

BINEGARS FINISH HUNTING SHORTLY

Central Howell Folks Don't Get off Highway—Except in car Spill

CENTRAL HOWELL, Oct. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Binegar with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Binegar started on a hunting trip last week, planning to go to Brookings to a friend's ranch. About 14 miles this side of Grants Pass early in the morning a car passing hit their car turning it completely around and over. They did not even see the car which hit them. None of them had any serious injuries. After summoning a wrecking car from Grants Pass and having their car put in shape for running they decided to give up their hunting and returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Whitehead and three children are here from Idaho and plan to spend the winter with Mrs. Whitehead's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clark. Mr. Whitehead is a carpenter and is working on the house which Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Clark are building on the land they bought from Mrs. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Steffen.

Henry Dettmeyer is wearing a bandage on his hand since he was bitten by the family dog.

School started Monday with 23 pupils in the advanced room and 29 pupils in the primary room. The 19 pupils in the first grade are: Raymond Roth, Elmer Giraux, Delbert King, John Kaufman, Donald and Helen Jansen, Joy Pallesen, Erma Kuenzi, Grace Leighty and the little Whitehead girl.

Prune Harvest Holds Up School Opening

JEFFERSON, Oct. 1.—The Parish Gap school, which was to have opened September 26, has postponed the opening on account of the prune harvest. The teacher, Mrs. Esther Kieper, is much pleased with the arrangement, since Mr. Kieper is suffering with a broken leg, and she can be with him. An x-ray showed the leg broken in three places.

Edward Wall, grandson of Mrs. Evelyn Wall, left Thursday morning for Portland where he will enter the University of Oregon medical school.

Dry Defenders Will Meet Tuesday Night

PIONEER, Oct. 1.—The Dry Defenders will hold a public meeting at the school house next Tuesday night. There will be speaking and special music and an interesting program will be presented by the group. The county has been divided into districts and the chairman of the district. Everyone is urged to be present and consider the problems which will be presented that evening.

FROM IMPERIAL VALLEY MISSION BOTTOM, Oct. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Postal have as their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lunsford and two daughters of Imperial Valley, Cal.

HOW DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW?

By LILLIE L. MADSEN
WHILE chamber of commerce committees and real estate agents are trying to make men and women tourists feel at home and believe that this is their only climate, a gardener in the hills west of a garden in the east of Silverton is doing the same for plants and trees.

Lillie Madsen

"When I first came west," she tells, "there were many of our eastern flowers. I missed so much. Perhaps they were not prettier than those you have here. But they were the flowers I grew up with. Somehow, they mean more to us. They are almost more than flowers—they are memories of the way they come to me and want to know if I can secure a hepatica, an arbutus, a jack-in-the-pulpit—and so many other plain little flowers of the eastern spring. Long ago, I started trading and buying these until I have quite a collection now."

In the autumn of the year, little shows but the leaves of the plants. But in the spring—and I visited this garden once in the spring—I found great pleasure in hunting out the flowers I know as a child in Michigan. Other visitors were as eager to find their home flowers as I.

Little Difficulty Had I asked the gardener if she had difficulty in getting the plants acclimated to their new home. She informed me that for the most part she had little difficulty, as nearly as possible she grows them in the same sort of conditions that they had in their native ground. This, she informed me, is the secret of most garden success anywhere—to give plants the conditions that nature gives them.

"We can improve on nature, in one way," she said, "but we fail utterly unless we follow the trend nature started the plants on. For instance, it is little use to try to make a hepatica do well under an evergreen tree. Hepaticas crave deciduous trees for shelter. Our native little lady slipper likes to grow beneath the evergreen."

She grew her plants for the most part on a hillside which was not improved. Under one shrub grew a patch of wintergreen, under another were the beds of hepaticas. In one corner were ferns from southern Oregon and also from the eastern states. In another was the trailing arbutus of Pennsylvania. There were blueberry bushes from Wisconsin, and the whiteflowered tree of Iowa, known there as the "tulip tree." In a little bed of sand were cacti from Montana and Colorado. Many people, I was informed, do not know that cacti grow other than in the far south. But, Mrs. Wild Flower Gardener told me, these from Montana and Colorado do had seen lovely pink and yellow cacti in bloom on low little plants on the plains of Colorado. They are nice additions to a rock garden, if cared for properly, this gardener told me.

