

BALLOTS IN QUEEN CONTEST REPORTED

Results Will be Revealed Night of Fall Opening, On September 22

The first count of votes in the popularity contest staged by the Salem Ad club to select a Queen of the Rodao at the state fair was made Thursday, showing the tally up to the night preceding. The count gives little real index of standings because many contestants are reported to be holding back some of their votes. All votes must be in the ballot boxes by Wednesday evening, 6 o'clock, September 21. Then the winner will be announced during the Fall Opening the night of September 22.

The usual treasure hunt features will be held in the downtown store windows that night with valuable prizes for those diligent in searching for the offerings. Another feature of the event is the style show which follows at the Elsinore theatre, where special arrangements have been made for the exhibition of the latest in fashion names.

The Call Board

By OLIVE M. DOAK

THE ELSINORE
Today—David Manners, Ann Dvorak in "Crooner."
Saturday—Carole Lombard in "Sinner in the Sun," mid-night preview.

THE GRAND
Today—Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey in "Girl Crazy."

THE HOLLYWOOD
Today—Bob Steele in "Law of the West."

Of interest to the theatre goers at the Hollywood tonight and Saturday is that one of the trailers which shows pictures of Bonnie Grey with her horse, "King Tut" in a spectacular jump. Miss Grey who doubles for many movie stars and who has done much superior riding the country over, will be one of the attractions at the state fair this year.

Ray Stumbo, Hollywood manager, is taking this trailer to Portland today to show before the Independent Producers Exhibitors association in its sessions at the Benton hotel. Included in the trailer are scenes of the proposed bull fight to be held at the state fair this year.

Mead to Arrive In Oregon Soon, Visit Projects

Dr. Elwood Mead, federal reclamation commissioner, will arrive in Oregon between September 28 and 30, where he will hold a number of conferences, inspect several irrigation projects, and discuss future reclamation plans. This was announced yesterday by Charles E. Stricklin, state engineer. The most important conference will be held in Portland in connection with the proposal to obtain loans from the reconstruction finance corporation with which to build irrigation works. This conference is being arranged by Stricklin, and will be attended by persons interested in irrigation from all sections of the state.

Checks Received Upon Statesman Dollar Policies

Two holders of Statesman dollar accident insurance policies received payment on claims at the Statesman office yesterday. Stacy E. Edwards, 148 Union street, received $39.64. A draft for $40 was issued to Mrs. Maud Blackwell, Jefferson.

Both were injured in automobile accidents recently and payment was made to both a short time after claims were presented.

Worth's, Man Shop, Anderson's Candy shop, Ira Jorgenson, Salem Sporting Goods, Alex Jones.

HAMILTON EXTOLLS STATE FAIR PLANS

"Boost the state fair, benefit Salem and Oregon," W. M. Hamilton, chairman of the chamber of commerce fair committee, urged Lions and Kiwanis club members at their joint meeting yesterday. Officials of the state fair have now suggested we may participate in it. We can boost attendance—reap the reward in money spent in Salem and carry out the fundamental principals of the state fair.

"Its prime object is to develop the state's agriculture and industry. One of its prime aims is to raise the standard of Oregon products, to develop a uniform quality. Every time you get a chance, boost Oregon made products. The fair promotes better harmony in the various districts through meetings at the fair. Greater education is sought through low admissions and free entertainment."

PLAYGROUND COST LOWERED THIS YEAR

Despite the fact attendance at Olinger and Lincoln playgrounds this summer exceeded that of past years, the playground board economized to the extent of now being able to turn back into the city general fund $74.80 of its appropriations, a report being prepared for the city council shows. The 1932 appropriation was $1060.

The economies were effected through staggering of the service of supervisors and through not purchasing any new playground equipment. A portion of the money went for dredging out the swimming hole in Mill creek, Olinger field.

Perry Ashcroft, Herbert Taylor Get 15 Days Jail

Theft of a quantity of furnishings from a cottage owned by Harold Eakin of Salem was admitted by Perry Ashcroft and Herbert Taylor when they were haled before Justice of the Peace Miller Hayden yesterday. Each was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail.

They were charged with larceny of mattress, dishes, gas lantern, tent, utensils and other equipment. Complaint was made by state police officers.

Riseling Better After Wound by Bouncing Bullet

George Riseling of Oregon City, victim of a ricocheting bullet in an Independence hopyard Wednesday night, was reported in good condition and on the road to recovery at Salem General hospital last night. He suffered a wound above

Mickey Mouse NOTES

Plenty of pencils. Plenty of books. Plenty of teachers. Dirty looks. the right eye when struck by a bullet shot by Lily Murphy at a cigar in her husband's mouth.

Monday M M C
Well, I guess Monday I've got to get up about 8 o'clock, so as not to be late at the dear old schoolhouse.
I don't know how I'll get up by that time, but I'll try.
M M C
So that you will be able to start school right—every Mickey Mouse member that comes to the club meeting Saturday will get a big school pencil.

"Buddy" Kane is back. And that means he'll give us some real stuff tomorrow. Pass the word around—the nut is back.
M M C
Look—notice—and gasp—David Smith is also going to be on the program, and when he's on the program—the program is a program.
M M C
Cheer up—you'll soon have a Christmas vacation.
M M C
Study hard in school—because if you get all A's that puts you on the Mickey Mouse honor roll, and you'll get a free pass to a Mickey Mouse matinee.
