Many Policies for Relief Of Agriculture Listed By G. O. P. Leader

the chief executive said he favored such proposals as radical revision of the agricultural marketing act, readjustment of land taxes, reorganization of the federal land banks, and the application of any annual payment on war debts "to secure expansion of the foreign markets for American agricultural products. Higher Tariffs if Necessary, Pledge

As another major point he promised his farm belt audience even higher tariffs than now existed on farm commodities "where necessary to protect agriculture."

In outlining what he called the "policies of the republican party," the president listed the following 12 points:

- 1.—Maintenance and possible elevation of the protective tariff on farm products as "the very basis of safety to American agriculture."
- 2.—Revision of the agricultural marketing act, including repeal of the stabilization clause.
- 3.—Creation of a program for "the reorganization of agriculture so as to divert land from unprofitable uses and to avoid the cultivation of lands the chief fruits of which is the poverty and misery of those who lived upon them."
- 4.—Speeding up of the completion of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway as a fundamental step to agriculture by cheaper transportation.
- 5.—Leniency in the collection of farm loans totalling $120,000,000.
- 6.—Readjustment of land taxes through a conference of tax experts to be called "as soon as the national election is out of the way."
- 7.—Restoration of normal short term credit to agriculture through the federal reserve system, the Reconstruction Finance corporation, the intermediate credit banks and the 10 new agricultural credit corporations.
- 8.—Use of reconstruction corporation funds to "make credits available for sales of farm products in new markets abroad."
- 9.—A recommendation to the next congress for further reorganization of the federal land banks, to enable them to expand in the refinancing of farm mortgages.
- 10.—Promotion of world stability through disarmament and maintained peace as a factor "in the recovery and expansion of our agricultural markets."
- 11.—Opposition to cancellation of war debts, but the recommendation "that any annual payment on the foreign debt be used for the specific purpose of securing an expansion of the foreign markets for American agricultural products."
- 12.—An effort to reverse the "process of deflation" in connection with farm prices "and bring things back to their real value."

PROTEST OF FARM CONDITIONS MADE

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 4—(AP)—Sympathizers with the farmers' holiday movement paraded in Des Moines today in protest against agricultural and economic conditions only a few hours before the appearance of President Hoover here to make a major campaign address.

Following the parade, police were called to the fair grounds to quell a minor disturbance caused when a group of men paraded Hoover banners from a caravan of 400 automobiles from Missouri. The trouble was ended before the officers arrived.

More than 2,000 men, women and children, dressed in overalls or working clothes, rode or marched through Des Moines streets, covering part of the route followed later by the parade welcoming the president. The farmers were greeted with cheers.

Their trucks and cars bore signs calling attention to current farm prices and economic conditions, demanding relief and fixing blame on the Hoover administration. At one point the paraders, bearing a large painting of the president, under which their trucks passed.

CALLCOTE STORY HEARD BY OFFICERS

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 4—(AP)—From Paul M. Callcote's own lips San Francisco police officials today heard his story of belief that he was the man who placed the suitcase bomb that exploded during the San Francisco preparedness day parade of 1916.

Then, fortified with their own extensive knowledge of the tragedy that killed 19 persons, injured 53 others and sent Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings to life imprisonment, the officers of the San Francisco police preparedness day parade of 1916.

The officers said Madison told them he had not met Johnson until 1925, and had never been in California or Alaska.

WASHINGTON ALSO HAS FIRE PERILS

SEATTLE, Oct. 4—(AP)—Forest and brush fires raged in three sections of western Washington today near the Sunset highway east of North Bend, at Crocker Lake on the Olympic peninsula and in Cowlitz county in the vicinity of Longview, with none of them having reached serious proportions. The fire season had been believed over on the Sunset highway, a fire starting at Camp Joy tied up traffic for 2 1/2 hours.

The flames were reported the most severe along the south fork of the Snoqualmie river.

Near Crocker lake, flames were sweeping over logged-off land on a two and a half mile front, with no property being threatened.

In Cowlitz county a slashing fire out of control threw a heavy pall of smoke over the lowlands and telephone service between Longview and Portland was disrupted for a time.

JAPAN WILL IGNORE MANCHURIA REPORT

TOKYO, Oct. 4—(AP)—The cabinet decided today that the Lytton commission's report on Manchuria would be treated as "an inability to grasp the fundamentals of the problem." He declared it was unworthy of the serious attention of Japan.

A cardinal point of that policy is the separation of Manchuria from China and the maintenance of the independent state of Manchukuo, which the Japanese assisted in creating, to replace the old regime owing allegiance to Nanking.

