Rather "red behind the ears" because of certain boasts that have drifted across the Willamette river from Polk county, a fighting bunch of Willamette Bearcats will trot out to Sweetland field at 8:30 tonight to do battle with the Wolves of Oregon Normal.

It will be the first intercollegiate game of the season here and will be, no matter how it turns out, a colorful event, with a large contingent of feminine fans for the invaders and the Bearcat rooters turning out for the first time this year. The Cherry City Baking company announcer with Gardner Knapp at the microphone, will help the fans to keep track of what happens.

Coach Larry Wolfe's seasoned veterans have not been at all bashful about advertising what they are going to do to Willamette, and while they may make good—for the "dope" is emphatically in their favor—they may find themselves in for a grueling 66 minutes of football.

Though Coach Wolfe has announced that the tentative starting lineup, it is probable that Scroggins, former Commerce high, Portland, left handed passing star, will be in there a major share of the time, whether he starts or not; and Mahan, a brother of the Mahan who played for Willamette last year, is another ball packer who will see a lot of action.

Wolves Bringing Well Tested Team
 Fresh from an invasion of Reno where they outplayed the University of Nevada eleven, the Wolves can count on a finished attack with perfect execution of the deceptive and flashy plays which have become synonymous with Coach Wolfe's name. The normal school will send over an eleven that has "arrived" and has been tested thoroughly.

Willamette on the other hand will present a team in the early formative stages, with nothing behind it but a disheartening defensive fight against Oregon State in which it made a good showing but did not make any sort of threat to win, or even to score.

Nevertheless "Spec" Keene's boys will be out there fighting to win, and regardless of the outcome, they will probably not be so badly outclassed but that some opportunity for developing that so far lacking offense will be presented.

Keene was not altogether certain of his starting lineup after Thursday's light practice. He may use the group listed above, or he may put Grannis in either at end or at his old job, center. Connors may start at end instead of Clark, and some other variations are possible.

The backfield will include only one of the men who started against Oregon State. The others, Erickson, Frantz and Jones, did not touch a football this week. The team is also lacking the services of Drager, regular guard, who along with the three backs was a victim of an epidemic of clipping at Corvallis.

The suggested backfield may be rather weak in the important line of blocking, and if it proves to be the case, Coach Keene may send in Orvare, a freshman who shows some promise in this department.

Though the "under dog" as far as prospects of winning are concerned, Willamette is mindful of the fact that this is a not-a-conference game, and Keene will use a number of replacements—probably all of his men will get in for the squad has dwindled to somewhere around 30.

Olson, Adams and Haley come near comprising the list of reserve backfield men available. In the line, Tweed, Emel, Healey, Kohler, McKerron, Woodworth and several others will be given a chance to perform.

Oregon Normal players on the list sent over, in addition to those already mentioned are Goode, White, Wedin, Squires, who may start at end, Bennett, Johnson, Ridge, Tatum, Chambers, Hayman and Vaughn.

Want Schmeling To Oppose Baer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29 — (AP)—An offer of $100,000 for Max Schmeling to meet Max Baer in a ten round bout here was telegraphed today to the former heavyweight champion by Millard Raub, matchmaker for Dreamland auditorium. Raub made the offer after the directors had authorized it.

Ducks Overcome Five-Run Lead, Need Only One For Title; Stars Rained Out

You'll see all sorts of fancy sleight-of-hand football tonight as Sweetland field when Larry Wolfe's gang gets warmed up.

Oregon Normal's formation is especially adapted to that sort of thing; there are two "quarterbacks" huddled back of the center with their hands stretched out to receive the ball, and up there close against the line, they form a screen that prevents the other team from seeing just what is transpiring. This also helps in the Larry Wolfe Special—that play in which the left tackle gets the ball and hides it a while before hiking goalward.

Welcome home, Pete Gretsch and Harold McKenzie. You did some great work on Willamette teams of the past, and we'll still have a good word for you even if you help beat your old school tonight. We wouldn't mind seeing Roy Benjamin, Pats Arens and Doc Allen play too, though Wolfe says they won't.

