

DEBATE ANENT BILL GOES ON

Tax Savers say Corvallis Business men Started Entire Movement lis and Eugene to initiate a measure, which among other things would return the school of commerce to Corvallis; give Corvallis some courses; remove the law school to Salem; do away with the school of journalism and in return for these put all the work of the three normal schools on the university campus.

"For fear, President Whiteside, that you have not as yet been advised of the result of the interview, it may be stated that Eugene refused to be party to the plot.

"Before the bill was filed and application made for a ballot title, Corvallis interests, still on the aggressive, sought another meeting. At this meeting Bankers Wilson and Porter, reinforced by Banker Woodcock, who is treasurer of the Corvallis chamber of commerce, reappeared at Eugene in the company of Dr. Johnson. This time the Corvallis men threatened themselves as disappearing of the idea of the proposed initiative measure. They said they wanted to head it off but—mark this well—certain radical local Corvallis people were insisting on it.

"They thought," however, that if the people of Eugene would agree to an initiative measure jointly supported that would give Corvallis back the school of commerce, that such a measure might be accepted by the Corvallis people and the thing, now known as the Zorn-MacPherson measure, would be killed.

Attempts Made To Hide Real Source

"Again the Eugene men let it be known that they would not be parties to a raid and the conference broke up. Then the measure filed with the secretary of state with a request for a ballot title.

"From that time on, every effort was made to hide the real identity of the authors of the Zorn-MacPherson bill. Every effort was made to make the bill appear as the joint product of the now discredited Zorn and MacPherson. Every effort was made to make the public believe that it was initiated by poor farmers and not by men of such wealth that a score of them possess property in and near Corvallis and the college campus, which is assessed at $545,000, and has an estimated actual value of $1,000,000—all this aside from investments in other enterprises. The assessment roll, it is observed, show that the Whitesides of Corvallis are owners of property said to be worth $100,000 or more.

And now to Portland! Under oath, S. H. Slocum, the paid petition manager, in court swore that he first contracted the so-called Corvallis secret committee. On this committee appeared both Dr. Johnson and Mr. Getz, the same two men who were at the first Eugene meeting, weeks before, when the idea of an initiative was first broached by Corvallis interests. It is strange indeed that you did not know of this, as you profess not to know. But perhaps you do recall that last grand day when the petitions were finally filed at Salem.

Press dispatches say you were here along with other members of the Corvallis chamber, including Director Walters who toled a big he-man gun in an unaccustomed manner.

RAISING CAMPAIGN FUND IS ISSUE NOW

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(AP)—With the national battle for ballots now forming, the republican and democratic chiefdoms turned today to the task of raising the millions necessary to finance their campaigns.

Jeremiah Milbank, republican eastern treasurer, announced the appointment of Henry P. Fletcher, former tariff commission chairman, ambassador and under secretary of state, as chairman of the eastern finance division.

In the democratic camp, James A. Farley, national chairman, went into conference with Evans Woolsten, Indiana banker who heads the campaign finance committee, and Frank C. Walker, national committee treasurer.

As they came from a lengthy discussion of their money-raising problem, Farley announced "We will try our best to keep our expenditures within $1,500,000."

The figure is less than one-fourth the amount spent by the party in the unsuccessful effort to elect "Al" Smith.

HOOVER SPEEDS UP PLANS FOR PARLEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Spurring plans for a formal conference of business leaders at the White House, President Hoover today turned his back upon the purely political affairs that have occupied him for much of the last week.

The chief executive called in

PYRAMIDS VISIBLE ON CANADA ROUTE

Pyramid in North America? Yes, they exist, huge ones; built not by ancient kings but by Nature herself. Along the Canadian Pacific railway's Rocky mountain line, they may be seen. A notable one looms up between Banff Springs, popular C. P. R. resort, and Calgary. The upper half of the mountain appears exactly like the Egyptian pyramids, it's slopes serried, triangular.

Many other extraordinary mountain scenes may be viewed along this famous route. Among them are Castle mountain, an enormous mass of angular stone, its side streaked with brilliant red, oranges and yellows, signs of volcanic action; Three Sisters, one huge mountain rising from the Bow river gorge, with three peaks looming from a single base; and Hole in the Wall mountain, a peak with a large opening in one side.

Travelers spend many hours of the day and night trip through the Canadian Rockies, watching in awe the panorama of jagged peaks, snowstreaked, and the roaring rivers in the canyons which the C. P. R. follows. The open air cars observation cars are popular vantage points.

BOAT CREW IS LANDED DUTCH HARBOR, Alaska, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The crew of four men and Captain Andrew Nelson, of the motorship Banika, which was wrecked four days ago on Carlisle Island, were landed safely today at Unalaska by the coast guard cutter Montgomery.

land, and "Salem people are satisfied where they are," is one agent characterized the situation.

Investment interests are turning to real estate, according to a leading agent. He was backed up by a second.

"As soon as things loosen up a bit, we'll find one of the biggest booms here in years."