Autumn Planting Time In the autumn of the year is the proper time to plant many of the wild flower perennials. There are several gardeners on the coast who are specializing in growing of native plants both from our west coast states and from the eastern states. It is much better to secure the native flowers you desire from these professional growers. In the first place, so many of our wild flower plants are disappearing because careless tourists have pulled them up and carried them for a long time in their automobiles. When they have reached their homes they find the plants too wilted to revive and they are thrown away. The commercial growers send the plants in such a condition that they have a much better opportunity to make a success of growing, and no weeds are depleted of their natural beauty.

Wild Flowers Hard to Grow In many cases wild flowers are more difficult to grow than are the cultivated ones. You should always be sure, unless you are completely familiar with them, to find out from the grower just what conditions are best suited to the plants. I know that I am talking about when I say that hepaticas will not thrive underneath an evergreen. I remembered that in the east it was in the woods we picked our hepaticas—only there we called them Mayflowers—so I secured a half dozen plants and set them out under an Oregon fir. I was chagrined to find that not one survived. Had I planted them under oak trees, they would have fared better, I was told.

Speaking of oaks—I learned the other day that there are three hundred varieties of oaks in this country and at least 20 species. It is odd that one sees so few varieties of oaks in gardens where there is room for trees. There is the white oak, which is a silvery mist when it first comes out in the spring; the Bur oak, whose rugged form is very picturesque; there is the Red oak which is a brilliant dash of color both in the spring when the leaves first open and again in the autumn. The Chestnut oak is very symmetrical and the Pin oak grows more rapidly than most oaks do.

E. L. Barnes Owners Of Davis Place Now

JEFFERSON, Oct. 1.—E. L. Barnes has traded some Washington property for the L. A. Davis property near the Southern Pacific depot, known as the old Robinson place. He will make some improvements on the buildings, and is now building a corn crib. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes have been living on this place for the past year, but recently have come into its possession.

MICKEY MOUSE

LINCOLN GIRLS ARE BACK FROM JUNKET

LINCOLN, Oct. 1.—A group of Lincoln and Salem young women including Juanita Walling and her aunt, Mrs. Harry Walling, and a cousin, Mrs. George Boyd, Miss Velma Ross and Miss Otella Sevic, student at Oregon State college, have just returned from an interesting two weeks' trip to California.

They went by automobile over the Roosevelt highway and returned by the inland route, making the trip each way in three and a half days. Mrs. George Boyd and Mrs. Harry Walling were guests of Mrs. Boyd's sister, Miss Georgia Mills, a former Lincoln girl who was active in Campfire work in Salem and Portland before going to California, where she is now field secretary for the Campfire girls' organization at Long Beach.

Visit Old Friends Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Walling also visited Mrs. C. Taft of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burgess and Mrs. Beatrice Ramsey of Oakland, all former Salem residents, and Mrs. Charles McDowell of Pasadena. Beautiful Catalina Island received a share of attention also.

While at Hermosa Beach Mrs. Boyd had an enjoyable visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Mabel Sherrock. Miss Juanita Walling, Miss Velma Ross and Otella Sevic spent the greater portion of their time in Los Angeles. George Walling, oldest brother of Miss Walling, was with them while there. George is firing on the President Grant, ocean going vessel.

Aurora Corn Field Said Equal to Any In Midwest States

WOODBURN, Oct. 1.—A little patch of field corn on the F. B. Garrett place near Pudding, northwest of Aurora, has attracted a great deal of interest among farmers in the last few weeks, and some of the visitors who have inspected the corn have declared it to be the best they have ever seen in Oregon and on a par with that grown in the great corn belt of the middle west.

The seed was developed by Rogger Williams on his place about a mile south of Hubbard. Garrett indicates there have been so many requests for seed from this planting that most of it will probably be used for this purpose.

Mail Routes In Polk Are Merged as Economy Move

MONMOUTH, Oct. 1.—Several important mail service changes will occur here October 1. The star route operating for the past three years between Monmouth and Airline, since rail service between these towns was abandoned by the Southern Pacific company in 1928, is to be discontinued.

Mail service to Suva via bus from Corvallis also is to stop. These communities will be served now through consolidation of Airline and Suva routes into route 2, Monmouth, with P. M. Schweizer, former Airline carrier, in charge. His new route will be about 90 miles long and will serve 300 patrons.

