Howard, representing the schools; Mrs. Hanna Martin, president of the Salem Woman's club; Fred Toozes, Jr., Marion County Christian Federation, and Mrs. Neola E. Buck, vice-president of the Marion county W. C. T. U. organization.

Mrs. Lucille McDonald, folk county W. C. T. U. worker, responded to the welcome. Miss Amy Martin and Mrs. Gessenden sang a duet and William Mudd gave a reading. Rev. P. W. Erikson pronounced the benediction. Convention Opens
The program of the state convention will open today at the First Presbyterian church, with conference of county presidents and directors at 8 o'clock.

The formal opening of the convention will be at 9 o'clock and will include announcements, committee reports of state officers and memorial service in charge of Mrs. A. C. Marsters. Annual reports will be made by Mrs. Rachel Ellis, vice-president; Mrs. Frances Swope, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alice Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. E. B. Andrews, Young People's branch secretary; Mrs. Ellen Thrasher, Loyal Temperance Legion secretary; Mrs. Madge J. Meares, Portland Farm Home office.

At 1:30 this afternoon the session will again open with an address by the state president, Mrs. Ada Jolley, and this will be preceded by devotions under direction of Mrs. H. L. Ganoe. Reports and musical numbers will conclude the afternoon session.

Youth Gets Inaugural At Evening Session
The evening session will be given over to youth, and is being designated as "Youth's night." Miss Helen Byrnes of Los Angeles, national secretary of the Young People's branch of the W. C. T. U., will be the main speaker for this meeting. She is an ordained minister and a lecturer of national and international repute. She has just returned from a trip around the world and will take an appropriate subject for her talk tonight, "Youth in Other Lands."

Miss Margaret Stevenson will direct a pageant, "The Dry Parade." Musical numbers will be given by Mrs. A. E. Utley, Billy Utley and Miss Eleanor Moore. Ross Knotts will preside. Mrs. Maude Aldrich will also be a speaker on this program and Rev. F. W. Pettit and Rev. W. H. Caldwell will have charge of the devotions for this meeting.

Depicting the story, "From Flax Seed to Table Cloth," this display will emphasize one of the Willamette Valley's important industries. "The enthusiastic support of Oregon's housewives has been no hindrance in keeping the mills running to full capacity and with this continued support and enthusiasm, which I find everywhere, Salem made linens will soon be known around the world," said Miss Reger, who conducts the first class today beginning at 2 o'clock at the theater.
Special showing of Salem made linens will be held in Miller's store this week for the benefit of those who have not seen the newest weaves and designs.

Jury Gives $120 Verdict to Allen

M'NARY BEGINNING BROADCASTS SOON

Called by the national committee to assist in the republican presidential campaign through a series of radio broadcasts from Chicago, Senator Charles L. McNary is planning to leave Salem in about 10 days in order to deliver his first address of the radio political series October 24.

The senator will make no address in Oregon prior to leaving for the east, he said yesterday. At the present time he is busily engaged in fleshing some legislative work before leaving for the east.
From Chicago he will go on to Washington, as he is chairman of the board which will conduct hearings on the work and operation of the federal farm board. These hearings will open in November, which means that the Oregon senator, one of the outstanding republican leaders in the national capital, will not return to Oregon prior to opening of congress.

REX SERVICES TO BE HELD THURSDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Rex, wife of Arthur Rex, who died at the family home here Sunday, will be held from the Clough-Barrick chapel Thursday, with Rev. E. W. Pettit, of the First Evangelical church officiating. She was a life-long member of the Evangelical church and prominent in church activities.
Mrs. Rex, born at Oak Grove, Dodge county, Wis., September 7, 1877, located in Salem 23 years ago.
She is survived by her widower; three children, Raymond of Portland, Helen and Howard of Salem; mother, Mrs. Caroline Albert, New Richmond, Wis., three sisters and one brother, Mrs. Anna Kruschke, Mrs. Lydia Krueger, Mrs. George Lewerenz and C. A. Albert, all of New Richmond.

BUDGET POUNDERED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Salem district, County Superintendent Mary L. Fulkerson estimates, will be $45,000, an increase of $28,000 over last year.
Chairman H. H. Olinger reported he had held up signing contracts of the 12 senior and junior high school teachers who were not given contracts at the usual time because of the uncertainty of the tuition law being upheld. Dr. Olinger declared payment of this fund was not yet definitely certain.

