

MACLEAY CLUB HAS FIRST FALL MEET

MACLEAY, Sept. 8—The first meeting of the season of the 4-M club was held at the hall Wednesday. At noon a potluck dinner was served.

At the business meeting it was voted to purchase curtains for the dining room of the grange hall. Mrs. A. H. Fuestman and Mrs. H. E. Martin were appointed on the purchasing committee.

Mrs. Stella Culver was received as a new member. During the social hour a miscellaneous shower was given for Mrs. M. A. Wells.

The next meeting will be held October 13 at the home of Mrs. A. H. Fuestman with Mrs. H. Phillips, Mrs. J. F. C. Tekenburg and Mrs. W. A. Jones as joint hostesses.

Those present were Mr. and

Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. R. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. C. Tekenburg, Mr. and Mrs. W. Farr, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Martin, Mrs. C. Baker, Mrs. D. Baker, Mrs. W. B. Frink, Mrs. A. W. Fuestman, Mrs. A. F. Lewis, Mrs. A. Spelbrink, Mrs. G. A. Spelbrink, Mrs. C. Carnegie, Mrs. Stella Culver, Mrs. M. A. Wells, Mrs. M. M. Magee.

Bureau Sends 30 Hop Pickers To Illihee Yard

Hop picking continued yesterday to provide more jobs for persons registered at the U. S.-Y. M. C. A. employment bureau. Thirty workers were sent to the Illihee yard. One farmer, one salesman and three common laborers also were placed yesterday.

Yesterday was the second call received recently at the employment office for hop pickers.

Under the Dome

Occurrence of Gossip in Oregon State Government

WILLIAM MOORE, bookkeeper at the secretary of state's office, brought a fine bunch of red gladioli up to the press room with a note attached, "For the Empty Dome." The boys weren't sure for whom the bouquet was meant so whenever in doubt they hand things to your correspondent, so naturally he accepted the flowers with thanks.

But still we are at a loss to explain just why the flowers were brought to us. Perhaps a gully conscience, but if that's the case, no dope has been out yet to cause such a favor. Perhaps he figured the boys at the press room were dead—but though he may not believe it, he is wrong again. Anyhow, thanks, Bill. The note indicated they were meant for us.

And Charlie Pray has discovered our box of Bartlett pears presented to us the day before by Mr. and Mrs. John Garbin, and since this discovery they have been going faster than ever, and the police superintendent finds time several times a day to leave his desk to come down to the press room and enjoy some pears—just our luck.

And speaking of the police department, Pray is rather lonesome this week, and will be no doubt until after the Legion convention. George Alexander, deputy superintendent, after playing some contract bridge the night before, left early yesterday for Pendleton for the roundup. Captain H. W. McClain of the headquarters district, accompanied him.

Mrs. Sheldon Sackett, secretary to the governor, and Henry Hansen, political advisor, were in Portland yesterday in conference with the governor. It was understood here the governor planned to leave last night to attend the Pendleton roundup. No members of the board of control were present here yesterday.

State Treasurer Holman has found a new medium in which to answer charges against his record as state official—the Oregon Voter. Releases of his answer to questions purported put to him by Mr. Chapman of the Voter were sent out by the Voter the other night, and at least one paper used the story.

Releasing stories in this manner saves the press boys the trouble of writing them here and putting them on the wire, and being naturally a little adverse to writing stories of this kind, they are

COUNTY C. E. TO MEET HERE OCT. 7

An intensive two-day program in teacher training was announced here yesterday for the annual teachers' institute in this county, the meeting to be held in Salem, September 15 and 16 in the high school building. Plans for the institute were made by H. E. Tobie of Stayton, president of the Marion County Teachers' association, and Mrs. Mary L. Fulkerson, county school superintendent.

Outstanding speakers on the program include Anthony Euwer, Oregon poet and artist, H. R. Laslett, director of supervised teaching, Oregon State college, ready selected their representatives for the rodeo queen contest. Max Gehlhar, himself, selected the representative from the executive department—Mrs. Tison, who says she doesn't know which end of a horse stop first. Well, which does, Max?

While the executive department has a selection worthy of the contest, not so much can be said about the representative from the education department. They must have thought it was a contest for king, as they passed up the beauties in that department and picked on a newshound to represent them. But perhaps they couldn't agree on the prettiest girl.

and C. A. Howard, state superintendent of education.

The institute program calls for a series of departmental meetings and a number of general assemblies, teachers being divided in the former on the basis of their interests and convening as a group for the assembling meetings.

Departmental speakers include: Frances Wright, state director of home economics, Marlan Morange, Carmelita Barquist, Clara Pomeroy, Bernice Skeen, J. C. Nelson, Professor James T. Matthews, Ada Ross, Mrs. William E. Kirk, Miss Harriet Long, all of Salem; Olivia DeGuire and Edna Spenker of Silverton; Dora Scheffsky, Monthouth; C. D. Dudowitz, Portland; C. E. Rothwell, Eugene; Mae Engle, Union school, Marion county; Alda Bigelow, state field representative, Red Cross.

Attendance at institute is compulsory under the Oregon law.

Chicken Thieves Are Busy Again

RICKEY, Sept. 8—Chicken thieves are again busy in this community. Eleven hens were taken a few nights ago from Glen Magee who lives on the D. A. Harris farm. Part of the hens taken were purebred Rhode Island and part purebred Plymouth Rocks.
