

BEARCATS HOLD STATER ELEVEN

Keene's Squad However is Weak on Attack, Season Outlook Uncertain

Willamette held the Staters for downs within the 10-yard line, and the Bearcats also coped successfully with the Schisslermen's spectacular passing attack, as long as matters were more or less equal in regard to freshness.

Erickson is Only Sure Ground Gainer
But on the other hand, Wait Erickson appeared to be almost Willamette's only ground-gaining threat, though Louie Johnson knifed through for a number of gains. Keith Jones, playing in the backfield for the first time, made a good many more than his share of tackles.

Unable to gain through the line or for that matter on ordinary end plays, the Staters resorted to laterals, which they executed with great adeptness, and early in the third period, Frank Little made the first score when he took a short lateral pass from Blacone and romped to a touchdown. Pangle converted.

Blacone and Little figured again in the second touchdown soon after with a long gain from a running pass. Blacone made it 20-0 by running from his own 42-yard line to score on a cutback inside right end. Schissler sent in a mixture of subs who added two more touchdowns in the final period, Jarvis carrying the ball over and Fyock catching a long pass.

SCOTTS MILLS FOLK HAVE DINNER PARTY

SCOTTS MILLS, Sept. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Coulson entertained at dinner Sunday honoring their young son, Edgar, on his fourth birthday. Covers were laid for, beside the honor guest, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brougher and son and Miss Margaret Coulson of Clatskanie, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brougher and Mr. and Mrs. Coulson and daughter Mildred.
Ruthanna McCracken and Walter Thurman both graduates of Scotts Mills high school, in June, have entered Pacific college at Newberg. Willis Thurman is a freshman at Willamette.
Mrs. Albert Hatten and son Mark, and her mother, Mrs. Ballard of Portland, is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Taylor.
Teaching Job Begins
Geraldine Fry began teaching at the Mountain View school in the Silverton hills Monday.
Lillie Nelson and Corrine Moberg are attending the Mt. Angel academy.

POULTRY SHOW IS TO BE BEST EVER

By far the finest poultry show in the history of the Oregon state fair is assured by entries now in the hands of Edward Scherer, veteran superintendent of this part of the fair. "There are more entries in than I have ever seen on Saturday night," Scherer said.
He has been connected with the poultry show since 1916, and has been superintendent 15 years. Two big entries came from California, each more than 100 birds.
Scherer calls particular attention to a new feature housed in the poultry pavilion, fur-bearing beaver and muskrat from the Smith beaver and muskrat farm at Squaw Mountain, 25 miles east of Estacada. On this farm the animals live in a natural state. There are not even fences, since the farm is located on the Clemens marsh. In a natural bowl surrounded on every side by mountains the animals cannot climb.

HARRIS RESIGNS AS LEAGUE'S MANAGER

Accepting the resignation of A. A. Harris, Salem Industrial league last night elected L. D. Waring as its general manager at a meeting held in Union hall. Waring will have direct supervision of all league activities.
A committee, consisting of S. H. Van Trump, Frank P. Marshall and Roy S. Johnson, was appointed to confer with the group of businessmen backing the league and to cooperate with Community Service.
League members are at present busy at cutting wood and harvesting pumpkins. Entrance of scrip for their labor will soon be started. It was announced.

CONVICT'S DEATH ARMOR

Life at Folsom Prison, Folsom, Cal., was like some to Carl F. Reese, 30, San Jose convict, so he made himself a diving suit and decided to escape via the prison canal. The suit is shown above worn by a prison guard. Reese's downfall came when he attached heavy weights to the suit to keep him from coming to the surface. The helmet section leaked. Because of the weights he couldn't raise himself and he drowned.

STUDNICK UNABLE TO RIDE IN RODEO

horses every so often, Frank has a collection of spills, and a pattern of broken bones and other injuries by which to remember each one. But this last spill certainly came at the wrong time, Frank said on his return here.
"I wanted to show the folks here some real riding this year," Frank said, "but my luck didn't hold through the season. Anyway, I wish you would tell everyone that a collection of rodeo stars are here to give them the best show ever held in western Oregon. Even with my busted foot making it hard to get around, I am not going to miss any of the performances of the rodeo or the Night Stampede. Wind 'em up and let 'em buck. It's the fastest growing sport in the world today."
Studnick won the world's championship in the bucking contest at Pendleton last year, riding Midnight in the finals. This year he planned to take on the Strawberry Roan, a horse so tough to ride that Curley Fletcher has written a song about him. But its all off now. Frank will present a program of nine numbers among the winning riders in the rodeo to tackle the Strawberry Roan in the finals at the Night Stampede.