"Last June was our biggest month in two years," said another.

"The outlook is better than it has been for some time," commented a third.

At present things are not much improved but the feeling is a lot better. There is plenty of inquiry. There will be a revival in time," thought a fourth.

Expressions such as "looking up," "picking up" and "much inquiry" were found to be common answers.

COAST HIGHWAY IS MOSTLY SURFACED

Four Sections Contracted For Improvement now; Condition Given

Only one stretch of the Oregon Coast highway does not now have a good rock base, according to a highway bulletin received from Tillamook by the Oregon State Motor association office here. Four sections of the road are under contract for improvement.

Condition of the road is described as follows: Astoria south to Delake, 123 miles, pavement and oiled macadam; Delake to Siletz river, six miles, rocked and under surfacing contract, complete September 1; Siletz to Newport, 21 miles, oiled macadam; Newport to Waldport, 16 miles, under surfacing contract, complete August 30; Waldport to three miles south of Yachats, 12 miles, oiled macadam; next 10 miles, has some rock, is contracted for surfacing, is only section without a good rock base; next 10 miles to Florence, completed rocked but not oiled.

Florence to Gardiner, 19 miles, rocked and in good condition; Reedsport to Port Orford, 94 miles, oiled macadam; Port Orford to Euchre creek, 20 miles, rocked, under surfacing contract; Euchre creek to Crescent City, Calif., 77 miles, oiled macadam. Free ferries operate Yaquina, Alsea, Sluslaw, Umpqua and Coos Bay on 30-minute schedules or less.

CONGRESS CENTER OF DRY LAW FIGHT

WINONA LAKE, Ind., Aug. 13.—(AP)—P. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, said in speech here tonight that both presidential candidates "in their acceptance speeches have declared an attitude toward the continuance of the eighteenth amendment which we cannot accept."

"One is for modification; the other is for repeal," he continued. "We favor neither."

"Our major task as to the coming campaign," he said, "is clearly presented in the election of congressmen, who in the last analysis have sole responsibility for amending the constitution."

"We will support those candidates who stand definitely committed to repeal."

Threshing Resumed in Aurora District

AURORA, Aug. 13.—After a few days of inactivity on account of unsuitable weather, threshing is in progress again. Different crews report about half the usual normal crop. A few old fields are showing a fair crop but the majority are poor. The threshing season which usually lasts about 25 days in this section because of the light yield has been cut to 15 days although the same ground has to be covered by the crews.

MRS MASON RETURNING

BETHANY, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Harvey Mason who went to Montana several weeks ago to care for her mother-in-law, has written her sister, Mrs. Frank Hubbs, that the elder Mrs. Mason is rapidly regaining her health and that she, Mrs. Harvey Mason, plans to leave Montana about August 15. She plans to visit her sister here before she goes on to California, where she is teaching. Mrs. Mason will better be remembered here as Miss Sophia Madison. She was graduated from the Silverton schools.

posed his duty to his conscience and to the fatherland to govern Germany impartially and not in the interests of one movement, however large and formidable.

Having failed in a plea to Hitler to make good pre-election promises to support the presidential government, the aging Von Hindenburg ended his historic audience with fatherly words of admonition and lost no time in assuring Chancellor von Papen that he backed him to the full in the days ahead, during which most important tasks await the cabinet.

To a nation excited over reports from abroad that Hitler's storm troops would attempt to seize power by force, the president then gave an example of undaunted confidence by taking a night train to his summer home at Neudeck, East Prussia.

the bigger and red-expurgated bonus army to be gain legislation from congress that will return 12 millions of peoples to work. The bonus readjustment is in the secondary consideration.

"We're not coming back until that unemployment legislation has been brought about," he said for the bonusers. Green is commanding the Sunset division, which was organized and recruited in California, and which now has between 50 and 60 men. The full strength will be 250 men, with recruiting to continue on the motor caravan "march" across the continent.

"We owe it to the buddies who lie sleeping in Flanders Field that we carry on and put the unemployed back where they belong," he concluded in reciting the moves to compel congress to give service men the remaining 50 per cent on adjusted compensation certificates. The bonusers will leave here today.

LEGION POST WILL NOMINATE MONDAY

Boardman to Tell What he Saw at Olympics; Band Slated to Appear

Nomination to fill 12 offices, Olympic games and the American Legion Junior band will be topics of interest to come up at the meetings of Capital Post No. 9 at Fraternal temple at 3 o'clock tomorrow night.

Commander Irl S. McSherry has invited all service men to attend.

R. R. "Bob" Boardman will furnish the main item on the entertainment program. Recently returned from the Olympic games at Los Angeles, he will tell of his observations there. The junior band will make its second appearance at post meetings tomorrow night.

Commander McSherry last night put the quietus on an incipient movement for his renomination by withdrawing himself from consideration.

"I am not a candidate for reelection as commander of Capital Post No. 9," he said. "I feel that there are many men in the post capable of filling the position. I do appreciate the opportunity I have had in serving the post as commander during the year and after my term of