Harry Kastor, former Suva carrier, has Monmouth's route 1, from which Archie Parker, veteran carrier, was recently retired. The Claire Winger of Independence has substituted on this route since July 10.

Post offices will be maintained at Airline and Suva, for residents of those towns, and cancellation of a proportion of mail on the consolidated routes will be granted them. It is believed the new arrangement will save considerable money; and the route patrons will get speedier service, averaging 24 to 48 hours time improvement.

Monmouth's post office space is being enlarged and rearranged to care for the increased business.

Bits for Breakfast

(Continued from Page 4)

The halcyon days when they together served as mail carriers from the Salem postoffice.

A good deal of water has run under the Willamette river bridge since then. Fred Lockley has mining boom days, traveled pretty well over the wide world, written eight books, and thousands of columns of newspaper matter and many hundreds of pages of magazine articles.

Ben Taylor, while he has not been so envied as to be able to perform a great deal of the spectacular, really might have been a good showman. He has the inventive and constructive instincts required for success in that line.

He owned one of the first bicycles seen in Salem—the lumbering old style kind with a very large wheel in front and a very small one behind. He and John Maurer together could have built a better one. The wonder is that they did not think of it—and do it.

Soon after the Wright boys made their first successful flight at Kittyhawk with their airplane, Ben Taylor built for himself a machine much like theirs. He did not miss very far the credit and renown that was won by those two brothers, Orville and Wilbur, who dreamed their first youthful dreams of conquering the air, or doing some other worthwhile work in the world, as they tinkered with mechanical things, while their afterwards distinguished father, who became a bishop of his church, was president and principal teacher of the United Brethren Institute at Sublimity, Marion county, Oregon, beginning with the open-

BALLOT MEASURES TO BE EXPLAINED

MACLAY, Oct. 1.—An unusually interesting program is being planned for the joint meeting of the county agricultural and home economics committees which will be held at the Maclay grange hall Wednesday, October 5.

Speakers secured by the agricultural committee are members of the Pomona agricultural committee including Seymour Jones, Roy Eason, A. A. Geer and Martin Rosvold, who will explain the measures to be voted on at the November election; Senator Sam Brown and S. H. Fullenwider, president of the Oregon Dairy Protective association, who is also a member of the state grange agricultural committee.

Mrs. W. Dallas, chairman of the Pomona Home Economics committee has arranged for a number of musical numbers and expects Mrs. L. S. Lambert, district chairman who is retiring on account of ill health, and Mrs. Elmer Cook who is taking her place to be among the speakers of the Home Economics program. The public is invited to the afternoon session. There will be a potluck lunch at noon.

BOOSTER NIGHT PLAN OF LIBERTY GRANGE

LIBERTY, Oct. 1.—Plans for the "booster night" program to be sponsored by the Red Hills grange Friday, October 6, are being completed.

State Deputy Brown will give a review of the grange achievements, and Mrs. Hannah Martin will speak on measures to be on the November election ballot as part of an excellent program being arranged. All people interested are invited to attend this open meeting.

Women to Entertain Sunshine Club Soon

RICKEY, Oct. 1.—Mrs. William Carothers and Mrs. Flora Both will entertain the members of the Rickey Sunshine club and their husbands Saturday night at the Carothers home.

George Gilham of Union Hill, father of Mrs. J. J. Jamer and Mrs. J. Hache of this community is very ill at a Salem hospital.

Radio Programs

- SUNDAY, OCTOBER 2
- 9:00—KODK—Portland—940 Kc.
 - 9:00—Hornet tabernacle program.
 - 9:45—Eury Deutsch and Orphey orchestra.
 - 10:00—National advisory council.
 - 10:30—Columbia Church of the Air.
 - 11:00—World series game.
 - 11:00—Cathedral choir.
 - 11:30—Lindsay and Harlow.
 - 12:00—The Balled hour.
 - 12:15—Little Jack Little.
 - 12:30—Irene Steacy.
 - 1:00—Dr. Williams.
 - 1:45—The Singing Girls.
 - 2:00—William Hall.
 - 2:30—Happy melody.
 - 3:00—Crisoline Lady.
 - 3:30—Ernest Hutchinson.
 - 4:00—The Radio Medley.
 - 4:30—Ann Land.
 - 5:00—Angelo Patri.
 - 5:30—The Radio Medley.
 - 6:00—Ward Hutton's ensemble.
 - 10:00—The Wanderer.
 - 10:30—The Radio orchestra.
 - 11:00—Midnight Mood.