ALBANY LAWYER IS ASSOCIATION HEAD

GEARHART, Ore., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Delegates to the Oregon State Bar association moved to incorporate the organization at the closing session of their annual convention here today.
Arthur K. MacMahon of Albany was elected president of the association. Other officers elected were Ralph F. King of Portland, vice president; John Guy Wilson of Portland, reelected secretary, and Arthur E. Platt of Portland, reelected treasurer.
The delegates adopted resolutions expressing disapproval of the Zorn-McPherson initiative measure which would consolidate Oregon's institutions of higher learning; approving a plan to redistribute the duties of Oregon circuit judges so as to relieve congestion of Multnomah county courts, providing for funds for proper enforcement of probation law; favoring regulation of the statute explicitly prescribing the submitting to voters of any proposal for recall for an elective officer, and urging the supreme court to increase the board of examiners from five to nine.

ILLNESS, RICKEY, HITS MANY HOMES

RICKEY, Sept. 24.—More than the usual amount of illness has been visited on the members of the community, but all afflicted are improving. Miss Fryssie, who has been under a physician's care all summer, is reported as improving. Mr. Fryssie has been an active and progressive farmer for over 25 years. He with his son Orvin has farmed the largest acreage in the community.
J. Hache, who has been seriously ill in a Salem hospital, is slightly better.
Hens Beard had her hand so badly injured in a wringer a few days ago that it was necessary to take several stitches in it.

PARADE TO BE MONDAY EVENT

Lane County Special Guest; Community Stunts to Be Attraction

is free to all people on the grounds.
The fair will be officially under way at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, when Queen Mildred of Salem, assisted by Douglas McKay, president of the chamber of commerce, and T. O. Russell, president of the Eugene chamber of commerce, will declare the 71st fair opened. And from then on Director Gehlhar and his scores of workers will be hosts to the entire state.

Monday is Lane county day at the fair, and when a long trainload of Eugene and Lane county folks pulls in at the 12th street depot at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, a rousing reception will be given by Salem people, this to be followed by a parade through the business section.

Four Bands Coming With Eugene Crowd
Eugene is bringing four bands, which will be the official fair bands during the opening day. These are the University of Oregon band, I. O. O. F. band, Eugene Boy-Scout band and Eugene chamber of commerce band. The Chemawa Indian school band will also play during the day, notably at the 4 o'clock musical hour, when Mr. and Mrs. Rex Underwood of Eugene will also share the program.
Special days for the remainder of the week have been designated, and programs for these will be recorded from day to day. The special days are: Tuesday, Yamhill, Washington and Polk county day; Wednesday, Governor's day, Salem, Marion and Clackamas county day; Thursday, Corvallis and Benton county day; Friday, grange, farmer's union, Albany, and Linn county day; Saturday, Portland, Journal Junior and Pet Parade day.

FINE ARTS, MUSIC TO FEATURE FAIR

programs of the Oregon State Federation of Music clubs, has expanded this year until it is an outstanding part of the fair. Last year the federation presented soloists and small groups of musicians in a booth in the Agricultural building. This year the programs will be presented on a balcony in the main building of the entire main pavilion of the same building, and the numbers of performers will run from 30 to 100 at each performance, including massed choruses, symphony orchestras, and bands.
The Federation programs will be one hour long, presented at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and 7 o'clock in the evening. The programs are the result of constant planning by Miss Helen Calbreath of Portland, state president; Mrs. Walter Denton of Salem, chairman of arrangements; and Marion county program chairman; Mrs. James L. Goult of Corvallis, Benton county program chairman. E. M. Aldryn Evans of Forest Grove, Washington county chairman, and other officers and members of the Federation.
In the art department itself Salem provides one of the most striking, and withal the most artistic displays, the work of Dr. R. W. Hans Seitz and his wife. Dr. Seitz is director of the Salem symphony orchestra which will present a program of nine numbers at 4 o'clock Wednesday, but he is also a remarkable artist and craftsman.
On hand looms, made in his own carpenter shop, he and his wife have mixed rare artistic selection of colors and craft skill in the making of weavings, using Oregon wool in some, Oregon linen in others. Dame Fashion has a fondness now for hand-woven handbags. The Rubyhans arts studio, for such is the name of the joint enterprise of this gifted couple, will present hand-woven handbags, woven wall hangings, some in silk, some in wool, shawls in Oregon wool, table runners, pillow tops, and other hand-woven Oregon linens.

