

Fall Weddings and Music Activities Add Color to Autumn Season

Music Takes Bold Place in Fall Activities; Plans Under Way for Winter Offerings

Salem MacDowell Club Will Offer Only Four Programs; Will Emphasize Artistic Music; State Fair Music Excellent

ONCE more interests are drawn indoors as the summer days slip into the past and the cool of autumn warns that soon amusements for all but those ambitious few who love the cold and its sports will have to seek amusement under the protection of roofs and walls.

High in the rank of winter pleasure is that place held by music. This winter Salem is to take a few strides ahead in this delightful means of entertainment. The Salem MacDowell club, one of the oldest if not the oldest choral organization in the city, after several executive board meetings, got under way Friday night a plan for the coming year's work which is intriguing to the imagination.

Believing that the city is suffering from a dearth of artistic musical offerings, the club has decided to give only four programs during the year and each of these will be a superior musical offering. Two will be club choruses, each featuring a guest artist.

The first chorus program will be given at Christmas and at that time Miss Mary Schultze will be guest artist. The first of the four programs will be given about the middle of October and at this time an artist will be presented.

The plan of the organization is to present the programs in a downtown theatre. As plans are now, it is hoped that the Christmas program may be a mixed chorus and invitations are being extended through the paper for those interested to make inquiry through Miss Margaret Rosecrans, Miss Lena Belle Tartar, or Mrs. Walter Zosel.

Invitations through the press are being extended to all new talent in the city to make inquiry concerning joining the chorus for its year's work. A limited number may still be added to the present personnel, according to Miss Lena Belle Tartar, director.

Officers for the year include Mrs. W. S. Levens, president; Mrs. Walter Denton, vice president; Miss Mary Cupper, secretary; Mrs. S. W. Starr, treasurer; Mrs. O. D. Adams, auditor; Mrs. Grace De Harport and Miss Lois Plummer, librarians; Miss Lena Belle Tartar, director and Miss Ruth Bedford, accompanist. The fall musical season will really open with the music being sponsored at the Oregon state fair under the direction of the Oregon Federation of Music clubs, Miss Helen Calbreath, president.

Twenty musical programs are being presented at the fair this year and at least 1000 persons will take part in these programs, which are being presented from a special left in the main pavilion. Miss Calbreath expresses great enthusiasm for the excellency of the program of offerings.

Mrs. Walter Denton is in charge of arrangements from Salem and assisting her is Miss Dorothy Pearce, Miss Lena Belle Tartar, Miss Ruth Bedford and C. A. Wilson of the chamber of commerce.

Talented musicians from over the state will appear in chorus, orchestra, bands, and novelty ensembles. Some soloists will be featured. The programs are to be free to the public and will be given between 11 and 12 o'clock; 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon and between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening. A special program will be given Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday at 5 o'clock.

Salem day is to be of especial interest to Salem people. Among the larger programs will be that which will be presented by the Salem Symphony orchestra, its first appearance this fall. Prof. Hans W. Seitz is director. The Madrigal club and the Salem Civic chorus under the direction of Prof. E. W. Hobson, and the Philharmonic chorus of Willamette university under the direction of Prof. Cameron Marshall will be represented.

Soloist of Salem will be Miss Lillian Scott, Miss Lucile Miles, Hubbard Hobson and Ronald Craven, with Miss Barbara Power of Monmouth as violinist. David Smith, talented child singer will also appear on the program as will the American Legion Junior band under the direction of William MacLaughlin and several other organizations arrangements for which have not quite been completed.

The 4-H clubs will sing Wednesday, Thursday and Friday as groups at 11 o'clock under the direction of R. J. Maaske.

These plans will be augmented with future arrangements of keen interest to music lovers of the state who will be present for the state fair programs.

The program announced for October 6 by Prof. Edward Tillson at the studio of Prof. Roberts is one of the smaller and delightfully intimate fall offerings to be anticipated. Prof. Tillson will play a piano program unassisted, and those of the public who love charming piano programs will be pleased to know that they may attend this one at will.

Other programs indicating the arrival of fall musical events was that of Harmon Boals Friday night at the Roberts studio when he delighted an intimate group of friends with a select group of pipe organ numbers. A second program of Friday was that of Miss Irene Fuller of McMinnville who was presented by Mrs. David Eason at her home. Mrs. Richard Robertson was soloist for this charming evening which concluded with an informal so-

A. A. U. W. of Oregon Will Hold State Meet Here October 21 and 22

IT is with interest that Salem looks forward to the state convention of the American Association of University Women October 21-22. Plans for this meeting which will gather together a large number of Oregon women, were tentatively discussed at the first regular meeting of the fall for the Salem chapter, Saturday at the luncheon in Masonic temple.

Committee appointments for the year were also made by Mrs. J. A. Jelders, president of the organization for this year. These include the following:

Program, Mrs. Asa Fisher; fellowships, Miss Beryl Holt; education, Mrs. George R. K. Moorhead with Mrs. George Rho-

ten as chairman of the child study section; international relations, Miss Mary Eyre; literature, Mrs. Herbert Rahe; legislative, Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith; publicity, Miss Harriett Long; relief cooperation, Mrs. Lynn F. Cronmiller; membership, Mrs. W. W. Baum, Mrs. Harry Keeney, Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney, Miss Dorthea Stensloff; hostess, Miss Mabel Robertson, Miss Ada Ross, Mrs. Philip E. Barrett, Mrs. Henry F. DeBoest, Mrs. Kenneth Fitzgerald, Mrs. Otto K. Paulus, Mrs. George E. Allen.

According to plans made known Saturday at the business meeting the study classes for which the A. A. U. W. is well known will be conducted again this winter. Mrs. George R. Moorhead is chairman of the educational committee. Under this committee will be sponsored classes in child study under the direction of Mrs. George Rhoten; classes in German under Mrs. Gustav Ebsen and classes in French under Miss Marian Morange.

Officers for the year include Mrs. Jelders, president, and vice president, Miss Leila Johnson; secretary, Mrs. E. B. Lindsay; treasurer, Mrs. E. R. Derry; trustees, Miss Olive Dahl, Dr. Helen Pearce and Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger.

The program of the afternoon proved a delightful one. Mrs.

Ralph Barnes, visiting here with the parents of her husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Barnes, spoke concerning her experiences in Europe with her husband, foreign correspondent for the New York Times. Mr. Barnes is now in Russia. Her talk proved of exceedingly great interest and was most enthusiastically received by the association.

Miss Josephine Albert added beauty to the program with a group of vocal solo numbers.

Mrs. Marion Mulkey is opening her kindergarten September 19, in the auditorium room of Nelson hall. Mrs. Clifton Mudd will assist with the work this year. Special emphasis is being placed on authorizations and pre-school work. Sessions will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week.

A pretty surprise party complimented Miss Kathleen Lindbeck Friday night when a group of her friends called to wish her farewell before her departure for Oregon State college Monday.
