HEAVY ENROLLMENT EXPECTED, KEIZER

County Schools Preparing For Fall Work; Many to Start Sept. 19

KEIZER, Sept. 6.—School will open here Monday, September 19, with an enrollment even larger than the 165 students of last year expected. All teachers will be on hand Friday morning, the 16th, when children are asked to meet at the schoolhouse and get their book lists.

A number of improvements have been made at the schoolhouse this summer, including installation of hot and cold water system, thus giving the children the advantage of hot water during school hours.

Miss Bernice Zielke will be primary instructor and principal this year, and Mrs. Eva Keiso, also of last year's staff, will take the fifth and sixth grades. Two teachers are new: Miss Mildred Kirk of Salem, teacher at Liberty last year will have the two upper grades, and Mrs. Lenna Purdue of Broadmead will teach the third and fourth grades.

Talk of Postponement
BETHANY, Sept. 8.—Bethany school will open for its autumn term September 26. There has been some rumor to the effect that the opening date is being postponed a week, but the rumor has not as yet been substantiated. Mrs. Eroll Ross and Mrs. Stewart McClure are teachers in this district.

BRUSH CREEK, Sept. 8—Brush Creek school will open September 26, according to present plans. Miss Margaret Glezik will again teach and will make her home at the J. C. Larson home. Miss Glezik has been spending her summer at Normal school and on a trip to California. Her home is at Portland.

HAMMOND MANAGER VISITS
MILL CITY, Sept. 8.—Earl Brandberry and F. J. Miller of Albany were in Mill City Tuesday. Brandberry, who is manager of the Hammond Lumber company yards at Albany, coming up on business for his company, while Mr. Miller, a retired busi-

COURT RULES AGAINST WALKER

Justice Ellis J. Staley (left), of the New York Supreme Court, is shown as he handed to John J. Curtin, attorney for Mayor James J. Walker, the decision whereby he ruled that the judiciary has no power to interfere with the functions of the Governor of the State. The Walker forces had sought a writ prohibiting Governor Roosevelt from removing him from office if, in the Governor's opinion, the evidence presented at the hearing warrants such drastic action.

West Salem News

WEST SALEM, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Esther Henningson, who teaches industrial arts and grade work at the feeble minded school, began her duties for another year Tuesday. This is the beginning of her fourth year.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Simpson are the proud parents of a girl, Dorothy May, born at home Monday, August 29. She has one brother, seven years old.

Eugene Krebs, who recently completed rehousing the school building, has repaired the windows and doors in the same building, and wainscoted one of the playrooms in the basement to save the plastering. This completes the carpentering, and the janitor, Mr. Birch, has made many improvements in both buildings, and Butler & Quistead have the contract to screen the basement windows in both buildings to protect the glass, the work to be completed before school opens September 19.

Mrs. Charles L. Dark entertained members of the young married women's Sunday school class with an afternoon party at her home Wednesday. The early part of the afternoon was spent in organizing the class into a working form, and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Emmett A. Dickson; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Jack A. Gosser; assistant, Mrs. J. I. Miller. The newly elected president will appoint a social chairman. After preliminaries to the year's work were outlined, a social hour was happily spent. Mrs. Dark and Mrs. Elmer Rier-son serving refreshments.

Those present were Mrs. Charles Schwartz, Mrs. J. I. Miller, Mrs. L. T. Wallace, Mrs. Darrel T. Brattord, Mrs. George Lathrop, Mrs. Clarence A. Guderian, Mrs. W. McFarland, Mrs. S. Einfeldt, Mrs. J. Turpin, Mrs. Elmer Rier-son, Mrs. Lloyd M. Hill, Mrs. William A. LaDue, Mrs. W. Lawrence, Mrs. Emmett A. Dickson and the hostess, Mrs. Dark.

A mixed quartet was organized Wednesday, with Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Dark, Mr. McFarland and Mrs. E. A. Dickson taking the parts for supplementary singing. They held their first rehearsal for Sunday's singing this week.

DRYING OF PRUNES BEGINS AT KEIZER

KEIZER, Sept. 8.—Prune growers in this section, as elsewhere, are up in the air. They have three alternatives: To sell for nothing, dry, or let the prunes rot in the orchards. One man has fallen his fruit and put the hogs into the prunes scattered on the ground.

Several dryers are in operation, the first starting Wednesday. In all, eight or 10 dryers will be working in this section, with the rest to be idle. Some owners are running only their own crop, and some have rented their dryers.

There is plenty of labor available, and more will be in the prune yards after this week, as the large hop yards about here expect to finish the season's picking by the end of this week.

HELMER RUE VISITS
SILVERTON, Sept. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Rue and son Courtland are spending a few days at Silverton as guests of Mr. Rue's father, Helge Rue, Helmar, who was formerly manager of the Silverton Safeway store and since has been manager of the store at Garibaldi, has been transferred to Washington state where he will manage a store.

FAIR EXHIBITS ARE PLANNED BY YOUTHS

SILVERTON, Sept. 8.—Silverton Future Farmers are taking considerable interest in the fact that a special division has been given them at the state fair this year for the first time. The list of premiums has been received here and are being studied.

Two students have already signified their intention of showing in the farm shop exhibit. William Lentch will show a trailer under the class of construction jobs in farm mechanics. Tom Miller will show a reconditioned barrow in the repair of farm machinery group.

Warren Crabtree, instructor in the vocational education department here, indicates that others will also show.

Newcomers to Faculty Reach Oregon Normal

MONMOUTH, Sept. 8.—Dr. Edward Fletcher Barrows of Providence, R. I., is a new member of the faculty of the Oregon Normal school, and with Mrs. Barrows arrived in Monmouth this week.

Dean Helen Anderson, who will occupy the home of Mrs. Hilda Butler, is here, and Miss Clara Trotter, supervisor of intermediate and advanced grades in the training school, also is in Monmouth. Both women come from Ashland.

"LIFE" AT 72

In order that his family might not go hungry, Frank Howard (above), 72-year-old paroled convict, of Boston, Mass., stole a pair of shoes, thereby violating his parole. He must now go back to the Massachusetts State Prison for the rest of his life. Howard served 17 years of a life sentence imposed in 1897 for robbery and was paroled for good behavior.

Meyers Takes Bride; to Live Near Pratum

PRATUM, Sept. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Meyers, who were married at a beautiful church wedding at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon, are spending this week at Crater lake and the Oregon caves. They will return by the coast route, stopping at various beaches. After their return they will make their home one-half mile north of Pratum.

Mrs. Meyers, nee Alice Jones, is bookkeeper for the Producers Milk company, and he is clerk for Carl O. Bowers.

MRS. COFFEY RETURNS
SILVERTON, Sept. 7.—Mrs. C. L. Coffey has returned to her home at Silverton after spending several days with her husband at Portland, where he has an apartment house. He plans to do advanced study work. He was at one time principal of the junior high school here. Mrs. Coffey will begin her fourth year teaching at Valley View, and May Coffey, who has been with the Silverton Appeal-Tribune for the past year, is planning to go to Portland to enter business college.
