Under the Dome

WILLIAM EINZIG, state purchasing agent, was busy yesterday running between the hospital and his office, and there was a good reason why. Jimmy, his oldest child, was being operated on for the removal of his tonsils and adenoids, and Bill was plenty worried. However, all is well with the lad and the purchasing agent was able in the afternoon to settle down to real work again.

In between times Bill was greeting old friends from Washington in attendance here at the Rotary convention. Harry Cotton of Port Townsend, Stewart Manell of Seattle and several from Port Angeles dropped in to see him while in attendance at the district assembly session which opened here yesterday. There were quite a number of familiar "fellows" in the statehouse during the day.

The Rotarians met in the house of representatives and before noon more than 125 had registered for the two-day session. The presence of these service club officials, presidents and secretaries being the ones present at this assembly, lent a busy air to the capitol, an unusual scene for the month of August when so many of the state officials and others are on vacation.

Earl Cooley, of the vocational education department, was proudly posing out cigars yesterday. Earl is the father of a fine seven pound, five ounce daughter, born early yesterday. And Earl is plenty proud. The first child has been named Elizabeth Adell. His many friends in Coos county where he had charge of the 4-H club work will be glad to hear the news.

A group of National Guard officers from Portland, members of General George A. White's staff, were here yesterday conferring with headquarters on arrangements for the parade to be staged by the American Legion convention starting in Portland September 12, just about a month from now. Major General White will be marshal of the day, and Brigadier General Thomas E. Riley will be his deputy.

With such a rapid and definite change in weather, we are wondering what has become of all the swimming parties one heard so much about all last week. It takes just a little cold weather and perhaps a little rain to discourage any

Fifty Cents an Hour U. S. Wage On Highway Jobs

The United States government, through its bureau of roads, has adopted a wage scale of 50 cents per hour for highway construction operations, based on a six hour day schedule, according to information received at the offices of the state highway commission Monday.

A similar wage schedule for highway work also has been adopted by Montana and a large number of other states. In most cases the states have adopted a six hour day.

The wage scale of 50 cents per hour, with a six hour day, is similar to the operating schedule approved by the Oregon state highway commission.

Battery Charge Faced by Bemis

Claude Bemis faced two charges in justice court yesterday, one, assault and battery, growing out of a family altercation and the second, non support. On the first charge he pleaded guilty and was fined $25. The fine was remitted and Bemis placed on probation for six months. This charge was made by Helen Turner. On the non-support charge, he pleaded not guilty and the case was continued indefinitely and Bemis was released on his own recognizance.

DEFENSE OF STATE DRY LAW PLANNED

'Committee of one Hundred' To Open Headquarters In Portland Soon

Preservation of the state dry law, the Anderson act, which provides enforcement machinery for state and municipal officers is the object of the Oregon Citizens' Committee of One Hundred, organization of which has just been perfected, with J. R. Ellison of Portland as general chairman. Mr. Ellison yesterday announced that headquarters will be opened tomorrow morning at 381 Taylor street, Portland, and that the members will confine their efforts to the combating of repeal of the statute.

The executive committee is composed of Mr. Ellison, Dr. Levi T. Pennington, Ray Gill, Mrs. W. T. Brice, George Wilbur Reed, Dr. Frank E. Brown of Salem, Thaddeus W. Venness, Ivan C. Anderson and Mrs. Sallie Orr. Dunbar, Mr. Ellison issued the following statement as to the status and purpose of the committee, which he said would welcome volunteers, both men and women, to the cause, in its efforts to defeat repeal:

"The function of the committee will be confined solely to the matter of preservation of the state prohibition law, leaving all other questions in the field of prohibition to other bodies. The activities will be directed primarily to the stimulation, aid and coordination of the efforts of groups and the information and enlightenment of voters not likely to respond to the other organizations in the field."

"We recognize the place of other temperance and prohibition organizations and will endeavor to conduct our work in a way that will interfere as little as possible with their endeavor, supplementing wherever possible and coordinating with them as much as may be possible. It is clear that there is need for clarification of the one issue of preservation of the state prohibition law and the arousal of citizens to the serious effects of the repeal of same, as distinct from all other issues, at least while the 18th amendment is a part of the federal constitution. Therefore, the committee will conduct a widespread educational campaign covering this one matter. Eventually, we hope to inform the public, including young people especially, as to the evils of alcohol upon the moral, mental and physical being, and to show that repeal of the state law now under attack through an initiative measure, would work great havoc with enforcement, stripping state and municipal officers of enforcement authority and generally bringing about chaos in this regard."

"The committee will prepare just as soon as possible a document for widespread distribution, which will sharply define the issue, point out the significance of same and challenge the voters to thoughtful consideration. We will urge citizens to register and vote. Dr. Daniel A. Polling will address public meetings throughout the state as may be found feasible from September 7 to 20 and other noted speakers will be requested as a part of the campaign."

Gervais Station Will be Closed
Five Southern Pacific station agencies will be closed August 19.

the company informed Charles M. Thomas, public utilities commissioner Monday. These include agencies at Beaverton, Gervais, Lowell, Shedd and Yamhill. Lack of business sufficient to pay operating costs was assigned as the cause.

Lease Property For State Park

The state highway commission announced Monday it had leased approximately 200 acres of land in the vicinity of the Elk Creek tunnel on the Umpqua highway as a state park. The land was taken over under a 20 year lease from the federal government.

One Smoker tells ANOTHER

WHEREVER you buy CHESTERFIELDS on land or on sea, you get them just as fresh as if you came by our factory door—have one if you will. I think you will find that they are milder—that they taste better.

I have noticed that CHESTERFIELDS are made right—not hard and soft; no flabby cigarettes—each one well-filled. They are the right size to smoke cool and comfortable.
