

Salem High and Alumni Elevens Battle to Scoreless Tie

1932 TEAM HAS TIGHT DEFENSE

Weak so far on Attack but Makes Good Threat in Closing Minutes

Salem high school's football team battled the alumni to a scoreless tie Friday afternoon on Olinzer field, revealing the truth of what had been predicted from the start; that the red and black offense would not be strong at the start of the season.

However, the high school boys seemed to pick up experience rapidly and in the closing minutes of the game, launched an aerial attack interspersed with some fine line plunging by Weisser, that took the ball to the alumni 10-yard line, the only real threat either team made to score.

Weakness of the old grade could hardly have been the explanation for this late drive against them, for the alumni team was composed mostly of young fellows who appeared to be in surprisingly good shape.

Three big reasons for the high school's failure to go places earlier, were Gliese and Adams, star wingmen of the 1930 team, who stopped everything that started around the ends; and Sugal, last year's fullback, who got in the road of most of the plays through the line.

Sugal, Nicholson Good on Offense

Sugal and Adams some neat running but the offensive laurels for the "alumni" went to Jimmy Nicholson, who sooner or later will be on the high school team again. He ran back punts for long gains and made some good yardage from scrimmage though interference for him and for Blaco was negligible.

The fourth man in the alumni backfield was also outstanding in his way. He was Curtis, a halfback on the Salem high team of 1913-'14-'15; now rather bald, but still active enough, and he stayed in there most of the game. Reidy took his place in the last period.

The high school team left little to be desired in the way of defense, and followers of the high school's athletic fortunes were not disappointed. Weisser's punting was an outstanding feature; he got off one that carried 60 yards and rolled 20 yards more.

Silverton Beats Forest Grove in Opening Game

SILVERTON, Sept. 30—Silverton defeated Forest Grove in the first football game of the season for the local team. The score was 21 to 7 and proved an exciting game throughout. A large number of spectators were out to witness the game. This was not a league game.

BEWARE OF BRONCHO, OREGON!

Here are three aces of the Santa Clara football team, victors over California at Berkeley last Saturday, 13 to 0, who will see plenty of action in their game with Oregon at Eugene Saturday. Fred Danz is Santa Clara's veteran tackle, Anton Judnich is the plunging halfback, while John McGuire is their signal barker. This will be Oregon's first big game of the season.

Prodigal Joe McCarthy is Back in Chicago With Two Game Margin on Old Mates

By ALAN GOULD
CHICAGO, Sept. 30—(AP)—Under the leadership of the man who was deposed two years ago as the Cubs' manager, the New York Yankees rode rampantly into Chicago today with their two game lead, topeasy favorites to batter down even the home defense of the National league champions and clinch the 1932 world series within the three game limit of engagements here.

The third game in a series unexpectedly one-sided, so far, will be played at Wrigley field tomorrow. A capacity crowd of 52,000 spectators, including Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, is expected.

George Pipgras, veteran right-hander, is slated to pitch for the Yankees while Charley Root, fast ball right-hander of the Cubs will be asked to check the unprecedented winning streak of the New York club in world championship competition.

The Cubs were welcomed home today with a mild demonstration but assured of solid support for an uphill battle. An hour later at 2 p. m., the Yankees were met by a noisy outburst with thousands battling for glimpses of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. Both clubs decided to forego workouts and rest for tomorrow's game.

The Chicago crowds had trouble locating the returning prodigal, Joseph Vincent McCarthy, to give the Yankee leader a big cheer. It is a striking turn in the fortunes of baseball what finds McCarthy back in his old stamping grounds at the head of a team that has taken the first two games without much of a struggle from the survivors of the Cub outfit that McCarthy directed in 1929.

The Yankees will "bear down" with all the power and pitching skill they possess to make it a clean sweep for a record of 12 straight world series triumphs.

