factors account for this advantage:

1. FINEST NON-PREMIUM ANTI-KNOCK—that stands up in hottest summer heat or on the toughest mountain grades.
2. GREATER POWER—76 contains the power-producing fractions of the distillation range that assure maximum energy on every piston stroke.
3. INCREASED MILEAGE—you notice this varying in extent with the type and condition of your car and the adjustment of your carburetor.
4. QUICKER STARTING—which means less gas at the choke and less wear on your battery—further economy.

We want you to try 76—to take full advantage of its LOWER PERFORMANCE COST. But we do not ask you to switch blindly. We'll back your test with this guarantee.

After you try ten gallons of New Union 76, if you do not recognize an improvement over any non-premium fuel you have used, just send us your receipt and we will refund the amount of your purchase in cash. Watch for the 76!

It's easy to find 76. Thousands of Independent Dealers and all Union Service Stations, Inc., have it. Just slow down when you see the big 76 banners. There you'll find the gasoline that broke 5 major hill climbing records and all the American Stock Car speed records from 1 to 500 miles.

For LOWER PERFORMANCE COST—WATCH for the 76!

HERE ARE HILL CLIMBING RECORDS MADE WITH 76!
