Valuable Books Are Donated to Salem Library

A number of new books have been received as gifts at the Salem public library in the past two weeks, according to Maud Corvington, librarian. Included is one group of current books received from the reading club.

As personal gifts were given a set of 10 volumes of "University Musical Encyclopedia," and six volumes of "Half Hours with the Best Composers." These, Miss Corvington stated, are valuable sets and a decided help to the library's book list. Two Oregon history books were among those received, "Journals of Theodore Talbot," and "Origin of the Strait of Anlan Concept," by George E. Nunn.

Aid in Primitive Area is Offered By Aurora Club

"We want to do all in our power to put this primitive area plan through," the Aurora Rod and Gun club has advised the Salem chamber of commerce. The plan was presented at a recent meeting at Aurora by Ben Claggett, state policeman, and the club members enthusiastically endorsed the area plan for the Eight Lakes basin.

"If you know of any method of backing it or making our desire known to other sources which have weight, will you please be so kind as to let us know?" writes L. R. Reed, secretary of the Aurora club to the chamber here.

FIVE PARTIES HAVE PLACES ON BALLOT

Names Certified to Clerks; Initiative, Referendum Measures are up

For the first time in many years candidates of five political parties will appear on the ballot at the general election to be held in Oregon November 8. This was announced at the state department this week when word of certifying the names of the candidates to the county clerks had been completed.

The ballot will be one of the largest in recent years, and in addition to containing the names of the nominees for various offices, will include a number of important initiative measures, constitutional amendments and referendums.

The nominees for president and vice-president include Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis, republicans; Franklin D. Roosevelt and John N. Garner, democrats; Verne L. Reynolds and John W. Alken, socialist-labor; Norman Thomas and James H. Maurer, socialists, and William E. Foster and James W. Ford, communists.

Five Run for Senator
There also are five candidates for United States senator. These are F. E. Coulter, "liberty party principles," independent; Walter B. Gleason, democrat; Sverre Jacobsen, socialist-labor; A. G. Krueger, communist; Frederick Steiner, republican, and Joe A. Thomas, socialist.

Five candidates also are on the ballot for the office of representative in congress from the first congressional district. These include W. J. Butler, "liberty party principles," independent; Lee Giddings, socialist; James W. Mott, republican; Harvey G. Stark-weather, democrat, and Upton A. Upton, socialist-labor.

Work or what have you?
How about a score of $680

Mr. Culbertson, Mr. Work or what have you?
How about a score of $680 against 2880 in one rubber of contract bridge? And this includes one set of 2600 against the Marston when vulnerable. This occurred Monday night when a National Guard officer and some newspaper people played a hard fought game. And they were no novices at the game either. For further information inquire of Colonel Ray Olson.

And speaking of parties, we heard yesterday that Rufus C. Holman was surprised on his birthday. Employees of the state treasurer's office arranged a dinner for him at the Marston hotel. As yet we have been unable to learn which particular birthday this was.

The state supreme court yesterday held a long conference, as is its wont on Tuesday mornings, and in two opinions were the result. This is almost a reverse record for the august body of legal minds, and somehow unusual for the fall term. But perhaps they have been too busy checking on the long-delayed bar examination results.

And today is Columbus day, and the statehouse generally will be closed. It was learned however that one or two departments will work part time shifts today. Well, this is the last holiday now until election on November 8, and that will be anything but a holiday for a lot of office seekers.

It looked at the time of this writing that the weather man had finally answered the prayers of the Oregonians and sent down some rain. And the first thing we heard was some people cringing that "it rains all the time in this country." Which only goes to show it is impossible to please everybody.

But instead of praying, what fire fighters and farmers should have done to make rain was to set the date of the W. C. T. U. convention ahead. No sooner does the temperance organization get underway to make the country dry than the

He-men like 'em Mild

You might think that a two-fisted fellow like the steel jack in the picture would like his tobacco strong. Not at all.

He wants his cigarettes mild and that's why he picks Chesterfields.

Mildness doesn't mean a smoke that's weak or flat or insipid or anything like that. In fact it's just the reverse. Two-fisted fellows as well as anyone else—men and women—want a cigarette that's mild... one that satisfies—and that's Chesterfield.

We believe that every smoker is looking for a cigarette without any "bite" or bitterness, and a cigarette that has a pleasing taste—and that's Chesterfield.
