

PAULINE MARNACH TOPS QUEEN RACE

Ballot Boxes Close Tonight At 6 o'clock Interest In Event Growing

The mountain of ballots is piling up and when the count was made yesterday Miss Pauline Marnach moved into the lead in the race for queen of the state fair rodeo. Second place was held by Mildred Zehner who had been first in two counts. Winifred Senn was third and Vivian Eiker fourth.

The ballot boxes close tonight at 6 o'clock. The final count will be made Thursday and the winner will be announced and presented at the Fall Opening of the Salem merchants Thursday night. The winner of first place will be declared queen and will receive a new fall outfit from the club. Winners of second and third places will receive the title of princess and will each receive a new fall dress.

The program for fall opening is being completed. Zollie Voinovok has a group of entertainers who will appear in song hits. They are Joan Frigard, Lyle Henninger, Rita Mae Hill, Cora Egdell, Helen Latham, Bobby Krechter, Deb Anderson, with Roy Mack accompanist. Short acts from the rodeo will be presented by Curley Fletcher of "Strawberry Roan" fame.

Music and Groups are invited to appear.

The legion drum corps, the American Legion junior band, and the Scotch killic band have been invited to furnish music on the streets during the evening. The usual treasure hunt feature is promised this year again, which encourages folk to search the windows.

The Fall Style Show will follow in the Elsinore theatre while local stores will show living models with the newest fall costumes. Following also will be the official Salem Ad club dance at Crystal Gardens.

WINS RACE

Although he retired from the sea 20 years ago, the seamanship of Capt. John Dent, who now operates a walnut ranch near Ventura, Cal., hasn't suffered a bit. He so demonstrated by piloting the 44-foot ketch Fayth, owned by William Stevens McNut, novelist, to victory over the ketch Mallows in a race from Santa Barbara to Honolulu. The trip required 14 days 14 hours and 49 minutes. Capt. Dent formerly owned the Fayth, which was built in 1911 at Ketchikan, China.

West Salem News

WEST SALEM, Sept. 20—Mrs. Frank Klase and her brother, Todd Butt of Vinton, Pa., cousins of Mrs. J. E. Douglas of Piedmont, avenue, were house guests at the Douglas home last week. The brother and sister had received word of the illness of a brother, Clarence Butt of Newberg, and had started to Oregon, and the brother died while they were on the way, so they attended his funeral, and while out here paid a visit to the Salem cousins.

A good sized crowd attended the fine illustrated lecture given at the Ford Memorial church Saturday night. Rev. Ira E. Gillett, who is a missionary from Portuguese East Africa, home on furlough, was the speaker. He showed moving pictures, slides and a variety of interesting curios.

Attends Ulrich Wedding
Lottie McAdams attended the wedding of her cousin, Miss Maxine Nye Ulrich of Salem to Stearns Cushing, which was solemnized at the Leslie M. E. church on Sunday and the reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ulrich following.

Earle Jensen will leave this week for Oakland, Calif., to get his mother, Mrs. Anna Jensen, who has been visiting there for a month and bring her back home with him. Mrs. Jensen has been the house guest of a daughter at Oakland.

The Cleary-Hillman Packing company, are working from 12 to 15 hours daily with a crew of workers numbering about 65 to complete their prune pack for this season. The quality of the pack this year is unusually fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Casebeer of Salem moved the first of the week into a residence on 1545 Franklin street. Mrs. Casebeer is a daughter of Mrs. Garnet Smith of Edgewater, and has been a resident of West Salem before, for a number of years.

Moore and Son Hunt
F. Marian Moore and his son, Claude of West Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Emory and two sons of the Turner road have all gone to Grant county, on a hunting trip. They went there last year, near to the old Moore homestead at Tamarack Mountain near Sprague, and enjoyed the trip so much that they decided to repeat it. Mr. Moore is 74 years old and still enjoys a hunt for big game.

Complimenting the birthday anniversary of her husband, Al C. Henningsen, Mrs. Henningsen will give a dinner party at their home on Tuesday evening, Sept. 20. Fall flowers will be used in profusion in the living and dining rooms and covers placed for the honor guest-host, A. C. Henningsen, his mother, Mrs. Julia Henningsen and brother Howard of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Henningsen of Jefferson, Miss Barbara Armstrong, Mr. Shirley, both of Roberts and the hostess, Mrs. Henningsen.
