

HARVEST CUTS SCHOOL LISTS

Stayton Down Slightly; Gervais has 85 in High; Others Report

STAYTON, Sept. 21.—Stayton grade schools opened Monday with an enrollment of 144. There were about 125 enrolled in the high school as against 131 on the opening day last year. The enrollment in the high school last year was 188 and on October 1, 1931, 166 were enrolled. Many families are away picking prunes, and this to great extent cuts down the present enrollment. Wednesday the buses began their regular schedule.

Misses Margaret Ireland and Martha Jindra, teachers in Stayton high school, have rented the C. E. Taylor house for the school year. The Taylor family has moved in with Mrs. Taylor's father, E. Roy. The M. Shilets family will continue to occupy the upper floor of the Taylor residence. Miss Doris Nelreiter, new grade school teacher, will be domiciled at the Merton Mack home. The Mack's daughter, Mrs. Payne Lyons, is also one of the teachers in the grade school.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave M. John entertained Tuesday night with an informal "get together" for the teachers and their families. Following a pot-luck supper, the evening was spent playing games and cards.

80 FRESHMEN ENTER GERVAIS, Sept. 21

GERVAIS, Sept. 21.—Gervais schools opened Monday with a slightly smaller enrollment than in former years, the cause is attributed to the fact that several families have moved from the district. Large classes were graduated in all three schools last spring, and unfinished harvests. Eighty-five were registered in the high school, 39 in the grade school and 66 in the parochial school. Thirty freshmen entered the high school, six entered on their first year of school in the grade school and eight in the parochial school.

Principal H. J. Tumbelson of the high school expresses himself as being well pleased with the interest both pupils and teachers

Are Onions Indispensible? Not if Labish Folks Rule

Bumper Crop Stored, to Help Make Cinema Tears and Just Stew

By W. R. GWINN

LAKE LABISH, Sept. 21.—It seems there were two Irishmen— But we won't concern ourselves with them. They weren't raising onions. This is about onions.

And we'd like to have you name something indispensable as an onion. Just try it once; and then look into the mirror at that baffled expression in the eyes.

You can get along without a shirt. Lots of people claim they have lost theirs lately. You can get along without shoes if you really set your mind to it. They do it in Africa and Asia. You can get along without meat. Look at Bernard Shaw and Pinkie Gardner. You can get along without an automobile. Ask Mr. Hoss. Lots of people are doing it since August 1. You can even get along without a wife. Look at the Reno statistics.

But you CAN'T get along without an onion once in a while, unless you're a dour old cuss just trying to make us out a "liar." What would a stew be without an onion? Don't be silly. It would not be a stew at all without an onion; or two or three. Onions are to stews what engines are to automobiles, what Brisbane is to the Hearst organization, what the MacPherson family is to added newspaper editors. In short, onions are indispensable. There's no use your trying to get around it, either.

What would the pretty cinema stars do on those days when the tears refused to flow for the great repentance scenes if it were not for—onions? Think of the money this admirable vegetable has saved the industry. Think of the long expensive waits that are obviated and the half that would be torn from the distracted directors' heads. Are any of the tonier and more pretentious vegetables of such practical utility? We guess not!

Well, Oregon is doing its share and more in providing the unassaged world with this vegetable essential. Down at Lake Labish they are harvesting these days.

At the time he was appointed to the Willamette conference of Evangelical church there were six ministers. Dr. Kantner is the only living of this group. While pastor of the Congregational church, Salem, 1902, Dr. Kantner organized the Sunday school that later grew into the Hazel Green church.

The chairman of committee on Sunday school booth at the State Fair urges the representatives of the schools to be at the booth early Saturday, September 24.

Frank Powell Is Adjutant for Silverton Post

SILVERTON, Sept. 21.—Frank Powell was elected to the post of adjutant at the September business meeting of the American Legion post held here Monday night. Other officers elected at the previous meeting were installed. C. J. Towe is the new commander, Kenneth Hanson, vice commander; Roy Davenport, finance officer; Scott McPike, William McDonald and Olaf Boime, executive committee. Charles Johnson gave an interesting resume of the recent convention at Portland.

The crop is of the bumper variety, and estimated to be a fourth heavier this year than last. The onions are the late variety and keep in ordinary storage until well into the spring if necessary. Last year there was a tremendous national shortage, estimated at between 30 and 40 per cent, but this year the crop is nearer normal. The price on winter onions remains speculative, but—

There'll be a LOT of stews consumed this winter. Stews are the entree on the American (or any other) bill of fare when times are tough. And, as we may have asked before, what is a stew without an onion?
