

DILLARD ELKINS IS BURIED, MONMOUTH

Well-Known Political Figure Of State Dies in Portland Hospital

MONMOUTH, Oct. 11.—Dillard Elkins, former sheriff of Lane county, ex-member of the state industrial accident commission, Spanish-American war veteran and for many years an active figure in Oregon democratic circles, died at the Veterans' hospital, in Portland Sunday morning from pneumonia. He had been in the hospital only about 20 hours. Although ill for days he persisted in keeping up his work in connection with the political campaign, his friends averred.

Dillard Elkins was born Feb. 7, 1878, near Monmouth. His father Edward A. Elkins lives at Eugene, also two half-brothers, Glen and Clarence Elkins. Another brother is Rev. Willard A. Elkins, minister of the Monmouth Christian church. Surviving also is the widow, Grace I. Elkins of Portland. He was well known in Monmouth having attended the local schools and the normal. Was later graduated from the University of Oregon.

Mr. Elkins first served as chief deputy sheriff of Lane, and later as sheriff. Governor Pierce appointed him on the industrial accident commission where he served for eight years, being reappointed by Governor Patterson.

During the Spanish American war he was a member of Company A, 2nd Oregon Volunteers, serving in the Philippines throughout the war and the insurrection that followed. His company sergeant in those days was Richard Deich and their friendship continued. Judge Deich and he were occupying law offices together at the time of his death.

For the past six years Mr. Dillard has lived in Portland. He was a member of the Shrine, Woodmen of the World, and a member of Veterans' organizations. Funeral services were held today, at 2 p. m., at Finley's chapel. Burial in the second Oregon plot in Riverview cemetery.

NEW HONOR FOR 'LADY LINDY'

In recognition of her great solo flight across the Atlantic, a new honor has come to Mrs. Amelia Earhart. Here is the famous ladybird being presented with the "City of Philadelphia Medal" by Mayor J. Hampton Moore of the Quaker City after she had been acclaimed as the most outstanding woman in America in 1932. Two hundred and thirty-three women's clubs decided the question of the most outstanding woman.

West Salem News

WEST SALEM, Oct. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Keith entertained their Bridge club at their attractive home Monday night. Colorful bowls and vases of dahlias, asters and nasturtiums in gay hues were used in profusion in the living rooms. Members present included Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Karl De Marais, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Keith. After a pleasant evening at cards dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Hazel Emmett, popular seventh grade teacher, who has been ill with an acute attack of appendicitis, started her work Monday morning, after missing the first three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Miller from south of Pringle have moved into the residence at 1111 Edgewater street. They are parents of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, who with her husband and baby son moved Monday into their newly erected garage house Mr. Clark has been building on Piedmont.

Registration Large
Registration closed Saturday with the largest number on the books that have ever been listed for this precinct. During the last two and a half days 105 were registered and over 175 since the primaries. Many of those who registered recently have never registered before, and many have not been enrolled for years, according to their statements to a recorder, Mrs. J. I. Miller, who has been in charge of that work.

A building permit was issued the first of the week to Fred Thomas who recently purchased the O. W. Radkey residence, to make alterations and improvements to the amount of $125. Mrs. I. hn, who has had a very bad fracture of one bone in her right arm, having to wear a cast and silver plate to help hold the bone, for many weeks, is getting along nicely, and sufficiently improved to have them removed the first of the week.

Political Rally is Thursday
There will be a republican rally held at the community hall on Thursday at 8 p. m. At the Polk county preliminary meeting, held at Dallas for the purpose of naming committeemen in the various neighborhoods last week, Lyle Thomas was appointed for this precinct, which includes West Salem, Wallace Road, Eola, Spring Valley, Brush College, Mountain

SILVERTON MAY GET SECOND NEWSPAPER

SILVERTON, Oct. 11.—Silverton will have another weekly newspaper if the present plans of J. E. Hosmer go through. Mr. Hosmer, veteran newspaper man of Silverton, has been "sounding" local business men and to date has close to 75 business and professional men signed up as prospective subscribers.

It is Mr. Hosmer's idea to make the paper a general weekly newspaper and to call it "The Silverton Free Press".

Mr. Hosmer was editor of the Silverton Appeal for several years, selling it out at triple the figure he paid for it and later starting another Silverton weekly which he also sold. Since then the two Silverton weeklies have been combined and Silverton now only has one weekly paper. A small advertising sheet carrying news and called the "Silverton Broadcast" began operating here some months ago and is still being distributed three times a week.

INITIATORY RITES CONCLUDED, TURNER

TURNER, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Jean Pearcey of Salem, who spent five years teaching in the Turner high school, was an interested visitor Friday.

Turner high's enrollment has reached 60, with more promised. Nine students from the Marion district come in by bus. The first assembly with program was held Friday. Members of the new dramatic club will usually help with the programs. Officers of the club are: President, Dale Johnson; vice-president, Marjorie Pickard; secretary-treasurer, Emma Decker; stage manager, Harold Cook; properties, Clem Gentry.

Freshman initiation week closed with a big party at the school Friday night. A majority of the large class of nearly 25 were on hand to take part in the jollification. Everett Hanson was master of ceremonies and the freshmen were made wiser by numerous harmless stunts.

AID MEETS THURSDAY
KEIZER, Oct. 11.—The Ladies' Aid society will meet Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. Robert McClay, for a business session.

Salem hosts in the past few days among whom are the J. R. Browns who entertained Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Dunham of Ashland. Rev. Dunham was the Baptist minister who performed the ceremony when the Browns were married quite a long time ago, and comes occasionally to visit the son, Clyde, who is a student at Willamette university. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hodge and children, who came a number of years ago from Kentucky and settled at Cottage Grove, moving just recently to Salem, were guests at the Bertha K. Anglehora home Sunday.

"Economy Lectures"

for REDUCED EARNINGS

How to Have BETTER Meals for LESS Money

You will be surprised when the Portland Gas & Coke Co.'s expert demonstrates to tell you how you can prepare delicious meals at small cost by using modern Gas Appliances.

Some people who do not know this art, and think that cooking is cooking, will serve a meal costing several dollars, which could be duplicated or improved upon, for less than half or a quarter of the cost.

Delicious soups, as made by the French people, costing nothing or almost nothing, by using things that others throw away.

How to use stale bread or vegetable left-overs; how to prepare 20c worth of veal for a family of four, so deliciously that the meal will linger in their memory.

How to prepare a frozen salad for almost nothing, but so dainty and attractive as to tease your appetite.

How to make desserts that are different, inexpensive, attractive and delicious, instead of the regulation pie and cake.

All these secrets you too can know and benefit from, by attending our Economy Lectures at Capitol Theatre — Today and Thursday, Oct. 12-13 at 2 P. M.
