WHAT A WONDERFUL SETTING

for a Store like the Market and Folks its really remarkable what a proper Setting does for a store. Just shade your eyes and look well to the west. My my whata View and what's that music one hears—why its none other than the silvery waves singing their praises of this the most wonderful land of all the world, reaching as it does right down to the waters very edge. Wafted over the rolling hills, (still talking about the music of the waves of course). Now to go on with the music, we find the west winds softly floating over hill and dell, carrying with it as it were, the fresh pure air from the bosom of that vast and broad ocean making for greater and grander manhood and womanhood, so essential to a growing store of this kind. Horrors, theres the north east and south, and whats that we hear comein outa the east—shoot us folks if it isn't one of them Chain Stores, with a silvery tongue telling these quiet pease loving people what great things are in store for them if they'l just trust in em (trust in the chains no doubt is whats meant). Good Grief this warm spring like air has our mind wandering again. Dont pay any attention to what we said about tinkling waves and things. Just make up your list of foods you'l be needin and see for your self if this isnt the most wonderful store, sittin as it is, oh for goodnessake there we go waxin eloquent again—anyway, prices are good and the foods good and soes everything at
