Bits for Breakfast

With the running to high tide of this sentiment of sanity, there will surely come the redivivus of our fruit juice industry; and it will be reborn and revivified such a lusty and upstanding entity as to be able to go forward to higher places than were in the fondest dreams of the original builders. How soon?

* * *

Who knows? Perhaps only a leader is needed. The capital is already assembled, in the loganberry and other fruit plantings of the Salem district. Given a leader who can lead—unselfish, honest, intelligent, willing to put his life into it, on an equal footing with all the growers and others—given such a leader, an industry can be built "from scratch," beginning right now, that will bring many millions annually, and do a world of good. Bankers would back that kind of an organization. It would make its own way; almost from the start. Federal funds could be had, for buildings and equipment.

* * *

Where is the leader? Perhaps he is right here—now, or is growing up.

SHARES ARE FIRM, MAKE SOME GAINS

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—(AP)—Financial markets were firm in most directions today. Stocks edged a couple of notches higher, cancelling their declines of the last three sessions; bonds, especially in speculative and United States government categories, made a reasonably good showing; both wheat and cotton closed higher.

Final prices of stocks were the day's best, net change averaging into a gain of slightly better than two points. Sales totaled 1,251,040 shares.

Steel stocks found the going much easier, U. S. Steel Preferred advancing about 4 points after yesterday's 7 point break. Doubtless the absence of pressure against this issue had something to do with the general recovery movement. Steel common, together with Bethlehem and Republic, gained moderately, joining Du Pont, American Smelting, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Standard Oil of New Jersey, North American, General Electric, New York Central, Northern Pacific and several other rails in advances of a point or more.

Sale to Greece, Wide Margin of Prices Are Factors

CHICAGO, Sept. 20—(AP)—Broadening of the difference between Chicago and Liverpool wheat quotations gave cheer to grain traders today and imparted firmness to the entire list of cereals.

Adding to upward momentum of values was word that Greece had bought a cargo of United States hard winter wheat at the Gulf of Mexico, paying 5¼ cents over Chicago December compared with 3⅛ cents premium a week ago. Mill buying of wheat in Chicago, together with signs of eastern demand for cash wheat here were also heartening factors.

Wheat closed firm at nearly the day's top, ¼-⅜ above yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to ¼-⅜ higher, oats a shade to ¼ up.

Today's closing quotations:

Wheat: Sept., old, .50; new, no trading; Dec., .52⅝-¾; May, .57-⅝-⅝.

Corn: Sept., .27¾-⅞; Dec., .29-29⅛; May, .34.

Oats: Sept., .15⅝-¾; Dec., .17⅞; May, .20¾.

Improved Conditions Elsewhere Deemed Responsible

PORTLAND, Sept. 20—(AP)—Further general advance of 1c doz. in the price of eggs in the Portland market appear the result chiefly of improved outside market conditions and values.

The advance which became effective during the day was the first showing for some time of strength for all grades and sizes. Recently the strength has been confined to the large sized offerings but the latest advance includes all offerings by local coops as well as private firms.

Reicelpts of large sized eggs are still decreasing with the volume scarcely of normal size. This together with decreasing storage stocks prove considerable aid to marketers toward forcing a higher price level. While to some extent the steady advances recently have been due to the anxiety of speculative interests to get profits on their ice house goods, the shortage of top quality has been apparent.

Profit taking by speculative interests who are withdrawing liberal supplies from storage, is causing a slight undertone of easiness in the market for butter here and along the coast generally.

Very good trading tone continues in the market for live chickens. No price changes are suggested. All sorts are in favor with prices generally maintained.

Market for country killed meats continues to reflect a firm tone. Sales continue up to a dime. Lambs are a trifle easier with hogs about steady.

Cantaloupe prices are a trifle firmer to higher for the day. The Dillard stock is not ripening as fast as requirements. Best stock is up a dime for the day.

Increasing scarcity of offerings has resulted in a further advance in the price of cucumbers for pickling here with an especially great shortage in the dill size.