Another thing we look forward to seeing is that preponderantly co-ed rooting section. In fact there are enough girls there so each gridiron hero can have half a dozen personal rooters of the opposite gender. Poor old Gretsch, he's married now, so that won't mean so much to him. But he'll still have one rooter he can count on.

The Salem high game will be colorful too, with many of the former stars of the red and black playing on the alumni team. It will include more of the recent grads this year than has been the rule in the past.

And that second world series game was just a case of too much Gomez, though the Yanks' murderers' row played its part as usual and we thought we detected some more over-anxiousness on the part of the Cubs' hurler, who otherwise turned in a great performance.

UPSET STORM HITS WOMEN'S NATIONAL

PEABODY, Mass., Sept. 29 — (AP)—A golfing tornado struck the women's national championship with terrific force today, sweeping away Enid Wilson, the British champion; Maureen Orcutt, one of the best of the Americans, and just missing the great Glenna Collett Vare, who has won five of the last 10 titles.

The upheaval that ruined Miss Wilson's logical hopes of taking away the last of America's amateur crowns, was supplied by 22-year old Charlotte Glutting, who has been playing the game only three years. This long-hitter from Short Hills, N. J., is having her first try at national play.

Miss Wilson was beaten by one up, a poor approach shot robbing her of a par four on the home hole that would have squared the match.

Maureen Orcutt, co-medalist in the qualifying play was beaten 2 and 1 by Ada MacKenzie of Toronto, after holding the former Canadian champion even for 14 holes.

John Drager is Back on Hawaii Gridiron Squad

HONOLULU, Sept. 29 — John Drager, former Salem athlete, is one of the six lettermen returning to the University of Hawaii football squad this fall. Drager fills one of the end positions and is expected to be one of the big guns in the Roaring Rainbows defense and offense.

For the first time in several years, the island institution has not scheduled games with mainland teams, although there is a possibility that a Christmas season game will be arranged. Coach Otto Klum, former Oregon State football star, has been suffering from an illness contracted in the orient, while on a baseball tour last summer.

SCHOOL OPENS
 CLEAR LAKE, Sept. 29 — School opened Monday morning with enrollment in the upper room of 31, and enrollment of 30 in the smaller grades. On account of the late start as large an enrollment as possible will be next week.

Teachers are Dorothy Neal, Texia Bostrack. Several persons from this community have attended the fair for one or two days. Fine weather for the fair this year but pretty hot. Prune picking was finished on the Paul Winslow ranch Tuesday.

MARTIN'S MOVE
 SUBLIMITY, Sept. 29 — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin who have lived in the Sublimity hop dryer have moved to Stayton where the children will attend school. John Kremer who has been employed at the Zosel prune dryer at Liberty has returned to his home at Irvin Schumacher.

Salem high school's 1932 football team will make its bow this afternoon in the annual game with the alumni, at 3:30 p. m. on Olmsted field.

Coach Hollis Huntington has not been making any boasts about what his team will do this year, but he thinks now that he will have a fairly strong first lineup. Of the eleven youths he has selected to start the game, all have had some experience excepting the ends. The backfield will be light and include two men whose experience has not been extensive.

Huntington plans to use a good many players in this game, no matter how it goes, as the primary object is to give his men experience and to test their ability under actual competition. His assistants, Vernon Gilmore and Garne Crano, have been working with the reserves and will have considerable share in selecting the replacements.

Conditionless Grads Want Everybody Out
 Clark Jackson, in general charge of the alumni team, has not announced his starting lineup and the one listed above is only a possibility. In addition to the men mentioned there, Reidy, Scheibner, Bennett, Lyons, Bob Kelly, Nicholson, Blaco and a number of others are expected to turn out and all who report will get a chance to play, as the alumni, totally unprepared for strenuous combat, will need all the replacements that can be mustered.

LARRY GAINS WINS
 LONDON, Sept. 29 — (AP)—Larry Gains, British empire heavyweight champion, gained a decision over Salvatore Ruggirello, giant Italian, in a 12 round bout tonight.

INDIANS WILL PLAY LINFIELD RESERVES

CHEMAMAW, Sept. 29. — (Special) — Tomorrow the Chemawa Indians will travel to McMinnville to play the Linfield college ineligibles and "left behinds," the Linfield varsity being on its way to Walla Walla to play Whitman Saturday.

