

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE ASKS USE OF AUTO

Progress Toward Collecting Supply of Foodstuffs is Reported by Group

Call for a car and driver to be used often or occasionally in the work of the Salem Industrial League, is made by Acting Manager, Harris, 215 Oregon building, and any person having such car is asked to get in touch with Mr. Harris.

The league is the latest development in local relief activities and is designed to promote self-help rather than charity and doles. Senator Sam H. Brown of Gervais is president.

Its aim is to seek and secure without cost, all possible foodstuffs that would otherwise go to waste. It is devising script with which it proposes to pay for both labor and products and with which its products may in turn be purchased. Directors and volunteer workers are quietly but actively progressing in the location of fruits and other foodstuffs and fuel, also means of storing and preserving the same pending distribution and consumption.

While considerable quantities of fruit, vegetables and meat have been located, any information as to the location of other similar products that may be available will be gladly received. The work of securing permanent quarters for operating, storing and disposing is under way with definite locations being considered. In addition to the generous offer of a local cannery, which will be improved, the cooperation of dryers and evaporators is also being sought.

Many are volunteering assistance and owners of plants for cold storage and preservation of foodstuffs are invariably prompt in complying with requests for cooperation. The board of directors will meet again next Friday night, it being the purpose to keep actively pressing developments along all lines.

FEDERATED CLUBS PLAN BIG PICNIC

What promises to be one of the largest gatherings ever assembled at Champeog park will be the Marion County Federated Community Clubs picnic at Champeog on Labor day.

Dr. Henry Morris and Dr. P. O. Riley, in charge of the program, report great enthusiasm in every club. The day's activities will begin at 10 a. m. sharp with sports of all kinds and a championship horseshoe pitching battle. All clubs may have entrants and valuable prizes will be given.

STAGES GOING TO COAST ANNOUNCED

Two new stage services to the coast were announced here yesterday by M. A. Reed, general manager of Oregon Stages. The new schedules go into effect today.

At 9:15 a. m. a bus will leave Salem and going by way of McMinnville, will reach Valley Junction at 11:10 a. m. There connections will be made with Tillamook to the northwest or Taft to the west.

At 1 p. m. daily a stage will leave here going to Newport and Toledo by way of McMinnville. The stage will reach Toledo at 6:33 p. m. going over the Salmon river cutoff to the coast and then south.

Traffic on stage lines along the coast is increasing very rapidly, Mr. Reed reports. Additional schedules must be added if traffic continues to develop.

Recreation Work At Livesley Hop Yard is Planned

Health and recreation work among the hop pickers at the T. A. Livesley yards will be resumed this year with the same leaders as last year, Margaret E. Nelson and Wesley Heise, at the start of the season. Mrs. Nelson also has served as supervisor at Lincoln playground for the past two summers; Heise is a student at Oregon State college.

This year's program, the same as that of last year, will consist of organized games, care of smaller children, playground supervision, evening entertainment and first aid.

Haid Candidate; Formerly Here

Herbert Haid of Aloha, Washington county, is to be an independent candidate for the office of county clerk in that county, according to announcement this week at Hillsboro. Haid, a former Salem resident, has many friends here. For a number of years he was bookkeeper for the H. L. Stiff Furniture company here. He then served as receiver of the Oregon Nursery company at Orance. His daughter, Mrs. Clifford Knickerbocker, was active in social affairs in Salem. Haid will oppose Edward C. Luce, incumbent, and J. E. Morrissey, Democratic nominee.

RADIO SINGERS TO APPEAR AT GRAND

Arizona Wranglers are on Sunday and Monday Bill; "Sheriff" Here too

Here's important news for the people of Salem. The Arizona Wranglers, most widely known and "humanest" of the nation's radio entertainers, will make a personal appearance at the Grand theatre here Sunday and Monday, August 7 and 8.

The Arizona Wranglers and the Sheriff, heard regular over radio station KNX, Hollywood, will make this city a stopover on their summer's personal tour of the coast, and will be seen in several stage performances here.

The entire troupe will be on hand. The Sheriff, whose real name is Loyal Underwood, will be master of ceremonies in their stage performances. Uncle Iron Tail, Dynamite, Nubbins, Sleepy, Hungry Shorty and Slicker will all be on hand and will give their inimitable renditions of the popular old ballads of the west. Musical numbers, wisecracks and a collection of their best radio stunts will be presented.

The coast tour of the Arizona Wranglers is more than an ordinary event. They will be given a motorcycle escort between every city in California and special ceremonies will greet them in each town.

Their appearance here will also bring coastwide publicity for Salem. For many days preceding their visit, KNX will broadcast the announcement from Hollywood of the Wranglers' plans for this city.

Real westerners from the plains, these performers got their start playing and singing for Saturday night dances in small Arizona towns. Though they were given their big chance with KNX and made a go of it, they are still the same. Invited to Hollywood that first invaded Hollywood with their musical instruments over their shoulders and dust on their high heel boots. In their first personal tour they broke all house records in the towns they played, and are expected to play to capacity crowds here.

'South of Santa Fe' Will Close Hollywood Week

Bob Steele will be seen as a modern knight in his new western drama, "South of Santa Fe," coming to the Hollywood for Friday and Saturday.

As the hero of the story, Bob is continually looking for excitement and adventure. He finds it on the ranch of a friend who is trying to get out of the country with the secret of a fabulously rich gold mine he has discovered.

The young cowboy rides to his aid just in time to find his fill of adventure, fighting and outwitting the desperados who are trying to discover the secret of the hidden mine and to record it in their own name.