General Sadao Araki, minister of war, led the criticism of the Lytton report.

The report was merely "a diary of a fortnight's journey through Manchuria," he said, and it showed an inability to grasp the fundamentals of the problem. He declared it was unworthy of the serious attention of Japan.

$5,000,000 acres. Fire officials gave orders to save houses and families first and when that was done, to devote attention to back-firing.

Across the Columbia river in Washington, Vancouver and Longview reported increasing menace as fires raged savagely through brush and forest, claiming farm houses in their path.

The situation was described by officials as being perhaps the worst in the history of Oregon forestry.

Wind, Low Humidity Have Share in Blaze
To get wind and exceedingly low humidity conspired to produce a condition dangerous beyond parallel. Today was the hottest October 4 in the history of the weather bureau with the mercury around 93 degrees.

Four hundred men were thrown into the fire line tonight in an effort to save the Nehalem river from the Clark and Wilson Lumber company's plant north of Vernonia.

The fire was cutting a ten-mile swath of flame, and residents of Nehalem valley for several miles north and west of Vernonia were warned to flee if the blaze should break over the ridge.

The hamlet of Birkentfeld, 22 miles down the Nehalem river from Vernonia, was being guarded by every available man from threatened destruction.

Three Southern Pacific tunnels and several bridges were destroyed by the same fire that transformed Cochran from a mill town to a smolder of ashes.

DOERFLER SUED BY HILLS FOR $3545

Charging misrepresentation, suit was brought yesterday in circuit court by Ernest C. and Christina M. Hill asking for the rescinding of a land purchase contract made with Frank A. Doerfler, Dan Fry, Jr., and others on September 13, 1930.

Plaintiffs ask that $3545 be repaid to them, $1000 being down payment, $2530 improvements made to the land contracted for and $15 abstract expense incurred.

Doerfler contend that their amended complaint that as newcomers to Oregon they entered into a $4000 purchase contract for land. LEHMAN IS BACKED FOR N. Y. GOVERNOR

STATE ARMORY, Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4—(AP)—Herbert H. Lehman, choice of "Al" Smith and Gov. Roosevelt, was nominated for governor by the democratic state convention tonight, at a meeting of residents of the district at the Bethel schoolhouse Monday night. The area is bordered by the north and south road from Garden Road to Haines place, thence east to Mackay, north to German M. E. church on Garden road, with the front road the north boundary.

The way for the nomination was paved by an agreement of New York City leaders and the withdrawal of John Boyd Thatcher, Albany mayor.

Smith, while floodlights played on him and thousands who jammed the hall roared their approval, made two references to Roosevelt.

He said election of the democratic national ticket would insure "prohibition relief," and that he had left the job of governor in Roosevelt's hands with "satisfaction."

When Roosevelt took the platform he said Smith as governor had made New York "a national criterion of good government."

Looks Like Geer Build Dam For Car

WALDO HILLS, Oct. 4.—An unusual accident happened at the A. A. Geer home Friday night. Mr. Geer returned from the state fairgrounds late in the evening and left his heavy sedan on top of a small hill in the back yard. The car started moving and headed for a large tree. Geer jumped on the running board and finally turned the car, but could not stop it—and it stopped itself in the creek.

Earlier in the season he had damaged the creek, so the mud was about 20 inches deep. The car settled itself secure and at 1 a. m. he decided to wait until morning.

At daybreak he called Frank Bowers and the two men, with a set of fence stretchers fastened to a tree, and with a team of horses pulling, backed the car out in time for Mr. Geer to reach the fairgrounds to assume his ticket selling duties.

NO RAIN PROMISED YET BY FORECASTER

Casting a weird, sickly yellow glare, a pall of smoke like a huge hat of un washed wool unrolled over the city yesterday afternoon, at times almost obscuring the sun and making the 83 degrees of heat oppressive. Occasionally bits of gray ash, sign of forest giants destroyed, drifted downward.

To those persons with a skyward eye, the sun presented a beautiful sight. Its light, varying by filtered yellow rays by the smoke, underwent a series of changing hues—orange, copper, scarlet, vermilion, crimson. Early in the evening, too, the quarter-moon mocked the sun's unusual light.

The weather observed forgot about the smoke when he reported yesterday "clear." But his northwest winds late in the evening cleared the air of smoke.

For today the forecaster promises, or to those interested in forest preservation, threatens fair weather, tempered with lower temperature and higher humidity, fog on the coast.