Chemawa's Braves are winning out in their battle with the "flu" bug, and nearly all reported for practice sessions this week. Coach Lavelle is still doing a great amount of experimenting to find the best combinations.

Thomas has been moved from quarterback to the left half position, Olney to quarter and Churchill from left half to right half. Beauvais has been playing tackle will be groomed for the center position as well as tackle. Teehee who played his first game at center against Lincoln high at Portland, did a fine job, making only one bad pass and that one was the result of his hand being stepped on by Lincoln's 230-pound fullback.

Several new plays have been given, and these will be tried out against Linfield. The Indians will now have strong running plays to the left as well as to the right.

CANZONERI WINNER
 NEW YORK, Sept. 29 — (AP) — Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion, stopped Lew Kirsch of New York in the third round of their ten round non-title bout tonight.

GRID SCORES

At Portland: Pacific 12, Columbia 12.
 Jefferson high 19, Benson 6.

200 BOYS REPORT FOR SWIM CLASS

Close to 200 students turned out to the first high school swimming class for boys at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday. Five classes were held throughout the day, each class averaging better than 35 pupils. Instruction will be given for this group every Thursday by Bob Boardman and Bill Ross.

The first day's classes were taken up with 10 or 15 minutes of oral instruction and then the practice of the leg stroke and proper breathing in the pool.

The junior lifesaving members will meet Friday at 4:15 to start organization of the corps. They will be in charge of Charles Perry and Richard Johansen.

Boxing classes will be organized next week, with enrollment open to anyone who is a member of the Y. Instruction will be by Clyde Grewell of Willamette university. Seniors will meet Tuesday and Thursday from 2:30 to 3:30, and the juniors from 3:45 to 4:30, on the same days. No charge will be made for boxing instruction except when taken as private lessons.

Speed swimming will start Monday night under the direction of Bob Needham, former University of Oregon star. The diving class will be coached by Fred Paul, and will also work on tumbling, under Mr. Stevenson.

Jefferson High Defeats Benson By 19-to-6 Score

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 29 — (AP)—Jefferson high school defeated Benson Tech in a football game here today, 19 to 6.

The last year's champions made their first touchdown at the beginning of the second period after marching the ball 36 yards to the one-yard line as the first period ended. They scored again a few minutes later with the aid of 15-yard penalty against Benson.

The extra point was added by a pass over the line. The third touchdown came in the third period.

Benson scored its lone touchdown in the final period after a march from the 50-yard line. Incidentally it was the first score against the Jeffs in more than a year.

Moe Captain For Staters On Saturday

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Sept. 29 — Hal Moe, two year letterman considered one of the best blocking halfbacks on the coast last year, will captain Oregon State college football team against Stanford in Portland, Multnomah stadium, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in their first conference game of the season.

Paul Schlusser, Orange mentor, names some senior as a new captain for each game so that Moe, in view of his ability and service, will lead the Beavers in their first conference test.

Orange coaches are burdened with added worry as the eve of the Stanford encounter draws nigh as word has come from the Indian camp that Pop Warner, the "Old Wizard" of the Stanford camp, has added a fourth threat to his original spinner formation. Prior to this season Pop used his two wing-backs and fullback as decoys for a spinner and this proved very effective.

This season the two Stanford wing-backs will run from the ends toward the center of the line, the fullback will charge straight into the center of the line and a fourth man will fade back faking either a forward pass or an end run. This will not only make it interesting for Oregon State but should give fans quite some thrill. Warner's spinners, when rightly executed, are one of the prettiest mechanisms of football to be seen on the gridiron and with this added fourth threat fans may be sure of seeing a colorful offense.

Freshmen Come From Behind to Tie Class Game

CHEMAMAW, Sept. 28 — The freshmen were able to come from behind and put over a touchdown to tie the score 6-6 with the seniors, in the first interclass football game of the season.

The game was a nip-and-tuck affair between teams of equal strength and was enlivened by numerous fumbles, blocked kicks, long runs and intercepted passes.

The sophomores will meet the juniors in the next interclass game which will probably be played Sunday afternoon.