Supporting Steele will be seen a cast which includes Ed Brady, Ed Dunn, Janis Elliott and Buddy Wood. Bert Glennon directed and the film is a Sono Art-World Wide release.

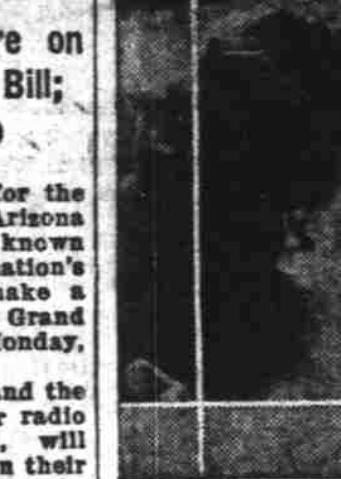

Many Cars from Other States at City Auto Camp

The largest registration of out-of-state motorists this summer was made at the Oregon State Motor association office here last week. Forty four cars from seven states were given permits to operate temporarily in Oregon.

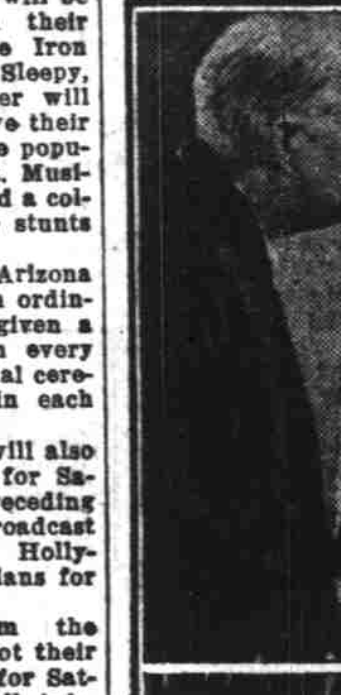

Led by California and Washington, the other states also included New Jersey, New York, Wisconsin, Ohio and British Columbia.

Two New Jersey tourists, who registered yesterday, said they had visited this region last year and were returning to see more of the country and to visit Victoria, B. C. They encountered hot weather all the way across the continent.

'LOST SQUADRON' TO BE OFFERED, GRAND

A movie within a movie, depicting the neck-breaking stunts of the film daredevil in a thrilling modern day romance of the air and Hollywood, comes to the Grand theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. "The Lost Squadron," starring Richard Dix. It is said to be his most romantic and dangerous role to date.

The film is Hollywood's answer to the persistent public plea for an action film based on the adventurous exploits of men courting danger for the sake of the thrill it gives them.

The thrills in the picture are genuine. The author of the story, Dick Grace, the screen's king of stunt aviators, makes three breathless crackles—one into the ocean and the other two are perpendicular power dives to the earth.

"The Lost Squadron" is the story of an air picture in the making. The gay panoply of Hollywood's great film industry is revealed most intimately. Great batteries of cameras fill the screen on occasion; a gala Hollywood premiere is shown and the mysterious sound stages are opened for the first time to public inspection.

The cast is in every respect equal to the subject matter. Supporting Dix are Mary Astor, Erich von Stroheim, Joel McCrea, Dorothy Jordan, Robert Armstrong, Hugh Herbert and others.

'Riding Tornado' Opens New Week Bill, The Grand

"The Riding Tornado," Tim McCoy's newest western for Columbia, showing Sunday and Monday at the Grand theatre, again finds Wallace MacDonald cast in a prominent role. MacDonald has played important parts in several McCoy features, his last being "Daring Danger," in which he played the lovable role of Jug Handle. In "The Riding Tornado" he plays a part that has a surprise twist.

Others in the cast of "The Riding Tornado" include Shirley Grey, Wheeler Oakman, Montagu Love and Lyle McKe. D. Ross Lederman, veteran director of westerns, handled this one.

William Powell and Kay Francis are glimpsed from one of the scenes in "Jewel Robbery" showing today and Monday at Warner Bros. Elsinore.

'ARROWSMITH' AT HOLLYWOOD TODAY

Ronald Colman Shares Good Vehicle With Stars of Speaking Stage

Three of the foremost players of the speaking stage, and an actor who is foremost on the screen in his own right, appear together in "Arrowsmith." Samuel Goldwyn's production of Sinclair Lewis' novel, which comes to the Hollywood theatre Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. Besides Ronald Colman, who plays the leading role of the crusading young doctor, there are Helen Hayes, Richard Bennett and A. E. Anson, all of them bringing years of fame and experience to this production.

Helen Hayes recently introduced to the screen as a star in her own right in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet," occasioned a furore on Broadway a few years ago in "Oleanna" and has ever since been recognized as one of the queens of the stage.

Richard Bennett, as the father of Constance, Joan and Barbara Bennett, is already famous in the screen world. His activities have, however, been largely confined to the stage where, for the last 20 years, he has been one of the most eminent American actors.

In addition, the cast of "Arrowsmith" brings back Benish Bondi, who was the individual hit player of Samuel Goldwyn's "Street Scenes" and Myrna Loy, John Ford directed.

JUMP

DOES PRINT "JUMP" BEFORE YOUR EYES?

If you wear bifocals of the ordinary kind, they are likely to cause a "jump of vision" as you switch from looking out at distant objects, to reading your paper. You may become accustomed to this "jump," but it requires extra energy from your eyes. Today there is a new bifocal, better for distance and better for reading, that minimizes the annoying "jump"