Olympia People Make Visit at Brush College

BRUSH COLLEGE, Sept. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Buell entertained as their guests from Washington recently their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buell and children, Grace Marie and Charles Arthur of Olympia and Mr. Buell's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Buell of Graham, the latter going on to Tillamook this week to find a suitable location for a dairy ranch which they intend to purchase.
Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Buell of Brush College are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a granddaughter, born to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Setro Buell of Portland, Sunday, September 13.

Frank F. Tooze, Sherwood, Dies; Relatives Here

Frank Farragut Tooze, about 70, died at his home at Hood View, near Sherwood, Ore., Friday night, September 23. He had lived in Oregon for 60 years, coming here from Ohio with two brothers at an early age. He was a brother of F. J. Tooze of Salem.
He is survived by his widow, four sons, Chester of Sherwood, Ben of Seattle, Bert and Charles of Portland, also 15 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.
Funeral services will be held Tuesday, September 27, at the residence.

Onion Seed Yields 1000 Pounds, Acre

HAYESVILLE, Sept. 24.—A record crop of onion seed has been harvested by Beryns Christopherson, farmer here. He has just finished harvesting 3315 pounds of seed from three acres. Seed brings 30 cents a pound.
This crop is generally thought to be the largest seed yield taken from land here. Another farmer got 400 pounds to the acre on onion seed this year, and while others may go ahead of this, they will not reach the 1000 mark of Christopherson's crop.

HOOVER PROMISES WHEAT SALE HELP

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Governor Julius L. Meier announced today that he had received a telegram from President Hoover indicating he would cooperate in working out plans for the sale of 25,000,000 bushels of Pacific northwest wheat to China under a plan sponsored by the northwest grain growers.
The governor, an advocate of the plan which calls for financing of the sale by the reconstruction finance corporation, issued a statement here today which said, in part:
"In my opinion a sale of this magnitude will reduce the surplus in the Pacific northwest to the extent that practically all of our remaining wheat can be sold on the domestic market."
"I was gratified to receive on Friday a telegram from the president in which he indicated a most sympathetic attitude, pledging his cooperation to the fullest extent. The president is exerting every possible effort to aid agriculture and business generally and is to be commended for the prompt manner in which he was offered to lend every possible aid to a movement so vital to the agricultural, industrial and commercial welfare of the Pacific northwest."

WOMAN IN RACE TO HEAD POLK SCHOOLS

DALLAS, Sept. 24.—Polk county's first independent candidate for the coming election entered the field Thursday when Mrs. Anne G. Dashiell filed her petition as a candidate for county school superintendent. She will run against Josiah Wills of Dallas, who has held that position for several terms. Her slogan for the campaign will be "Constructive supervision with economy."
Mrs. Dashiell is a graduate of the Oregon Normal school and taught for a number of years in the city schools of Dallas. She is residing at Salt Creek at the present time. The petitions she filed for her entry as an independent candidate carried the names of 130 voters of the county.

Police Tracing Alleged Fraud In Bond Deals

MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 24.—(AP)—State police and Jackson county authorities continued today their investigation of the operation of "bond salesman," said to have attempted to swindle a number of Oregon and northern California residents by preferring bogus checks in exchange for bonds of the Coos Bay Water Service company and the California Water Service company.
State police say that the purported bond salesman operated between San Jose, Cal., and Albany, Ore., and that their reports show that since August 28, bonds to the value of $28,000 have been illegally procured.

