Registration Increasing—Registration enrollment in Willamette university of freshmen and upperclass transferring students will probably hover around the usual $50 mark, it has been estimated. Approximately 235 students have already been accepted with school opening September 19. A smaller entire registration than that of previous years is expected, however, because of the inability of students to obtain employment during the past summer.

STATE FAIR PLANS ARE TAKING SHAPE

Farm Products Display Will Feature Effort Made to Improve Quality

New and distinctly "different" entertainment features, coupled with a variety of exhibits, have been arranged for the 71st Oregon state fair which opens here Monday, September 26, for six days. As a contribution of the state department of agriculture which was organized last year the fair has developed exhibits of importance to the agricultural industry of Oregon in the struggle to establish quality production as a qualification for successful out-of-state marketing. Livestock for years has been a notable part of the state fair. This year equal and much-needed attention goes to other phases of agriculture. The land products show occupying the greater part of the big grandstand exhibits building will be a revelation of strides in every line of agricultural endeavor.

Determined to have appealing entertainment different from that offered in previous years, Max Gehlar, director of agriculture, went to Hollywood and engaged the services of two noted western characters, Curley W. Fletcher and Ed Wright, who are out to break all records for novelty in western features and rodeo competition. Details of the rodeo performance are in the hands of Ed Wright, who has presented many rodeos in various parts of the western states. He has specified Cheyenne rules for the rodeo contests, which include the strawberry roan rodeo each afternoon and the night stampee each night of the fair.

Admission Charges Revised Downward—Director Gehlar has made a change in the admission policy of the fair which he believes in keeping with the times. Entrance to the grandstand for the strawberry roan rodeo will be free except for a few reserved seats and boxes. Nominal charges prevail for the night stampee which will be held at the indoor stadium. Reductions have been made for season tickets and special free admission arrangements have been made for children. Single admission for adults remain the same at the three entrances to the fair, except that on the opening day an entire family will be admitted for $1 including the automobile.

One of the impressive features will be the daily free programs of the Oregon state federation of music clubs. More than 1000 musicians will take part. Salem is making elaborate plans for a downtown parade on Monday, the opening day. Lane county and Eugene have selected this day for a visit to the fair, and will come by special trains and automobile caravans to take part in the parade and put on a special program at the fairgrounds. Wednesday is Governor's day, Salem day, Clackamas county day, and Marion county day. Thursday is Benton county day. Friday is Farmers' day, Grange day, Farmers' Union day, and Linn county day. Saturday is Portland day, Boys and Girls Pet and Costume Parade day, and All-State day. In connection with these special days, and the programs of the music clubs there will be a total of 18 bands at the fair during the six days. Future Farmers of America, who are vocational agriculture students enrolled in the Smith-Hughes courses of 35 Oregon high schools, will take part in the fair for the first time this year. Boys and girls club work embraces more premium classifications than ever before.

West Salem News

WEST SALEM, Sept. 3—The regular meeting of the West Salem city council will not be held next Monday because of the fact that it falls on a holiday. Miss Rosa Harnisch of Albany and Mrs. Ernest Henningsen of Jefferson were guests at the Al Henningsen home Saturday. Mrs. Henningsen is a sister-in-law and Miss Harnisch a roommate of Mrs. Henningsen at the Mounmouth Normal. She is on route to Gresham to begin her school, which opens Tuesday, September 6.

The Mark Hoffman family will leave Monday for Dallas, where they will pick prunes for some time. Miss Jewell Strickfoden of Ferdinand, Idaho, who has been spending the summer here visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Lloyd M. Hill, expects to start home Sunday, to begin her school work soon. Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Smith and children, Lois, Miriam, Bethel and Ardon have been in Willamina for a week assisting in revival services being held there. They will return Monday. There will be no preaching services Sunday morning at the Ford Memorial church, but Rev. C. L. Dark will preach at night. His charge will now include West Salem, Summit and Oak Grove, with morning services at Summit and Oak Grove alternating.

