

GRANGE VOTES EINZIG CENSOR

Macleay Unit Asks Removal Of Purchasing Agent; Hears Debate

MACLEAY, Oct. 11. — At the open grange meeting held Friday night John Ramage of Woodburn took the affirmative and F. H. Young of Portland the negative in a debate on the college merger bill.

Mr. Ramage contended that taxes would be lowered by consolidation, while Mr. Young contended that they would not, as there would still be five state schools to support with the possibility of any number of junior colleges being established.

Leagner Quiet on Funds
When asked, Mr. Young stated where the funds for opposition to the bill are coming from, but a definite answer as to where the funds used to promote the support of the bill were derived from was not made. After the debate L. L. Thomas of Marshfield gave a short but interesting talk opposing the passage of the bill.

Favor Salary Cuts
During the short business session resolutions were passed favoring cuts in salaries of state officials and the chancellor; that the higher institutions of learning receive only the millage tax for support, and also censoring William Einzig, state purchasing agent, for his conduct before a woman and asking for his immediate removal and also recommending a cut in his successor's salary.

A vote of thanks was given to all grangers and to members of the 4-M club, George Hise, Bill McGee and Harry Martin, Jr., for time and material given for the improvement of the interior of the hall. Mrs. J. Hise had charge of decorating the hall, and Mrs. Harry Phillips, Mrs. J. F. C. Tekeburg, Mrs. E. Tooker and Mrs. W. A. Jones of the refreshments. The next meeting will be held the first Friday in November at which time the annual grange fair will be held.

Harvest Fete Saturday for Hills People

SILVERTON HILLS, Oct. 11.—Elaborate plans are being made by the Silverton Hills grange for its annual autumn fair which will be held at the community hall all day Saturday. A program will be held at the hall Saturday beginning at 2 o'clock and in the evening the harvest festival dance will be held.

The farm exhibits are being planned to show what the community can produce. There will be vegetables, fresh fruits and canned fruits and vegetables. J. R. Beck, Polk county agent, will be judge of the agricultural exhibits.

The general fair committee is Mrs. E. A. Beugli, Casper Towse, Mrs. L. Hadley and C. V. Murray. Other committees are agricultural exhibits, Mr. Beugli, John Tschantz, M. Mires and Charles Alexander; flower committee, Mrs. Charles Mulkey, Mrs. Ida Benson; home economics, Mrs. Tschantz; textiles, Mrs. Sacher.

As Silverton has no fair this year, special efforts are being taken to make this larger than it might otherwise have been. Union Hills grange will hold its fair within another week.

Surprise Grangers Again Hold All Day Sessions, Turner

TURNER, Oct. 11.—Surprise grange met Saturday with fair attendance, resuming all day sessions. W. F. Gulvin was chosen to fill the master's chair in the absence of Master Fred Mitchell. Lecturer Maurice Townsend, presented the program. Mr. Emmons of Ankeny grange talked on "The Taxpayers League", cooperation was the subject of a representative of Fairfield grange. Mrs. Ada Sparks and Mrs. T. T. Palmer each gave a reading; duet by Alice Titus and Eloise Mellis; humorous reading by Mrs. W. F. Gulvin.

The juvenile grange members are trying to locate a vacant hall for their use.

CASE SOLVED

George Albert McQuerty, formerly of Winchester Mass., who was murdered and buried in a lonely grave near Fort Worth, Texas. An ex-convict, William Ryals, confessed the slaying, according to police, and is held at Galveston. McQuerty was an auditor of the Audit Bureau of Circulators.

DEMO VETS

Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, Democratic presidential nominee, and Gov. George W. F. Hunt of Arizona are shown here together during Roosevelt's visit at the ranch of Mrs. John C. Greenway in Arizona. Gov. Hunt was defeated in the recent primary when he sought the nomination for his eighth term.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB HAS MEETING

STAYTON, Oct. 11.—The meeting of the Home Economics club of Stayton was more than usually interesting. Beside the regular members two visitors, Mrs. Jennie Culver and Mrs. M. M. Magee were present from near Salem. Mrs. Culver favored the group with an excellent reading and Mrs. Magee a most interesting report of work being done by the state H. E. club. Mrs. Rena Tae gave a humorous reading and Mrs. Ellen C. Lambert also gave a reading. Miss Bertha McKenzie displayed some of the fine carved work which she does in her spare time.

It was decided at the meeting that the members would hold a cooked food sale in the near future.

The refreshment committee for this occasion were Mrs. Jack Richards, Mrs. Tom Tate and Mrs. Elizabeth Crabtree. For the next meeting the program committee is Mrs. L. S. Lambert, Mrs. Tom Fleming and Miss Ella Williams, while the refreshment committee is Mrs. F. Van Ermen, Mrs. Laura Leffler and Miss Bertha McKenzie.

LOUIS SALCHENBERG CHOSEN PRESIDENT

ROBERTS, Oct. 11.—The Roberts community club held its first meeting of the season Saturday night. Plans for the coming year were discussed but not decided on until next meeting when more of the club members will be present.

Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Louis Salchenberg; vice-president, John Orsborn; secretary, Dorothy Rice; treasurer, Mrs. Forest Edwards; janitor, Janice Higgins; stage manager, Roy Rice.

Committees elected: Flower and sick committee, Mrs. Roy Rice and Mrs. Albert Blankenship; reception, Mrs. Harry Carpenter, Mrs. George Higgins and Mrs. S. C. Davenport; working committee, Henry Query; Howard Henningson, Lloyd Davenport and Gordon Greenstreet; refreshments, Mrs. Bliss Fidler, Mrs. J. W. Blankenship and Mrs. Louis Salchenberg; program committee for the next meeting, October 22, Mrs. W. C. Pettyjohn, Mrs. Forrest Edwards and Mrs. Bliss Fidler.

FIRE PROTECTION TALKED BY DAVIS

MONMOUTH, Oct. 11.—A good attendance was present Saturday at the homecoming of Monmouth grange, and the afternoon program which was open to the public drew out additional visitors. Lester Davis of the state fire marshal's office at Salem gave an informative talk on rural fire protection, explaining the steps necessary to secure such protection for farm homes, in the near vicinity of town. Fire Chief Woods of Independence also spoke briefly.

Other program numbers included a vocal solo by Mrs. Ann Dashiell of Salt Creek, candidate for county school superintendent of Polk. Master Kurze introduced other candidates who were present: Carl Graves running for county clerk; Fred Holman who desires to succeed himself as county treasurer; and G. A. Peterson of Oak Point, candidate for representative from the tenth district.

Quarter Beef Taken From Slaughterhouse

SILVERTON, Oct. 11.—A quarter of beef was stolen from the Garver and Graham slaughterhouse on the Edison road during the weekend. The matter was reported to the local police who in turn reported the theft to the state police. Although there was a large supply of meat stored there, nothing else was taken.

A law has been passed in Northern Rhodeisla restricting the use of automobiles and airplanes for hunting purposes.
