Silverton Future Farmers Get Near Top Prices on Hogs in Portland

SILVERTON, Aug. 19.—"This little pig is going to market," was the song of Palmer Torvend, Clifton Strom and Elmer Thompson Thursday when they accompanied their seven hogs and three sheep to the Future Farmer's Market day at the Portland union stock yards. Five other boys and their instructor, Warren Crabtree, were also in the group going for the event.

The boys returned late Thursday night to Silverton with a total of $77.94, which also included the $2.50 won by Elmer Thompson in the weight and price guessing contest. Elmer Thompson took four hogs and these were sold to Swift and Company for $4.50 a hundred. Strom's hog was overweight. # MILL RUMORS ARE UNFOUNDED

So President Fischer Says; Insurance Held up by Fire Hazard

SILVERTON, Aug. 19.—According to L. H. Fischer, president of the Fischer Flouring Mill company here, which closed its doors July 15, the rumor at Silverton that a "rich Portlander" is considering a new Fischer Mill plant is entirely unfounded.

The rumor of the plans of the Portland man was that he would put up between $25,000 and $30,000 in cash with which to operate providing the bondholders would be willing to accept one-fourth of their holdings in a new bond issue of reasonable time, one-fourth in preferred stock in a new and unimpaired milling company, and permit the balance of the present bond issue to be written off altogether.

Bond Holders Meet

A more or less private meeting of the bondholders was held in the offices of Custer E. Ross, Thursday night, at which time a committee of three bondholders was appointed to care for the interests of the bondholders. The committee is composed of R. A. Cowden, Ed Nelson and J. D. Kaddery, the latter of Portland.

The matter of insurance was discussed and instructions were made to write the insurance through the offices of Alf O. Nelson, of Silverton, attorney for some of the bondholders. It was rumored on the streets Friday morning that the binders were cancelled because of the fire hazards of the mill. It is understood that further inspection of the mill will be made before insurance can be written. The insurance, it was understood, was to have been for $50,000.

L. H. Fischer was not present at the meeting Thursday night, and so made no statements. It is generally thought that a statement will be forthcoming from him in the near future.

Bits for Breakfast

Mr. Gray, and Mr. Smith, as is evident from the statements of Messrs. Toupin, Gervais, and McKay, that are found below.

"Mr. Spalding says in his writings: 'The months of deep solitude we had had, occasioned by the increasing menacing demands of the Indians for their water, their wood, their air, their lands... We have held ourselves ready to leave the country whenever the Indians as a body wished it... Dr. Whitman twice during the last year called the Cayuses together and told them it a majority wished, he would leave the country at once... Dr. Whitman held himself ready to sell the Wallatut station to the Catholic mission whenever a majority of the Cayuses might wish it... When they (the Indians) returned from California two years ago, after the death of the son of the Walla Walla chief, several meetings were held to consider whether Dr. Whitman, myself, or some other American teacher should be killed as a settler from California. Elijah was the son of Chief Peemoozoozoo, or Yellow Serpent. He had been educated and converted at the Jason Lee mission, and was killed in the fall of 1844 by a reckless and renegade white man at Fort Sutter.'

"The same Mr. Spalding said on the 8th of August, 1847, to Dr. Pougide (Dr. J. P. Pougide) ('See his statement below'): 'The Indians are getting worse every day for two or three years back; they are threatening to turn us out of these missions. A few days ago they tore down my fence. And I do not know what the missionary board of New York means to do. It is a fact we are doing no good. When the immigration passes, the Indians all run off to trade, and return worse than when we came amongst them.'

"Dr. Whitman had declared many times during the last two years that he wished to leave; that he knew the Indians were ill disposed towards him, and that it was dangerous for him to remain among them; that for a couple of years he had done nothing for the teaching of the Indians, because they would not listen to him. He said last fall (1847) that he would leave certainly in the spring for the Dalles, where he had already bought the Methodist mission. He went so far as to ask Mr. McKay to pass the winter with him, for fear of the Indians, and seemed disposed to exchange his place at Wallatut for another one in the Willamette." ("See Mr. McKay's statement below.") Mr. Spalding declared also last winter (1847) that for three or four years he had ceased to teach the Indians, as they refused to hear