ROOSEVELT NOT OVERLY STRONG

Hurrah Over his Visit Soon Abated and Criticism Follows Rapidly

the party will be set up here shortly and campaign material furnished for all workers.
Kowitz said yesterday he was hopeful some public debates could be arranged between leaders of both parties, similar to the forensic contests to be held in Lane county.
The Meier-Holman-Einsig triangle produced no great fireworks last Monday when the board of control met. All hands were on deck and spoke their minds briefly, pointedly, but with restraint. The governor, when no seconds appeared, closed the incident as far as the public in concerned with a tap of his gavel. Actually the clash between Meier and Holman is unsettled and were not a campaign in progress, Treasurer Holman would fulminate again. As it is on his political tour south this last week he made several public allusions to the incident, indicating that defeat now is not defeat forever.
Willard Marks will no longer beam over 23 belabored senators. He has chosen definitely to take the assured income of a federal job as an adjunct to his law business rather than follow the pleasant but precarious political path. Sam Garland is scrambling for the Linn county senatorship and there will be other aspirants before the county central committee there chooses a candidate for the ballot.
City politics flared as the week closed with a counter-offensive to the municipal water fight which was supposed to have been settled. Mayor-Elect Douglas McKay quickly spiked rumors that he was siding in with the group which would repeal the $2,500,000 bond issue. He said he stood exactly where he did before the election and would continue to advocate purchase and operation of the water plant by the city.
Speculation developed on McKay's favorite for the city attorney's job. While the council appoints a man to this office it is thought McKay will have considerable influence in the choice. If City Attorney Trindle becomes district attorney, a vacancy will occur. Brazier Small and Raymond Bassett are known to be willing that the lightning strike

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS FOR SOUTH'S VOTE

HOLLYWOOD BOWL, Cal., Sept. 24.—(AP)—In a ringing voice that carried clearly to the thousands banded tier upon tier in the natural amphitheatre cut into Hollywood hills, Franklin D. Roosevelt asked today for the support of Southern California in his campaign for the presidency.

"I ask it not just for ourselves, but for our children, our grandchildren and our great grandchildren so that our land may be a happier and a safer place to live," he urged them.
"Give me your help."
The speech, made after a drive through the flowered streets of the movie colony, climaxed his eleventh hour visit to the metropolis of Southern California. It followed a luncheon given by the Roosevelt-Garner republican club of Los Angeles and preceded a drive that took him back to his hotel for conferences and dinner before his final appearance in Los Angeles at Olympic stadium tonight.
At midnight he will board his special train to journey to Williams, Ariz.

Work on Farms Holds Up Well Agency Reports

Agricultural work held up better as a source of jobs than expected last week and six more persons were hired through the U. S.-Y. M. C. A. employment bureau than during the previous week. A week ago Assistant Manager Dotson believed the peak in employment had been reached and the decline would quickly set in.
Altogether, 176 persons were placed last week, 168 of them men, the remainder women. Of the men's jobs, 136 were on farms, 24 at common labor, five truck driving, two shingling and one mule driving.
Four of the women were sent to work on farms, three out as housekeepers and one as clerk.

RODEO REPLICAS OF WILD WEST

Eastern Oregon Cattlemen Coming to Have Part In big Spectacle

don, William E. Anderson of Ellensburg, Wash., president of the Ellensburg rodeo; and A. J. Vey of Pendleton.

More than 100 are entered in the rodeo contests. Fox Hastings, woman bulldogger, and her husband, Chuck Wilson, who has entered the three hardest events, bucking contest, bulldogging, and calf-roping, arrived Saturday. Strickland's Coming To Take Big Part Donald Strickland, veteran, is on hand and his wife, Mabel Strickland is expected today. Clay Carr, big winner here last year, and rated all-around champion in 1930, arrived Friday. Jack Kirchner and Pete Kirchner, from Blackfoot, Idaho, Fox O'Callahan and Aubrey Harrison of Straw, California, have arrived. Jack Kirchner won the bulldogging championship at Madison Square gardens.

Donald Nesbitt, whose home is in Quemada, New Mexico, rolled in Saturday with his smart little chestnut sorrel, "Sunny Boy." Nesbitt is strong for his horse which is, he declares, the best bulldogging horse in the business and winner at most of the rodeo shows this year. Nesbitt is a beau brummel among rodeo men. He wears immaculate khaki-colored clothes, but he has signed up for all the rough events, bucking, bulldogging and calf-roping.

Charles Pym, Paddy Ryan, Eddie Woods, Bud Brady of Great Falls, have arrived. Brady and his 14-year-old son are trick ropers and trick riders. Brady, senior, is also a bulldogger.
Other trick ropers and riders who are here include Paris Williams, Nick Nichols, Bonnie Gray, Freddie Hunt, Norman Cowan and his wife Donna Sowan, Bonora, California, and the Cosack trio, John Kosores, Gabriel Sallod and Miss Thity Sokoloff.
There are plenty of Brahma steers, bucking horses, and lively calves, for the various rodeo events. At 2 o'clock Monday afternoon after a grand opening parade led by Queen Mildred and her princesses, the show will be on. Let 'er buck.