Recent guests at the Wilbur P. Lewis home on Edgewater street were Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Von Donge of Walla Walla. Mrs. Von Donge is a niece of Mrs. Lewis. Miss Violet Wallace has returned from visiting in Portland for a week. She was entertained at the home of an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilbert. Sammy McClintock and Merle Pruitt who have been vacationing at Crater lake and other places of interest, were to return Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wiedemer are spending the double holiday at Road's End, on the coast. Mr. and Mrs. George E. Tandy gave a pleasant picnic party at Spong's Landing for their house guest, Miss Margaret Crow of Portland. Present were the honor guest, Miss Crow, and Mr. and Mrs. Willis McDerby, Mrs. Stewart, Miss Josephine Tandy, Miss Susie Crow, George and Thomas Tandy and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Tandy. The West Salem school board rejected all bids for screening the basement windows in the new school building, requesting more definite specifications at a recent meeting, and of the new bids that of Butler & Quistad was accepted and the screens will be made and placed before September 13, the school opening date.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ziegler of Salem have moved into the Chaplin house on Skinner and McNary. This batt is made of worsted yarn. This concern has the only machine on the coast to handle the yarn. The batts are in one, two and three pound sizes, the former being the most in demand. About 400 pounds of these batts are turned out daily. Considerable custom work is done for Willamette valley wool growers. Besides making batts the company makes mattresses and sleeping bags. They have worked up a fine trade in the middle west. Because of their bulk it is necessary for the manufacturer to pay double first class freight on the cartons.

LIBERTY, Sept. 3—The seventh of eight grade students have been busy the last three days cleaning up the schoolhouse and grounds. The pay for the work is to go into the school athletic fund. Charles Krauger has almost completed improvements in the living quarters of his store building. These include two extra rooms and bath, built in some unusual space. The E. A. Free family returned Friday evening from several days spent at Yachats. Recent guests at the home of Mrs. C. Schmidt were her niece, Mrs. George Slyter of Klamath Falls and Mrs. J. Uhlemann of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson of Portland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hrubetz on Friday.

Boardman Will Again Attempt To Tell Story—R. R. "Bob" Boardman, Y. M. C. A. physical director, will have another try at informing legionnaires concerning his observations at the Olympic games last month, when Capital Post No. 3 meets at the Elks temple at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Boardman was scheduled to speak the night the legionnaires were driven from Fraternal temple by the fire. Final nominations for post officers will be made at this meeting. All ex-service men are invited to attend.

Unruh Advanced To Lieutenantcy—Charles L. Unruh, technical sergeant of the local Oregon national guard unit, has been promoted to the rank of second lieutenant. It was announced by Major General White Saturday. Unruh has been assigned to the headquarters of the first battalion, 249th coast artillery, Salem.

ARMISTICE DAY EVENT PLANNED Committees are Chosen by Woodburn Post; State Delegates Named

WOODBURN, Sept. 3—Deciding at their last regular meeting to have another big Armistice day carnival in Woodburn, the local American Legion Post is now busy in arranging details for the affair. A nominating committee consisting of Boje, Glatt, Bentley, Austin and Whitman was named to nominate officers for next year at the next meeting to be held in September. H. M. Austin spoke briefly in behalf of the baseball committee, stating its satisfaction with the Junior Legion team's record. Smith, Harahan and Adams with Bain, Coy and Myers as alternates were chosen as delegates to attend the state convention in Portland. Dr. J. M. Harahan, present commander of the post, was appointed general chairman for the Armistice day carnival. Oliver S. Olson will be in charge of the parade. It is hoped that among other features of the parade to have floats from communities near Woodburn. It is planned to ask the city council to close East Cleveland street west of Front, and First street north of Cleveland while activities are in progress. Committees chosen were: city decorations, G. B. Smith, Bert Broyles Reese; decoration of armory, E. J. Hughes; coffee and hot dog stand, Fred Corn; window decorations, A. J. Beck; concessions, H. M. Austin; booth, Chic; fortune tellers, Adams; football game, Adams; hot dogs, coffee, cider and doughnuts at football game, Rex Bentley; dance, Adolph Glatt; check room, William Yates; cashier, Keith Powell; lighting, Brennan; publicity, J. ITALY PRUNE DUTY TO HURT INDUSTRY The Willamette valley dried prune industry received a body blow Thursday when a cablegram was received from Italy that the duty on prunes entering that country had been increased from 55 lire to 100 lire per quintal. Walter T. Jeaks, local prune dealer, declared that the increase of the duty on prunes was extremely serious as far as the Willamette valley dried prune industry was concerned. He said the Italian business in dried prunes had been growing rapidly, and that several large shipments to the country had been made during the past few years. Growers said the increase in duty apparently was authorized in duty apportionment to speak the night the legionnaires were driven from Fraternal temple by the fire. Final nominations for post officers will be made at this meeting. All ex-service men are invited to attend.
