

'COME HOME' DAY IS SUNDAY

North Howell Grange Host For Reunion; Community Survey Made

NORTH HOWELL, Aug. 8.—Cards have been mailed announcing the annual "Come Home" picnic at the North Howell grange park next Sunday, August 14.

Coffee, cream and sugar will be provided by the grange which is sponsoring the event and basket lunch will be arranged on the tables outside if the day is pleasant or in the hall if otherwise. All residents of North Howell past and present are invited to be present.

Making Survey

Under the leadership of Dean Parsons of the school of applied social science, University of Oregon, a survey of organized community life in Marion county rural districts is now being made by Miss Edna Spenser and Miss Margaret Wharton, teachers in the Silverton schools. In the North Howell district the grange is the only community organization in existence at present and grange leaders in this district have been carefully interviewed regarding the history, census numbers, roads and local talent of the residents for a period of 10 years back. Interesting data is thus recorded which is being prepared in book form by Professor Parsons.

Other districts which these young women are surveying include Scotts Mills, Mt. Angel, Lablah Center, Central Howell, Brush Creek, Pratum, Parkersville, Hazel Green, Victor Point and Monitor.

Celia and Eleanor Jefferson and Ida May and Dorothy Summers returned Sunday from a week at Camp Santaly near Meham, where they enjoyed a week's camping with the Girl Reserves of Gervais.

Even at 13 Cents, Hop Growers Wealthy When 1885 Mart is Reviewed

By MAUD BIDDOOD
INDEPENDENCE, Aug. 8.—The hopping season is almost here. The very atmosphere seems charged with the anticipation of the nearness of the big event. Students, housewives, children and men talk about it. Men more than in former years for then they all had year around jobs and were not facing such a tremendous economic depression. The hops are of good size and it is just a matter of a short time till they will have reached the picking stage.

Independence will greet the hundreds of pickers who will pass through her streets on their way to the various compounds of the hop fields and who will make the old town hum with activity during the evenings as long as the season lasts.

True, there has been a cut in prices this year but behold what a recent copy of the Enterprise offers in its article, "47 Years Ago" an interesting story the theme of which is based on facts printed in the West Side in the year 1885 among which are the following: "S. L. Jones and Co. of San Francisco yesterday sold at auction 150 bales of hops at 2 1/2 cents per pound. The market continues in a demoralized condition though 5 1/2 cents per pound is about the extreme price that a strictly choice article would bring at this moment."

Tobacco Crop Talked

The article states that the Eugene Register declared that hops were being replaced by tobacco in valley yards expressing the thought that the change might prove beneficial and this was concurred in by The Salem Statesman quoted as: "It is expected that quite a number of our hop raisers will change from that crop to the cultivation of tobacco. The latter would have the decided advantage over the former by always demanding a reasonable price not being subject to such wild fluctuations as effect hops, says the Eugene Register. "There is no doubt as to the feasibility of this plan and the raising of tobacco might as well be added to the products of Oregon soil as not. That it will grow here is unquestionable. No state has better soil or a better climate for raising this 'weed'."

Water Question Comes Up Again

TURNER, Aug. 8.—Turner is again trying to solve the city water problem. At the recent council meeting it was voted to install more water meters, and endeavor to better regulate the supply of water which will be enough for all if it is reasonably used.
