EAST WOODBURN, Sept. 8.—Little Wilbur Enderude, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Enderude of Fowler, Colo., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Owre for some time, fell from a scaffolding which Owre used while reshingling his residence. Two bones in his right forearm were broken. An injured left shoulder and elbow are also causing the lad much pain. The Enderudes had planned to return to their home Thursday in preparation for school, but the trip will be postponed until Wilbur is able to stand the ride.

Sutton and four children of Stimples, Minn., have taken possession of the farm.

STUDENTS ALREADY SEEKING FOR WORK

Students who will matriculate next week at Willamette university are already arriving in Salem in order to secure part time work, if possible. Reports at the university yesterday showed that a large percentage of the incoming students would need some income from part-time work to supplement the funds they were bringing to begin the school year. Thus far 230 applications of freshmen have been accepted by the university in comparison to 275 received by this time in 1931. Fifteen applicants of students for advanced rank have also been received. Some reduction in the upper classes is anticipated as well as in the freshmen and sophomore ranks, due to inability of students to finance tuition and living costs during the next year.

Robbers Wound Glen Eden Man

NEWPORT, Ore., Sept. 8 — (AP)—Shot through one shoulder and suffering from severe lacerations about the head, a man who gave his name as Ed Jones, of Glen Eden, was found in a semi-conscious condition back of a building in the business district here yesterday. VIOLET SWANSON IS OPPORTUNITY HEAD

Miss Violet Swanson, instructor in spelling, penmanship and social science at Leslie junior high school last year, has been selected as director of the Opportunity, or part time continuation school. She succeeds Mrs. Raymond Fite, former Gertrude Anderson, who resigned early in the summer. Superintendent George Hug and T. T. Mackenzie, supervisor of vocational education, selected Miss Swanson because of her experience in giving individual instruction to pupils, as is done in the Opportunity school. She has taught this system in Corvallis schools and demonstrated it at Oregon State college, and also taught in Fargo, N. D., before coming to the coast. She is a graduate of Mayville state teachers' college and a graduate student of University of North Dakota and Oregon State college. The Opportunity school has been removed from the Garfield building to its former location in room 1-C of the high school building. Miss Swanson will be there to receive prospective pupils each week day afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30 o'clock and Wednesday mornings from 9:30 to 12 o'clock.

HEALTH UNIT WILL COME DOWN TOWN

For reasons of economy and convenience to the public the Salem health unit on September 15 will be moved from its present quarters, 434 North High street, to a suite on the second floor of the Masonic building, Dr. O. A. Olson, chairman of the executive committee, announced yesterday. The health unit has occupied the present building, owned by the school district, since a few months after the establishment of the child health demonstration here. The quarters to be vacated by the health unit will be occupied by offices of George Hug, superintendent of schools, and other school officials following refinishing of the rooms and installation of a furnace. The space to be vacated in the high school building will be turned into much needed class rooms.

Pair Can't Qualify as Hat Models

Bill Murphy and Jack Alvin, transients, were resting in city jail last night as the result of their desire to try on hats they had allegedly lifted from the C. Z. Breiler store, 141 North Commercial street, earlier in the day. City policemen, informed of the theft, discovered the pair trying on the hats in the alley near the D. A. White & Son feed store. The officers learned that the two men had sent a 15-year old boy from the "jungle" camp to a drug store to purchase a quantity of denatured alcohol. Mixing themselves a drink with the stuff, Murphy and Alvin proceeded to put themselves under its influence, the police said. The boy was turned over to Mrs. Nona White, county probation officer.

UNIFORM LUNCHEON HOUR IS DECISION

Principals of Salem high school and the two junior highs have agreed on a uniform lunch hour, Superintendent George W. Hug announced yesterday. The hours for the three institutions were arranged alike to answer complaints made by parents to the school board.

This year the senior high will start at 8:40 in the morning, recess at noon, reconvene at 12:50 and stop for the day at 3:10 instead of 3:10 as in other years. Parrish junior high will begin at 8:50, recess at 11:50, reconvene at 12:40, and dismiss at 3:40 and Leslie junior high will start at 8:45, recess at 12, reconvene at 12:50 and dismiss at 3:35. The nine elementary schools begin at 9 o'clock in the morning, the primary grades recessing for lunch at 11:30 and the upper grades at 12 o'clock. All grades reconvene at 1 o'clock, with the primary pupils being dismissed at 2:30 and the upper grades at 3:30.

LARGE HOP YARDS FINISHING HARVEST

An unusually short picking season has prevailed in hop yards in Marion and Polk counties this year, with the bulk of the crop nearing the end of harvest now.

Some of the largest yards in the two counties expect to finish picking today and tomorrow. At the large T. A. Liveness yard in the Ketter section, and also at the Mitoma hop yard, harvest is expected to end today. In many of the smaller yards picking has lasted less than half as long as usual, and crews have been forced to rest half of each day. While the picking has been accomplished more quickly than usual, the yield is only about 25 per cent off last year, and about 5000 bales short of the earlier estimates given for this year. Growers say now the 1932 harvest will run about 65,000 bales. Another of the larger hop yards, Horst's, will work through most of next week, while the Lachmund and Jerman yards will finish about the middle of next week.

Petitions Out Seeking Close Of Stores 13th

Petitions were started along North Commercial street business houses yesterday late afternoon seeking to have stores closed next Tuesday, in keeping with the governor's declaration of a legal holiday for the Legion convention. Only two or three turn-outs greeted the petition in the time it was in circulation yesterday. It was presented to food businesses first. This action runs counter to the declaration earlier in the week that following a canvass of the Salem Business men's league a majority of the merchants preferred to keep stores open Tuesday.

HOP PICKING SHORT
RICKREALL, Sept. 8.—Hop-picking commenced in Tuesday morning in both the Middleton and Carroll hopyards with full crews. A short season is expected as the hops in most instances are very light.

Expect Big Series Gun Wednesday

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Representatives of the leading clubs in the national and American league pennant races, meeting with Baseball Commissioner Landis here tomorrow to fix details for the world series, are expected to select Wednesday, September 28 for the opening game. They will not name the spot beyond identifying it as "the American league pennant-winning city" but the Yankee stadium meanwhile is being groomed for the opening of the series. Two games will be played in New York, followed by three in the national league's territory, probably October 1-3, if Chicago comes through to win, as now appears likely. The sixth and seventh games, if necessary, will be scheduled in New York, likely on October 5-6.