NOTED NATURALIST COMING HERE SOON

William L. Finley to Offer
Alaskan Wild Life Film
At H. S. Auditorium

Salem high school students and other persons, particularly those interested in biological research work, may have the privilege of hearing William L. Finley, naturalist-author-explorer, next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the high school auditorium as he gives his motion picture story on "Alaskan Wild Life and the Kodiak Bear." A nominal admission price will be charged.

Mr. Finley has just started a national tour to show these pictures which he has spent the last two years in Alaska to obtain. He is reputed to be an excellent speaker, and his pictures to be filled with thrills well intermixed with humor. He is shown on quite familiar terms with the Kodiak bear throughout a whole series of pictures of this dangerous animal. In perhaps the most amazing scene of all are shown two whales jumping into the air from the water and landing on their backs. These pictures may only be seen in connection with Mr. Finley's personal appearance.

Finley is an Oregonian and has a national reputation as a naturalist, author and lecturer, as well as a successful photographer of wild animals. Numbers of Salem people have read his articles in Nature Magazine, National Geographic, Atlantic Monthly and other national publications, who have never seen or heard him. His efforts in arousing popular interest in the conservation of wild life have resulted in the establishing of three large federal wild bird reservations in Oregon, which were created by special executive proclamations by President Roosevelt.

The travels of Mr. and Mrs. Finley throughout the past twenty years, up and down the coastline from Mexico to Alaska, through all the mountainous country in the west, have produced some 200,000 feet of motion picture film and 20,000 still negatives which is said to be the greatest photographic record of American wild life ever made.

MORE TOURISTS IN STATE LAST MONTH

Non-resident motor vehicle registrations for September, were 1255 in excess of those for the same month last year, and the second largest registrations for any September during the past 10 years.
Registration of Washington cars aggregated 2796 as compared with 1588 in September, 1931. There were 5588 registrations of California cars, or approximately 200 less than in September a year ago.
The total number of registrations for this year is 2343 less than during the corresponding period in 1931.
Registrations during the first nine months of 1932 totaled 78,203 as against 81,546 registrations during the same period last year.

ELKINS SERVICES HELD ON TUESDAY

Funeral services for Dillard A. Elkins, former member of the state industrial accident commission, were held Tuesday in Portland. He was a member of that group for eight years having been first appointed by Governor Pierce and later reappointed by Governor Patterson.
Elkins died Sunday morning of pneumonia after a short illness. Friends ascribed his passing to overwork.
His widow, Grace I. Elkins, survives him and Edward A. Elkins, his father, still lives near Eugene.
During the Spanish-American war he was a member of Company A, 2d Oregon Volunteers, serving in the Philippines throughout the war and the insurrection that followed.

TOTAL REGISTERED ANNOUNCED FRIDAY

Not before Friday will Marion county's total registration be known, U. G. Boyer, county clerk, announced yesterday. Even with extra clerks working full time it is doubtful if the checkup can then be complete, the registration has been so heavy.

"Never before have we had the great volume of registration recorded this year," Boyer said yesterday. "Cards are still coming in from deputies throughout the county and thus far we have been unable to open some of their envelopes and check the cards."

As soon as registration cards are filed, a complete list of new voters is made to go to the secretary of state who in turn sends out voters' information as required by law.

The registration of October 7 and 8 was the heaviest ever recorded here.

BROTHERHOOD HOLDS INITIAL FALL MEET

The first meeting of the year for the Jason Lee Brotherhood was held last night at the Jason Lee church with a 6:30 o'clock dinner. Burt Crary and Gordon Black had charge of the dinner. Entertainment was furnished by Al Gregson, jacks harp, month harp and mimic artist. The new pastor, Rev. H. G. Humphrey was introduced to the brotherhood. Ralph Kietzing presided as president and gave a talk on some facts and figures about the state penitentiary, and concerning the course inmates will follow when released from confinement.
R. E. Boardman, Y. M. C. A. physical director, spoke on highlights and sidelights of the Olympic games, according to his impressions received on his visit there this fall.

Unwritten Law in Judgeship Urged

Support of an allegedly "unwritten law" that one judge in the third judicial district be selected from Linn county was voiced last weekend by the Marion county democratic central committee. Resolution endorsing the candidacy of Judge L. G. Lowelling of Linn county were signed by John S. Marshall, chairman, and B. S. Maryin, secretary. The resolution declared that under the non-partisan judiciary act there are "no political considerations in connection with the election of a candidate for this position."

BAND WILL APPEAR
The high school band under the direction of Wesley Roeder will make its first concert appearance of the year at the Parent-Teacher association meeting at the high school auditorium tonight at 7:30. Membership in the band has now increased to 49.