The money chests of the Yankees will suffer appallingly in a year of some extremities if the Yankees happen to make it four straight again. But it would have no effect whatever on the players' share, drawn only from the receipts of the first four games and Colonel Ruppert declared vehemently today: "Never mind about the money—we want to make it four in a row."

EUGENE, VANCOUVER TEAMS TIE 6 TO 6

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 30—(AP)—The football teams of Eugene and Vancouver high schools fought to a 6 to 6 tie in a spectacular contest here this afternoon.

Vancouver scored in the second period when Dewey, halfback, skirted left end for 30 yards to the Eugene four, then took the ball over on three plays.

Eugene came back to even the count in the third period with a goal line march that reached its climax when Gene Mercer, sub half, went over.

Campbell and Mercer showed well for Eugene and Dewey and Rosendahl, for Vancouver.

Indians Defeat Reserve Squad Of Collegians

CHEMAWA, Sept. 30—The Chemawa Indian school football team defeated the Linfield reserves at McMinnville today, 12 to 0, scoring touchdowns in the first and fourth periods. Churchill did a big share of the ground gaining for the Indians, with Meachem, Vivette, Smith and Franklin clearing the way for him and taking the team for good advances themselves, occasionally.

The Oregon Normal reserves will play at Chemawa next Monday night.

COAST FOOTBALL FOLLIES

BEAT STANFORD BEAVER SLOGAN

Schissler Thinks This Year Offers his Best Chance; Squad to Portland

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Sept. 30—Paul Schissler, Oregon State college head football coach, loaded his squad of some 50 football players on to the head end of a special train leaving here Friday night for Portland, with the single thought, "This is the year to beat Stanford," uppermost in mind.

Never, in the history of the college, has so much enthusiasm been shown over a Portland football game. Officials expect to see the Orange rooting section overflowing when the game is called at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Multnomah stadium. The students will take a long section of the special train behind the players' cars and will be all set to rally when they unload in Portland.

The Orangemen have been drilling diligently all week on new plays and defensive formations to use against Stanford. The squad is at its peak for the opening contest. The success of the entire Orange season depends almost entirely upon the showing of the Orangemen against Stanford.

Jerence game and will "shoot the works." The success of the entire Orange season depends almost entirely upon the showing of the Orangemen against Stanford.

The Oregon State freshman team has been scrimmaging against the varsity this week. The rooks were fully equipped with Stanford plays and while they looked particularly impressive the first night of practice the varsity soon fathomed anything they could show offensively.

SALEM GOLF CLUB SQUAD TO EUGENE

A 25-man team will represent the Salem Golf club in match play against the Eugene Country club at Eugene, Sunday. Many of the players will motor to Eugene Saturday afternoon and see the football game between the university and Santa Clara.

Those who are expected to go include, in the order of their ranking for this match: Ercel Kay, Graham Sharkey, Fred Rittner, Bob Taylor, Dr. Woodmansee, Don Hendrie, Frank Lynch, Fred Anusson, Paul Walgreen, Dave Eyre, Don Young, Russell Bonesteale, Glen Longren, Curtis Cross, Guy Smith, Clarke Walker, Frank Speer, Ted Chambers, Chester Cox, Ted Kuhn, Secor Page, Ralph Kleiting, Tad Shelton, Carl Armpriest and Arthur Rahn.

Salem defeated Eugene here last spring.

CURT COMMENTS

Who does Larry Wolfe think he is, Pop Warner? That player—not in uniform trick rivals Pop's first hidden ball catch—the one in which the ball was hidden under a big tackle's jersey.

But after all the Teachers won on straight football without any queer stuff, and there aren't any allibis. Willamette's backfield was shot before the game, but their injuries are a part of football.

The old tackle sneak wouldn't have tackled the Bearcat linemen were on their toes and smacking anything that looked suspicious. It was all so rapid it was hard to say who was smothering it; part of the time it appeared to be big Jockisch, but we'll apologize to the other boys if that is wrong.