- MONDAY, OCTOBER 3
- 7:00—Morning Meditation, led by Dr. Williams.
 - 8:00—Morning concert.
 - 10:00—Home Economics Observer.
 - 12:30—Prof. G. Wilster.
 - 12:35—Market and crop reports, and weather forecast.
 - 1:00—Romance Isle.
 - 2:00—Around the Camp.
 - 2:30—Betty Health and Longer Life.
 - 3:30—As You Like It—Ashley Brown.
 - 4:00—Farm market reports.
 - 7:30—Review of implement exhibit at the state fair, Clyde Walker.
 - 7:30—Summary of 4-H exhibits and exhibits of the state fair, H. G. Sherman, L. J. Allen and Helen Cowgill.
 - 8:15—Oregon Poets—Ethel Bandy.
 - 8:30—Science news of the week.

- TUESDAY, OCTOBER 4
- 6:00—KODK's Clock.
 - 7:45—Organ concert.
 - 8:30—Lindsay and Harlow.
 - 9:15—Harrod orchestra.
 - 10:00—George Hall's orchestra.
 - 10:30—Madison County's ensemble.
 - 11:15—World series game, CBS.
 - 12:00—The Book of Life.
 - 12:30—Happy-Go-Lucky hour.
 - 3:00—Feminine Fancies.
 - 5:00—H-Bar-O Ranglers.
 - 6:00—Community Chest program.
 - 6:15—Hazel Smith's orchestra.
 - 7:00—Happy-Go-Lucky's orchestra.
 - 7:15—Easy Areas.
 - 7:30—Melody in a Persian Garden.
 - 8:45—Freddie Martin's orchestra.
 - 9:00—Blue Monday Jamboree.
 - 10:15—Euda Ethiopian.
 - 10:30—Painted Dreams.
 - 10:45—Three Shades of Blue.
 - 11:00—Sid Gray's orchestra.
 - 12:00—Tavern orchestra.

Modern Residence Is Going up For Maneta

JEFFERSON, Oct. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Maneta of Albany are having a fine new house built along the highway south about five miles. It will have five rooms with full basement, shakes siding, fireplace and full plumbing. The Maneta's bought this site from Mrs. B. T. Baxter of Tangent, and Ella Gelsendorfer of Knox Butte.

Cross-Word Puzzle

By EUGENE SHEFFER

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13					14			15
16
20			21				22	23
		24				25
26		27			28			29	30	31
32	33		34				35
37			38				39		40
41			42				43	44	45
		46					47	48	49
50		51					52		53	54
55							56		57	58	59
60					61				62		63
64									65		66
67									68		69

- HORIZONTAL
- 1—a food fish
 - 5—a steep descent
 - 9—ensnare
 - 13—crouch
 - 14—a scripture
 - 15—search to the bottom
 - 16—simulates
 - 17—sustains
 - 19—expression of regret
 - 20—dwell
 - 22—death
 - 24—renewa
 - 27—wager
 - 28—a negative
 - 29—summit
 - 30—degraded
 - 32—dark
 - 37—woodland deity (Gr. Relig.)
 - 38—narrow beam of light
 - 39—elongated fish
 - 40—a play on words
 - 41—stellar
 - 44—spread
 - 46—the sheltered side
 - 47—cut off the atmosphere
 - 51—concerns
 - 52—washed
 - 57—en
- VERTICAL
- 1—a disfigurement
 - 2—wished
 - 3—inspires

Here's the solution to yesterday's Puzzle.

G	E	N	A	H	E	A	D	C	O	B
A	L	A	D	O	A	T	T	A	R	E
P	I	C	A	D	O	R	E	R
S	O	B	E	R	S	A	M	P	L	E
L	I	T	E	H	A	V	E
B	E	B	E	A	R
H	R	A	L	I	H	O
W	R	A	L	L	O	C
D	A	I	L	L	A	S
S	A	L	I	S

THIMBLE THEATRE—Starring Popeye

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

TOOTS AND CASPER

"A Howling Success"

Now Showing—"Right Is Might"

"Money Talks"

"The Inquisitive Colonel"

By WALT DISNEY

By SEGAR

By DARRELL McCLURE

By JIMMY MURPHY