Anyway it's a relief to have a football game turn out just about the way we forecast it; with the Teachers' finished attack carrying the day against Willamette's undeveloped one, though honors for total yardage, apparently were the other way around.

Presence of that namesake of ours out there on the Olinger field gridiron with the alumni team Friday is something of a reminder that it takes people a long time to get old. He played football for Salem high about 10 years ago and up to 17 years ago, and no doubt with a little training could do a good job of it again, if it were not for eligibility rules.

One thing we didn't like to see on the field was the crowd, but that's an old story and our preaching over a period of five years or so apparently has done little good. For the more important games last year they kept the people off the sidelines in front of the grandstand, and probably that small concession will be repeated when the paddle crew gets organized for the new season.

Wouldn't be surprised if Hollis Huntington, writing Jimmy Nicholson and Glen Moody perform for the "alumni," wished he had them available right now.

Billy Sullivan got some notoriety this season, after all. Billy McElroy, who writes plucky sport gossip for the United Press, picked Billy as the most versatile player in the major leagues this year. Billy did everything but pitch, for the White Sox this season.

Kansas Fails To Come Back

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 30—(AP)—Rocky Kansas, former lightweight champion of the world, essayed a comeback here tonight in a six round bout with Joe Trippi, rugged Rochester fighter, but Trippi easily won five of the six rounds and the decision.

Kansas weighed 144 pounds and Trippi 151 1/2. Kansas had been out of the ring six years, since he lost the title to Sammy Mandell.

MRS. VARE TO FACE VAN WIE

Unwritten Rule is Obeyed As Both win in Semi Finals Matches

By BILL KING
Associated Press Sports Writer
PEABODY, Mass., Sept. 30—(AP)—The unwritten golf rule that compels Glenna Collet Vare and Virginia Van Wie to play the women's national championship in the even years, was obeyed today in the semi-final matches.

Glenna, qualifier for her seventh final since 1923, and for the fifth time in a row, by overwhelming Ada MacKenzie of Toronto, a former Canadian tiltist, by 5 and 4, after a wretched start.

Miss Van Wie kept pace with her arch rival by wiping out the early two-hole lead of Charlotte Glutting of Short Hills, N. J., jumping ahead at the turn and turning the match at the 15th hole with a 4 and 3 victory, after winning three holes in a row.

Glenna and the Chicago girl have met so many times that neither can remember the exact number of the places or the scores. Three of their battles, however, are in the record book for they were fought in the championship quest.

Four years ago Mrs. Vare became champion for the third time by defeating Miss Van Wie by the stupendous margin of 13 and 12 at Hot Springs, Va. In 1929 at Los Angeles, both traveled into the final round again, but Virginia had improved, losing by but 6 and 5.

Their last meeting came in the 1931 semi-finals at Buffalo, where Mrs. Vare's margin was reduced to two up. The next day Glenna yielded the championship to Helen Hicks, of Long Island, who gave this year's tourney the first of its many upsets, by falling in the qualifying test.

Teams From South Move Into Oregon

EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 30—(AP)—Fresh from their two-touchdown victory over California's Bears, the Santa Clara Broncos moved into Eugene today for their grid-iron tussle here tomorrow against the University of Oregon Webfoots.

The Santa Clara starting lineup, with the exception of Judnich at left half instead of O'Donnell, will be the same that opened against California, Coach Clipper Smith said.

Londos Stripped Of Championship Wrestling Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—(AP)—The New York athletic commission today relieved Jim Londos of Greece, of the heavyweight wrestling championship he held in this state and placed him on the ineligible list.

The commission's action was the result of Londos' alleged refusal to meet Ed "Strangler" Lewis of Los Angeles.

The commission ordered Ray Steele and Jack Sherry to meet in Madison Square Garden Oct. 10, the winner to face Lewis Oct. 31. The survivor of these two matches will be recognized in New York state as champion.

U. C. L. A. Beats Idaho 6 to 0 on Slippery Field
